Minecraft Trident: Enchantments, Recipe, And How To Farm

Since the Aquatic update (Java Edition 1.13) The Minecraft trident has been available in Minecraft Java Edition as an uncommon drop from drowned enemies. The trident is among the most powerful Minecraft weapons. It is a weapon that can be used in melee or combat with range, and even the non-enchanted variant can be more powerful than a diamond blade although its attack speed may be a little slower. Additionally, if you focus on your aim you can throw a trident up to 80 blocks away.

It is impossible to make a Minecraft trident, so it's impossible to find an underwater recipe for this weapon. Instead, you'll need to find one from cold, soggy and dead hands of a Drowned mob. This is one of the new zombies introduced by the Aquatic update.

The trident is a weapon that can be used by mobs and as powerful as swords which makes it a great weapon for your Minecraft adventure. However, you must be strong enough to pull out the Drowned. We'll teach you how to create your own Minecraft trident, and also what Minecraft enchantments can be used to improve it.

How do I get the Minecraft trident

Go underwater and search for zombie mobs called Drowned. They can appear all over the world with the trowel. To get a chance to see dropping a trident from them, you will need to take on them. However, the chance is very low at 8.5%.

However, if you're playing in Bedrock or Pocket Edition then there is the possibility that a trident could drop from Drowned who don't have the trident, therefore it's worth killing any Drowned you come across trying to get your hands on one of these. You can also use Minecraft seeds to create underwater worlds to have a chance to produce Downed zombie mobs.
