Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion Holds Annual Veterans Day Mass

OFFICERS and members of Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion and its auxiliary, elected officials and friends honored departed veterans of all wars and those who have served and are now serving in the Armed Forces at a Veterans Day Mass at St. Francis de Sales Church on Nov. 8. The "USS Constitution" and the Charlestown High School Air Force JROTC color guards posted the colors at the ceremony at which

Rev. Daniel J. Mahoney, pastor, officiated. The St. Francis de Sales Choir provided the inspirational music. Among those in attendance were Sen. Thomas Birmingham; City Council President Albert O'Neil; Lt. Clark D. Smith USN, executive officer of "USS Constitution;" Bill Foley, chief of interpretation, Boston National Historical Park; and Judy Evers, community liaison from the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services.

Gauge Containing Radioactive Material Stolen From CANA Field Office

The Mass. Highway Department (MHD) informed the Nuclear Regulatory Commission on Nov. 9 that a gauge containing radioactive material used to measure the density and moisture of highway paving material was reportedly stolen over the weekend from the job site at 250 Front St. in Charlestown. At the time, the gauge had been locked in a closet within a locked construction trailer. A MHD employee discovered the trailer had been broken into and the gauge was missing early Monday morning.

The gauge was last seen around 4 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 6. The device was in a rectangular plastic container colored bright yellow and measuring approximately 22" x 44" x 12". The container has a diamond-shaped U.S. Department of Transportation radiation label. The top half of the label is yellow and the bottom half is white, carrying a black three-bladed propeller symbol.

There is another label on the container with the legend: Troxler Model No. 3411B, serial number 18849, and a listing of the radioactive materials in the device, including cesium-137 8mCi and americium-241 40mCi.

The gauge inside measures 14.5" x 9" x 7" with a handle sticking out of the top, approximately 12.5". There is a small numeric keypad that is mounted on

The Armed Services YMCA Dedicates New Navy Yard Facility

It was a joyous occasion on Oct. 30 when state and local officials, military personnel, veteran and auxiliary leaders, and community residents gathered in the Charlestown Navy Yard and watched and listened as speakers recalled a proud past and a promising future for the Armed Services YMCA. This ceremony marked the dedication of the new facility at 150 Second Ave. and the celebration of the 75th anniversary of the A/S YMCA in Boston.

The former A/S YMCA stood as a landmark in City Square for almost 70 years, and was demolished in early 1988 to make way for the Central Artery/North Area roadway reconstruction project. It took with it memories that began with the opening of its doors on May 16, 1918 — memories of hundreds of thousands of service men and women and their families who passed through its doors and those of residents to whom the Y was part of their lives.

After a three-year search for a suitable site in Charlestown for the new facility, ground was broken in the Charlestown Navy Yard in August 1991, and work began in earnest to construct the Y.

Two Charlestown Residents Honored At ABCD Awards Dinner

Action for Boston Community Development Inc. (ABCD) continued a great Boston tradition by hosting its 18th Annual Community Awards Dinner on Oct. 23 at the Sheraton Boston Hotel & Towers. U.S. Senate Majority Leader George J. Mitchell delivered the keynote address and Deborah Prothrow-Stith, M.D., assistant dean for Government and Community Programs at Harvard University School of Public Health, delivered a special guest speech.

ABCD, Boston's 30-year-old anti-poverty institution, honored the work of Boston's committed community volunteers who bring hope to the neighborhoods where they live and work. ABCD's 20 Community Award recipients were saluted at a gala affair and acknowledged for their unselfish acts of community spirit.

The Community Award recipients from Charlestown were Sister Ann Rita Sullivan, O.P. and Zelma Lacey.

The Charlestown Healthy Aging Program (CHAP) was conceived and developed by these two healthy Charlestown seniors. Four years ago, Sister Ann Rita and Lacey, with some assistance from the Kennedy Center, developed a program to educate and organize seniors in their community. These two special women became advocates, fighting to improve the quality of life for Charlestown's elderly. Sister Ann Rita and Lacey, both over 70 years old, bring endless energy and spirit to their cause.

