Jesus Christ in Space

The Final Supper was finished and Jesus ushered everyone outside for a big surprise. Where was Jesus for those 3 days Peter wondered and Peter's question was about to be answered by a saucer shaped glowing light moving towards them from the sky. The light stopped and hovered above Jesus and a beam of light came from it and Jesus vanished in the beam to be taken onboard the saucer.

Onboard the saucer were small people similar in appearance to Humans but they were grey and had no hair. One of these Greys looked at Jesus and spoke "Haldross!" a greeting.

Jesus extended his arms and spoke "Where is God?", Jesus looked around for the head Grey, an it called God.

The Grey blinked and said "I'm God.", all the Greys looked identical so it was forgivable that Jesus didn't recognize that God was before him.

Jesus apologized for not recognizing the Grey and was guided by a group of Greys to a tactical command panel onboard the saucer. The Greys indicated they needed to plan a mission for the next couple thousand years.

“If we are to conquer Earth and free it from the grasp of Satan we need you to improve your powers and miracles Jesus. Miracles are caused by an expedient need for paradise so the factors of a miracle are fit into place in predestined time.”

Jesus nodded at the lecture, still a thousand years from comprehending Grey Science, since he was just a boy from Nazarus; primitive preindustrial Earth.

The Grey winced.

Another Grey spoke up, “You remember when Satan was tempting you in the desert, well we’ve projected for the next few thousand years Satan is going to tempt the Humans to do evil. We have also projected that eventually a Messiah would be born that would reject evil and save the Humans, but we need you as well because you have experience fighting this entity known as Satan. Satan is pure malice and hatred towards all things beautiful, trying to either destroy existence or transform it to a dystopian hell.”

Jesus spoke, “So you need me to fight the psychic influence of Satan and prevent Hell on Earth, I understand this from when you were resurrecting me from the grave.”

“Yes you understand what we want of you.” The Grey said. “You are to become one of our soldiers because you are so successful, but more than that a general of Angels. We’re bringing you to our alliance mothership where you will meet the Archangels. Glop please explain to Jesus what the Archangels are.”

Glop took control of the tactical panel and displayed a diagram of an angel with 6 wings, “An Archangel is our ultimate warrior, they control legions of angels and have been designed to fight Evil. They can manipulate energy with their minds and cast blasts of light that incinerate demons. You will be learning from them how to manipulate energy.”

Jesus nodded at Glop the Grey, “Like creating bread?”

Glop blinked, “More like lightning, but you get the idea.”

God looked up at Jesus, “You can control a demon to submit in defeat with your mind. Without even launching an attack.”

The saucer left the atmosphere of Earth and flew towards planet Utopia where the Alliance Mothership was in orbit.

Jesus unboarded the saucer on the service ramp and was guided to the Flight Deck where the angels were assembly for a blessing mission to Earth where they would bless the Humans to evolve better from their space fighter jets.

Jesus was dressed in a flight suit with a helmet and padded arms. The suit had it's own oxygen supply though Jesus had surpassed the need for oxygen, Jesus still enjoyed breathing as a novelty.

The Angels were in formation, lined up for inspection for this saviour Christ. Jesus was hardly a military general, but the Alliance still wanted to train Jesus in commanding an army so they let Jesus practice his skills with the Angels. For forty years Jesus trained with the angels, learning more every day.

A Grey ran to Jesus, "JESUS JESUS!".

Jesus looked to the Grey, "Yes?".

The Grey handed Jesus a paper, "We have a mission for you, there has been a zombie outbreak on the planet Nelpia and we want you to go with the Seraphim and purify the world."

Jesus zipped up his flight suit and boarded the spacecraft heading for planet Nelpia. Satan had corrupted the minds of the people with voodoo and transformed them to zombies, it was up to Jesus and the Seraphim to bring them back to The Light.

Jesus was commanding the mission with a Seraphim named Avia. She was a female Seraphim and had much experience with zombies. There were 20 Seraphim with them, making the number 22.

Avia gave Jesus a Revelation Class Revolver[Gun]. She had one too. We take these guns and shoot them in the head, it will purify their whole energy field turning them back into Nelpians[Similar to short blue Humans with fins].

Jesus remembered back to the shooting range during his training for those 40 long years. Aim by lining up the target, and shoot.