The two have recruited a core group of volunteers who keep apprised of issues important to elderly residents of Charlestown. Health care insurance, social security and legal issues are just a few of the concerns they tackle regularly. This core group has organized a phone tree of more than 70 seniors who call each other about important legislative issues. Each member then calls or writes to city, state and federal elected officials to inform them of the impact of key policies and legislation on the elderly.

CHAP seniors have also organized around local issues. They were influential in the decision to provide benches so that seniors and other could sit while waiting for transportation after shopping. They joined other community groups in lobbying the city to put traffic lights at Hayes Square. Most recently, they fought to allow Charlestown residents the convenience of paying their utility bills at local stores.

CHAP regularly sponsors educational forums on such topics as health benefits, long-term care, the health care proxy and living wills for Charlestown seniors and their families.

Lacey and Sister Ann Rita recently became members of the Charlestown Interagency on Aging Volunteer Program. Along with continuing their CHAP activities, they have been working to recruit, train and coordinate volunteers for visiting services and to escort frail seniors to medical appointments. Their newest initiative is lobbying for a nursing home in Charlestown.

Lacey has three children, eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. She enjoys crocheting, dancing and collecting dolls. She is retired from Mass General Hospital, where she worked for 18 years as a receptionist.

Sister Ann Rita is very close to her sister, Marguerite Zuffante. She enjoys reading, visiting and nature. She is a retired school teacher with advanced degrees in education and gerontology.

These two tireless, dedicated women are truly an inspiration for both young and old in any community. Charlestown and the Kennedy Center are proud and grateful to call Zelma Lacey and Sister Ann Rita Sullivan their own.

ABCD's president and CEO Robert M. Coard says: "This year's Community Awards Dinner is especially significant as we recognize ABCD's 30 years

THE TITLE SEARCH

People who do title searches for a living don't have real estate's most exciting job, but it is an important one. They must ensure that the sellers really do own the property you're buying and that all liens against the property are taken care of before or as a result of settlement.

If, for example, your seller has had financial difficulties and didn't pay bills, there might be judgments that must be satisfied when the property is sold. Someone in addition to the people who signed the sales agreement may have a partial interest. If, for example, parents cosigned the mortgage for your sellers, they will need to sign the sales agreement and the deed that transfers ownership to you. In addition to looking at the current owners' situation, they go back many years, examining what is called the "chain of title," and they will send the results to the settlement office. If you learn that the property you're buying has title problems, don't panic. Most of them are resolved easily and in plenty of time to avoid settlement delays.

If there's a move in your future, the professionals at Monument Properties are ready to serve you. Call us at 241-5900 or drop by our offices at 85 Warren St., Charlestown.

Thank you for being the kind of person who you are. You're a good and selfless person with so much to share. It probably makes you feel self-conscious to hear that, but I hope you know how true it really is. You have always been so caring and showed so much thoughtfulness. So many people I know feel lucky to be a part of your life and I hope you know I'm one of them. Thank you for being the person you are, and a special and important part of my life.
Although this was written when you were alive, your memory will never die.

Cashman, the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority and the city, and would seek residential input in arriving at equitable means for Cashman to remove the fill stockpiled at the Medford Street facility.

★ Public Safety Committee . . . The Charlestown Neighborhood Council Public Safety Committee met on Nov. 10. Officer Joe McNulty, community services officer from Area A of the Boston Police Department, introduced Officer Bernie McCrevan who is assigned to the district during the day.

McNulty reviewed the reported crimes from the past two weeks, focusing on two — breaks into parked automobiles and domestic disputes.

The officer warned of the danger of leaving items in automobiles in plain view. He said that persons roam the city, not only Charlestown, looking for things of value. He added that when something is spotted, the person quickly breaks the automobile window, grabs the item and is gone.

McCrevan noted that domestic disputes are becoming more common and urged that women or men who are verbally, emotionally, mentally and/or physically abused go to court and seek a 209A restraining order. This order, if issued by the court, gives the police officer the authority to pick up the individual if he/she is in the area. McNulty added that this order is unique in that the police don't have to witness an incident of abuse, they can act on the word of the complainant. He also noted that with this order, it becomes incumbent for the police officer to find a safe place for the complainant to stay. McCrevan said that residents should look out for themselves, and if they are experiencing abuse they should seek this court order.

Another concern raised at the meeting was whether a fire engine could make the turn from Mt. Vernon Avenue onto Mt. Vernon Street. Judy Evers, community liaison for the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, said that she would arrange for a trial run with both a fire engine and an ambulance. One resident stated that the biggest problem was the parking on the left side of Mt. Vernon Street. McNulty said that when the no parking signs are installed, the area will be put on a priority patrol list. McCrevan added that residents should not hesitate to call 911 if illegal parking poses a hazard to the area.

★ Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force Election . . . Seven residents of the Bunker Hill Housing Development were recently elected to two-year terms on the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force Board of Directors. Those elected and their vote were:

|----------------|-----|
| Mary MacInnes | 131 |
| Ed Coughlin | 107 |
| Nellie Gilgunn | 105 |
| Jan Nardone | 104 |

| Mary Baker | 93 |
| Mary Fisher | 92 |

★ Street Reconstruction Update . . . Mario Susi & Sons continues to get the streets ready for paving.

On Lyndeboro and Middlesex streets, the contractor set bounds and relocated light bases. The gas company will now come in and run feeds to the bases prior to paving.

Susi reset the brick sidewalk on Monument Court and redid the uphill corner at Winthrop Street to modify the grade for the new handicap ramp. The concrete sidewalk still needs to be finished.

Susi also finished raising the castings on Nearen Row and Concord Street for paving.

Work was also begun on Mt. Vernon Avenue and Street. On Mt. Vernon Avenue, the curb has been installed and the sidewalk graded. Susi has also poured the concrete base for the installation of the cobblestone roadway. The castings were set to grade and the new light bases installed. The gas company must now come in a run feeds to the new light bases. The contractor also moved onto Mt. Vernon Street and began running the roof drain connections. Boston Gas must run new feeds for the gas lights to be installed before Boston Edison can take down the old electric lights.

A meeting was held with the gas company last week to coordinate the remaining gas work needed before paving can be done. The contractor is presently looking to pave all the open streets on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 16 and 17. Look for the posting of leaflets. Your cooperation in this effort is appreciated.

There have been no real complaints about Susi and their work, which is indicative of the fine job they are doing. A question was raised about the width of Mt. Vernon Avenue, but the road is, in fact, slightly wider than it was prior to construction.

The Mead Street Stairs (40 Flights) contractor, Middlesex Corp., poured the first two flights of stairs this past week and is forming, tying steel and getting ready to make another pour this week. Middlesex says it still plans to finish the project during this construction season. They may bring in additional crews to complete the street and restoration portion of the contract.

Questions, concerns and complaints are being handled by Community Liaison Peter Looney at 722-4300 ext. 5674.

Changes Taking Place Within The Day-Care System

JoAnn Doherty, Day Care coordinator for the John F. Kennedy Family Service Center, which has both a preschool and after-school day care program, announces that there are many changes occurring within the day-care system.

Doherty wants to make parents, grandparents, guardians and foster parents aware of the various day-care slots available. However, she cautions, some of these day-care slots do have waiting lists.

Persons in the following categories should contact Doherty for further information:

1. If you are on A.F.D.C. and planning to work, then you would be eligible for a voucher through the Employment and Training program.

2. If you are a teen parent and working or in school, you would be eligible.

3. If you are on A.F.D.C. and in school or a training program, then you could be put on a waiting list. There is currently a freeze on vouchers for these participants which will, hopefully, be removed soon.

4. Foster parents looking for day care should contact Doherty.

5. If you are a working parent and meet the income guidelines, you would be eligible.

The program also has slots available for private payment that do not require meeting income guidelines. The fee is $2.80 an hour for preschool and $2.70 an hour for after-school day care.

Doherty is available from noon to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday at 241-7023 to provide more information and answer questions on the program.