The spaceship landed on the planet in the middle of a zombie infested city. The Seraphim and Avia disembarked first, firing their guns at the oncoming zombie hoard. Jesus stepped out of the spaceship last, aimed his gun at a zombie and shot.

Meanwhile on Earth. The Christians had been recovering from their saviour leaving Earth by spreading the work of his doing and teachings.

A young Christian named Adiel[15] had been tasked with taking messages between the churches in secrecy, and would return to the church in the forest where the gospel was being written about Jesus Christ.

Adiel came before the priest at the forest church and asked him about their work and what was foretold by Jesus.

The priest took him aside, “The Good Lord Jesus Christ will return in 2000 years to guide the Humans to the next Era of Advancement. Though we won’t be around, the Christians will surely still be preaching the message of the Lord our Christ.”

“But why preach about something we won’t be around for? Why bother living at all if not for eternity?” Adiel asked.

“It is not for us to live forever, but for the Gods and Christ our Lord to live forever as a God.” The Priest exclaimed, “Christ is out there in the Galaxy right now fighting to keep Earth safe from the forces of Chaos and Evil so that The Messiah can be born. We owe it to him to keep his word alive long enough for The Messiah to hear it and learn to love all life.”

Back on planet Nelphia, Jesus and Avia had almost finished with the zombie hoard.

Avia shouted, “We have one more city to liberate and then we head back to report our success, keep the resurrected Humans safe and don’t let them get reinfected. Use magic protective fields.”

Jesus nodded and cast a protective spell on the Nelphians.

Avia and Jesus flew into action to the final town, shooting and casting magick at the zombies.

“4 MORE!”

“I got them.”, Jesus shot at 3 of them while one snuck up behind him.

“SATAN BE PRAISED” the zombie screamed.

A Seraphim scout ship came over the mountain range and shot at the zombie hitting it in a massive explosion saving Jesus.

Jesus turned around to witness the explosion.

Back at the Alliance Headquarters Jesus was being debriefed.

A Reptillian was giving the debriefing, “We now control most of the Galaxy and have liberated it from Satan, it is nearing time for us to retake Earth. Ssss.”

The mission took more than 20 years, Jesus was older and not quite feeling as masculine as he used to. He was considering transitioning to girl. That time with Avia had made him started to realize it would be better to be a lesbian.

“I feel like a girl” Jesus said honestly.

“We have a transsexual program for that Jesus. They can help you and they have a support group for others going through the transition process to become girls.” The Reptillian indicated.

Jesus left the debriefing and went to the transsexual support program where he met with a transsexual girl named Lola.

Lola greeted Jesus, “Hello and welcome, my name is Lola and I have been a girl for nearly 400 years.”

Jesus shook her hand, “Hello my name is Jesus Christ and I recently discovered I was transsexual through soul searching on a recent mission to Nelphia.”

Lola gaped, “I heard about the Nelphia mission it was on the news while you were gone. I’m glad it was a success, God forbid Satan were to conquer that world. I could only imagine how—“

Jesus interrupted her, “Remember that existence is predestine, Satan could not have won.”

“Of course I know that, I am 400...” Lola lol’d.

“The war was hard but all of us survived without a single injury.” Jesus exclaimed.

Lola nodded, “So you learned you were transsexual on this mission?”

“Yes.” Jesus exclaimed again.

Lola motioned Jesus to sit down, “Let’s talk about this some more. The transition process is hard, have you talked to your friends and family about this?”

Jesus shook her head, “It’s my decision alone.”

Lola nodded and smiled, “Yes that is the correct attitude, it’s all about you Jesus.. is that what you still want to be called?”

Jesus shook her head, “I was thinking Sara as my new name.”

Lola smiled again, “I like that name Sara, it’s beautiful like I know you will be after you transition. We have pills you can start taking that will transform you to a girl, it will only take a few dosages before you are completely girl.”

Sara blushed, “That makes me so happy to know it’s such an easy process here in the Alliance of Galaxies.”

Meanwhile on Earth the Ark of the Covenant was stolen by Philistines. The 10 commandments to Moses from The Grey Alien; God.

The Templars were tasked with finding the Ark of the Covenant and would spend another 1500 years searching for it before they found it but then they would put it into hiding at the Vatican.