Charlestown Court To Celebrate Appointment Of Chief Justice Ruffin

On Friday, Nov. 20, at 4 p.m., the Charlestown District Court will observe and celebrate the anniversary of the appointment of Chief Justice George L. Ruffin, the first African-American judge in the north, who was appointed as Chief Justice of the Charlestown District Court by Governor Benjamin Butler on Nov. 20, 1883.

Ruffin had a distinguished career of service to his community and the nation, which included service on the Boston Common Council, in the state legislature and leadership at several national political conventions.

According to Presiding Justice Peter Agnes: "George Ruffin was not only a role model for the 19th century, but was a person whose life bears close examination and emulation in our time. He gave up a lucrative law practice to help the neediest people in this community and believed deeply in the power of the law to promote social progress."

The Nov. 20 event will include a commemorative presentation by The Boston Globe.

A picture of Ruffin is displayed in a prominent place in the main courtroom. The memory of Ruffin is preserved in part by the Ruffin Society at Northeastern University which is actively engaged in promoting interest among young men and women of color in professional careers in criminal justice and in bringing about a greater peace in our neighborhoods.

The Justices, staff and friends of the court invite the public to attend this event to mark this important occasion. A reception will follow.

The Charlestown architectural firm of J.W. French Associates Inc. was commissioned to develop a modern facility with state-of-the-art athletic facilities and living accommodations beneath an historically accurate facade under guidelines set down by the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) and the National Park Service. The surrounding buildings were designed by Alexander Parris in the mid-1850s and this new structure, built by Peabody Construction, blends into the area. In fact, the resulting building has led residents and visitors alike to question whether the building is new or the renovation of an existing structure.

The facility has been designed to meet the needs of the military population of the Boston area as well as those of the Charlestown community with social, recreational and support facilities.

At the dedication ceremonies, Rev. Lynn Smith, minister of Mariners' House and Senior Port Chaplain, opened with an invocation which was followed by the presentation of the colors by the USS Constitution Color Guard.

Rep. Richard A. Voke, House Majority Leader, was praised for his invaluable assistance in securing the funds necessary to build the new A/S YMCA. Voke told the gathering that he was very pleased that the facility was rebuilt here in Charlestown. He noted that Charlestown is a special place where the finest of people continually show their commitment to God and country.

Mass. Commissioner of Veterans Services Thomas Hudner, a Congressional Medal of Honor recipient, represented Gov. William Weld. Hudner said that he felt strongly about decent facilities for the military such as this Y where there would be a safe and secure place for them and their families. He commended the people involved with this project.

Albert "Dapper" O'Neil, president of the Boston City Council, praised all who had anything to do with the planning and construction of the new Y. He noted the great history of the Charlestown Navy Yard and applauded the addition of the new facility in the Yard. He said: "This country has the finest military personnel and we should be proud of them. This building and you who are present today are here because you care."

BRA Director Paul Barrett stated that it was "a distinct pleasure to be here as landlord and owner of the property." He pointed out that the Charlestown Navy Yard was a military base for 174 years and when it was closed in 1974, 5,000 people were put out of work. He added that it was great to see the Y providing jobs in construction, for resi-

A PROUD HISTORY - a promising future. These two eagles, removed from the facade of the A/S YMCA in City Square, and the cornerstone of that building laid in a great ceremony in 1917 and opened in an equally spectacular manner in 1988, were incorporated into the new facility in the Charlestown Navy Yard. These artifacts were carefully stored by the late Joseph Kent, who took it upon himself, while he was an employee of the BRA, to make sure they would be preserved for inclusion in the new Y.

 dents and for the clients of Life Focus Center, Charlestown's program for the mentally retarded and physically handicapped. Barrett went on to praise Voke as one of the "people who made this Y possible," noting that Voke "is always there for the people of Charlestown."

Barrett spoke of the memorial to Korean War veterans scheduled to be dedicated next year at Shipyard Park and the ongoing relationship between the city and the military. He stated: "The partnership between the Y and the community speaks well of the future." He concluded by saying that the A/S YMCA "adds to the strength of the Navy Yard, not just from the community but from around the world."

Lt. Col. John R. Yates, USMC (Ret.), president of the A/S YMCA Board of Trustees, told the gathering that this was "a happy day — the beginning of a new era" — and was the culmination of 10 years of effort. He commended Mayor Raymond L. Flynn, Voke, Charlestown residents Jim Conway and the late Dennis McLaughlin for their efforts on behalf of the Y, and the Charlestown community who, he said, has supported the Y for the past 75

The dedication ceremony featured the unveiling of a plaque commemorating the 75th anniversary of the A/S YMCA in Boston. Plaques were presented to the Hon. Charles S. Bolster, president emeritus of the Y's Board of Trustees, and to the family of Harry A. Psarris, longtime chief executive officer of the Y, who was unable to attend the event due to illness.

The ribbon was cut and the guests were afforded an opportunity to tour the building and enjoy a collation in the gymnasium.

The $12-million, six-floor building is designed as a modern, comfortable home away from home.

The recreation facilities include an indoor pool, an exercise/fitness center and a gymnasium with locker rooms and a sports shop. In addition, there is a function room with a capacity of 150, meeting rooms, a board room, game room, laundry and a vending area as well as a chapel or meditation room.

Hours for the physical fitness facility are Monday to Friday from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., Saturday from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m. Prior to Dec. 4, Charlestown residents can join the facility for $360, $40 less than the stated annual fee.

The 148 residential rooms, some with twin beds and others with bunk beds, are tastefully furnished and each have a private bath. Some 60 of the rooms have kitchenettes. Acting Director Paul Harvey said in an interview that it is estimated that room rates will range from $55 to $65 a night. He stated that these rooms will not be for long-term residents. In fact, he said, there is a two-week limit on a stay, with the option to renew for two weeks more if there is space available.

The exception to this residency rule is the Dennis McLaughlin Alternative Lifestyle Program which involves 10 rooms on the fourth floor of the Y. Harvey said this non-profit program will provide its own staff and is governed by its own Board of Directors. According to Harvey, the Y will just provide the space for this program.

Harvey stated: "Our mission is service to the military. As soon as we are assured that mission is accomplished, we will work on programs for Charlestown families. I can't make a commitment on specific programs until then." He did add that the community programs would probably be similar to those provided at the old City Square facility.

THE INTERIOR of the new Armed Services YMCA on Second Avenue in the Charlestown Navy Yard offers physical fitness facilities with a gymnasium, pool, olympic weight room, sauna, nautilus, aerobics and cardio-vascular equipment. The 148 rooms at the facility feature twin beds and, in some instances, bunks. Each has a private bath and there are kitchens in some of the rooms.

Harvey stated that 85 percent of the new employees hired by the Y are Charlestown residents. He added that as use of the facility increases with the resulting rise in cash flow, more employees will be hired.

He stated that Life Focus Center staff and clients have been hired to assume the maintenance and house-keeping duties at the Y.

Residents will be able to tour the facility and register to join the Y during a special pre-opening period from Nov. 16 to 25 on weekdays from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The Y facilities will be open on Nov. 30.

As the doors to the new Armed Services YMCA open, a decade of planning, meeting and overcoming many obstacles along the way, has resulted in a building of which the Y's Board of Trustees, staff, the city and the community can be justifiably proud.

As Father Ronald Coyne, pastor of St. Catherine's Parish, offered in his benediction at the dedication, the three words that came to his mind were "housing, recreation and hospitality." His hopes were that the Y and the community would "continue to grow together to celebrate many other wonderful times."

New Quilt Books Donated To Charlestown Branch Library

This week the Charlestown Branch Library is the recipient of three new books. These are a gift from Windmill Hill Quilters Inc., a local non-profit group chartered to advance appreciation of the history and art of quilting.

The most impressive book given is a 1992 publication called Quilts in America by Orlofsky. This is considered as a bible of serious historic quilt study. Included in it on page 46 are photos of quilts Dwight Eisenhower and Calvin Coolidge helped to make when they were children. Historians as well as quilters can increase their knowledge by checking out the incredible facts offered in its pages.

Another donated book is America's Heritage Quilts, a "Better Homes and Gardens" publication. Patterns are included for copying quilts featured in this book and sewing techniques are carefully provided. Pioneer quilts are reviewed and contemporary ones as well. A section on Depression-era quilts might bring back memories to some senior citizens in our town.

A third donation is M.E. Johnson's Star Quilts. This beloved quilt motif of stars is covered from the early 1800s to the present. Full size patterns and directions for more than 30 quilts are offered. Even a super-star quilt to be made in just one day is featured. The line forms to the right, eager quilters!

O'Neil Jrs. Improving Each Week

by Bernie "Scoop" Kelly

At Saturday night's game, the Top Brass of the O'Neil Juniors were sashaying around the MDC Rink lobby ordering large slices of pizza and Mossey chasers to celebrate the recent game victory for the O'Neil Juniors that also saw Coach Richie "Maxie" Hart enjoy a standing "O" from the small but enthusiastic crowd of Junior Hockey fans who enjoy the competition of top select New England teams.

The price for Hart's win over the Bay State Hawks did not come easy, as the fast-breaking Hawks continually pressed the O'Neil Raiders into a tie with the hope of stealing the victory in overtime. In the sudden-death overtime period, the O'Neil Club was on the board for a 3 to 2 well-earned victory. The club's standings are at three wins and three losses.

Upcoming Games

There will be a super must-see game at 11 a.m. on Sunday, Nov. 15 between the Matt O'Neil Club and the SUNY Canton

Northmen, who claim they will "take no prisoners."

The Philadelphia Junior Flyers will be in town the following weekend, Nov. 21 and 22, for back-to-back performances Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Myers Scores Hole-In-One

Philip Myers of Charlestown has scored a hole-in-one at Kelly Greens Golf Course in Nahant, and entered the 32nd annual Drambuie Rusty Nail Hole-In-One Sweepstakes. The 142-yard ace was scored at hole No.4 on Sept. 13.

Myers and Brian Ohearn, the golf professional who validated the sweepstakes entry, are both eligible to win the grand prize, a one week trip for two to Scotland, a VIP tour of the Drambuie Liqueur Co. Ltd. and $1,000 cash.

Nearly 10,000 lucky people score a hole-in-one and enter the sweepstakes each year, which has become one of the country's most successful sports promotions of its kind. The sweepstakes runs from Jan. 1, to Dec. 31.

■ Yandle Ignites Friendship Win . . . Jimmy Yandle had three goals and three assists as Charlestown Pride — the ball hockey team — scored an impressive 9-6 win, defeating Hyde Park in week two of Friendship citywide play.

Impressive! Charlestown trailed 5-2 going into the final period, but no one gave up, and the results were seven unanswered goals.

Greg Staples had two goals and three assists, and continues to be one of Charlestown's most potent offensive weapons. Shane Fisher, Stephen Livingston, Mike Sullivan and Ricky Evers had important and timely goals for Charlestown.

Goaltending chores were shared by Brian Houlihan and Mike Burns.

On Saturday, Charlestown travels to Ross Park in Hyde Park to play Dorchester, beginning at 10 a.m.

■ Bunker Hill Teen Council . . . New members of the Bunker Hill Teen Council are Laureen Jones, Amanda Fornash, Jimmy Yandle and Pat Collins.

■ High School Notebook . . . Matignon (4-4) shut out Bishop Fenwick 20-0. Pope John made it two in a row, blanking St. Clement 20-6. Malden Catholic topped Don Bosco 31-18. Weston stopped Boston Latin 30-6. Cohasset rolled over Charlestown 27-0, and Phillips Andover tipped BC High 21-13.

Completing a successful volleyball season at Matignon were Townies Sharon Burke, Corey Gallagher, Kristin Connolly, Lori Burke and Colleen Callahan.

■ Tidbits . . . Dennis Collins does a fine job with the College Club. Dennis joined Billy Nolan and Greg Nolan at the Saturday Bruins-Rangers tilt.

Bleated 30th birthday greetings to Eddie Loan, who writes some fine articles for "The Charlestown Patriot."

Congratulations to Mimi and Paul Wrenn who are expecting a "Little Wrenn" in the summer.

Also, congratulations to Carolyn Shannon on her promotion to the Community Centers' Central Office. Carolyn is co-director of the youth program.

There will be refreshments available. The dance will feature "Ivory Soul," live, with two female singers and two dancers. There will also be a disc jockey.

The dance will be for all teen-agers 13 to 19, and the cost will be $3 per person to be paid at the door. Once you enter the dance, you are expected to remain. If you do leave, you must pay another $3 to enter.

• Julie Quinn To Be Honored — St. Catherine's Parish is proud to announce that Julie Quinn, our coordinator of religious education, will be honored at the annual CYO Awards Night on Friday, Nov. 20 at the Boston Teachers Union Hall. Julie will be one of the adults from the Archdiocese chosen to receive the Pro Deo et Juventute (For God and Youth) Award. The parish had recommended her for this honor due to her tireless efforts over the past 15 years preparing our children for their First Communion. Her lively faith and outgoing personality make her easily recognizable to the children, teen-agers and young adults of our community who have been touched throughout the years by this gracious lady. We congratulate her and her family and thank her for the generous gift of herself.

• Mile Of Pennies — Believe it or not, it is almost two years since we had our altar boy drive to build a mile of pennies. We raised a great deal of support from all our neighbors and friends. The money helped us to make our dream of going to Toronto/Niagara Falls become a reality. The altar boys spent four days on vacation, and loved every minute of it. We thank you.

We will now attempt to build a second mile of pennies and put the proceeds toward a future trip. We are trying to limit our appeal to the four weeks of Advent (Nov. 29 to Dec. 25). If anyone would like to donate pennies to our cause, you may leave them at St. Catherine's Rectory, 49 Vine St., or call 242-1750 and we will be happy to pick them up. Thank you.

• Thanksgiving Dance — On Friday evening, Nov. 27, we invite all adults, 21 years and older, to join us as we welcome Dickie McManus and The Irish Revolution back to St. Catherine's School Hall for a Thanksgiving celebration to beat the band (no pun intended)!

The doors will open at 8 p.m. with dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. There will be a cash bar. Tickets are $10 per person and will be available at the door. For ticket information, call 242-1035 or 241-9250.

• Adult Bowling League — We have had interest expressed in forming an adult bowling league. St. Catherine's would be happy to sponsor a league and to begin organizing efforts. We need to know how many people may like to join and make decisions about where we will bowl and what evening.

We will be making these decisions at a meeting on Monday, Nov. 23 at 7 p.m. in St. Catherine's School Hall. If anyone is interested in joining, we ask you to be present at this meeting. We assume this will be a mixed league with both men and women, but that will also be decided on Nov. 23.

Sen. Birmingham Office Hours Nov. 18

Sen. Thomas F. Birmingham will hold office hours in Charlestown from 5 to 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 18 in the first floor conference area at One Thompson Square.

My Sincere Thanks

My sincere thanks go to the families of Michael P. Quinn and Francis McCluskey and also to the Michael P. Quinn Scholarship Committee for selecting my daughter, Melissa A. Doherty, for the Francis McCluskey Honorarium Award.
Norman P. Doherty

Thank You So Much

On behalf of St. Francis de Sales Holy Name Society, I wish to thank our pastor, Father Daniel Mahoney; our spiritual director, Father William McConnell; and the wonderful people who accepted the invitation to the public, to hear our guest speaker, Deputy Chief Kevin Mochen, of the Boston Fire Department talk on "The Work and Apostolate of Opus Dei."

To one and all, a heartfelt thank you so much.
Richard "Richie" Warner, president

My Thanks To The Voters

Dear Editor:
I am writing to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to the voters of Suffolk County for their confidence in re-electing me to a second term as Sheriff of Suffolk County.

Also, my sincere thanks and gratitude to the thousands of supporters who worked so hard on behalf of our campaign. Their efforts ensured the strong victory we amassed on Nov. 3rd.

Our campaign theme was "Keep Bob Rufo Working," and I assure you that I will keep on working on behalf of the citizens of Suffolk County.

Very truly yours,
Bob Rufo

The Community Is Grateful

Mario Susi and Sons, Inc.
36 Westwood Street
Dorchester, MA 02121

Dear Mr. Susi:

I would like to congratulate you on the quality of work and the professional behavior of your crew working on the reconstruction of the streets of Charlestown.

I get several calls every day from residents with positive comments.

You inherited many problems when you took over the contract, and the residents realize the difficult task you had before you could get started.

The community is grateful to you and appreciates what you are doing.

Sincerely,
Judy Evers

Charlestown Coordinator, Mayor's Office

My Thanks

Dear Gloria,

Please allow me this opportunity to thank those who have wished me well as I venture off to new horizons. My years at the Patriot have been rewarded with these friendships that will be cherished for a lifetime.

Every story and every person that I encountered over the years has allowed me the opportunity to realize firsthand the uniqueness of this community. Charlestown is indeed the jewel of Boston's neighborhoods. Its people — residents and business persons, young and old, newcomer and native — all contribute in their own way to create this uniqueness. I consider it an honor to have been allowed to enter their lives and tell their stories.

No matter where the road ahead of me leads, I will take along for the ride all these wonderful experiences and the good wishes expressed to me over the past few weeks.

Thank you, Gloria, for the opportunity to learn under your watchful eye and for allowing me the freedom to express my impressions of these experiences through this newspaper.

Sincerely,
Kathy Giordano

Thank You Judy Evers And Peter Looney

To the editor:

I would like to take the time to thank Judy Evers and Peter Looney for their quick response in resolving a matter on Baldwin Street. Within a short time, the private painting company which had blocked all public access to my street, was removed for not having the proper permits.

It is really a plus to have people such as these representing community concerns.

Thanks again,
Ms. Karos

Charlestown resident Amanda Onnis makes her acting debut as the cook in the new Bunker Hill Community College (BHCC) production, "The Matchmaker," slated for December.

Written by Thornton Wilder in the 1930's, "The Matchmaker" comically portrays the life of wealthy Horace Vandergelder as he takes a bride. Dolly Levi, the matchmaker, assists Vandergelder in his spousal search, or so he thinks. She manipulates him and everyone around her to get what she wants. After all, Dolly wants a spouse too. "The Matchmaker" is packed with familiar dialogue, a.k.a. "Hello Dolly," and hilarious farcical comedy, aimed to please any age.

Show dates for "The Matchmaker" are Dec. 1 and 2 at 7:30 p.m. with a matinee performance on Dec. 3 beginning at 12:30 p.m.

BHCC is located on 250 Rutherford Ave., in Charlestown. Ample free parking will be provided for all shows.

The tickets cost $4 per person, $3 for seniors 60 or older, and group rates are also available.

For more information, contact the publicity director at 628-9360.

Gauge Containing Radioactive Material Stolen From CANA Field Office

(continued from page one) top of the gauge. The handle was locked in its position and the MHD still has the keys to the device.

Radiation levels on the outside of the device are approximately six millirem per hour on the top of the gauge, 14 millirem per hour on the sides of the gauge, five millirem per hour on the back of the gauge near the handle and 15 millirem per hour on the front of the gauge.

The radiation emanating from the cesium-137 source, should it be exposed from its normal shielded position, would be 28 millirems per hour at a distance of one foot from the source and significantly higher if anyone were to touch the source. In comparison, the radiation levels from a single chest x-ray is 10 to 20 millirems per second. Thus exposure to this device would not produce any ob-servable medical effects.

If anyone knows of the location of this object or if anyone has seen it, they should not attempt to tamper with it. They should leave it at the gate at the CANA Field Office, 250

Front St., Charlestown, or call the State Police at 282-8760 or the MHD at 973-8100 immediately.