Speaking of which, 1500 years passed and Sara’s transition was going well, she had adapted to her new life as a girl and the Earth year was now 1670, 317 years before the birth of The Messiah.

The story continues....

(An Actress from Space had recently discovered she was fake. Unrelated but still important.)

Sara was preparing for her mission to Earth to liberate it with The Messiah when The Messiahs witch abilities had awoken but she didn't want to leave her new lover Lara. So she decided to stay in Heaven and let the Messiah save the Earth with The Messiah's pen and paper.

The Author Enters a Book

Raine Ashford was writing a book called 'Jesus Christ in Space' when the book she had previously written 'Black Bible' flung open and a vortex opened and pulled her inside it.

The pages flipped and then the book slammed closed and it shelved itself.

The room stood still.

She found herself in a forest with no animals and no bugs and beside her was a new version of the Black Bible, one she hadn't written.

She opened the pages and read within it, "No evil shall read this book, only the pure can read these words. This book teaches the Arcane Magick of Black Witchcraft, the secrets to programming the mathematical equations building Existence."

She flipped through the pages and read it for days, rereading it as the words rearranged and changed, the book kept rewriting itself to teach her more about magick.

Raine Ashford lifted her right index finger and concentrated above the tip and a spark of flame ignited. Her first magic spell. It took her two years of practice before her next spell would work, Flash Step as labeled in the Black Bible, where she would fold space under her and transfer to the folded space to teleport.

Meanwhile the police had given up the search for Raine Ashford, 20 years passed and she was trapped in that book.

One day a librarian was searching the shelves of an old library and found her book and started reading it. The words had changed from the ones written by the author initially. Now it was about a girl learning magick in a magical forest with no animals or bugs.

The librarian flipped through the pages, exhilarated by her grand find. Then the book started to shake in her hands. A vortex opened and Raine Ashford flew out, knocking the librarian on her ass and Raine fell on top of her.

Raine looked around, barely able to remember language but more clever and intelligent than ever before.

The librarian spoke, "H-hello?"

Raine looked down at her and then saw the Black Bible next to her on the floor, she picked it up and flipped through the pages. Her eyes opened wide and she held open the book to the librarian, "All the pages are blank."

The librarian looked at it, more surprised by the book being empty than at Raine suddenly appearing from a vortex. She spoke "They are blank."

"It isn't time to read the book then." Raine grunted.

Raine and the librarian got up and Raine began teaching her magick from the Black Bible. She cast fire spells and wind spells, she cast pentagrams made of light.

The Librarian was in awe of Raine's awesome magick.

The librarian blushed.

Raine smiled and used her psychic powers to guess her name, "You're Sydney aren't you?"

The librarian opened her eyes wide, "Y-Yes how did you know?"

Raine replied, "I'm psychic."

Raine and Sydney started kissing, both very much lesbians now.

Raine smiled, "You know. I have an idea. Follow me." Raine pushed a bookcase aside and behind it she cast a spell to create a doorway that had a manifested staircase going down into an underground lair.

The two girls walked down the stairs.

Sydney gaped, "You created this just now?"

Raine nodded, "Ya see I need some place secret to practice my craft. And I want to practice it with you. Let's start a coven."

Sydney pondered then asked, "What's a coven?"

"It's where girls get together and practice black magick and sex rituals." Raine muttered.

Sydney seemed nervous.

Raine recognized her nervousness and cast a love spell on her.

Sydney mrrrrr'd with affection and clinged to Raine's arm.

"Onwards to the ritual of The Coven!" Raine summoned a scry sphere in the center of a pentagram. "With this we can find more coven members in this town."

Sydney smitten with love nodded and childishly said "Excellent!".

Raine waved her hand above the scrying sphere and saw 3 girls in different parts of the town, none of them knew each other.

"Ah! And what are their names!" Sydney exclaimed.

Raine cast another spell to reveal their names,
“Adyson.”

“Ah, Adyson!” Sydney exclaimed.

“Lily.”.

“Ah, ah, Lily!” Sydney chirped.

And... “Alex.”.

“A girl named Alex, yes.” Sydney nodded.

“Let’s guide them to us my sweetheart.” Raine cuddled up to Sydney.

Raine cast a spell to control their minds and each one of them walked as if they were under the control of a necromancer to the library and down the staircase.

Sydney gave them all Black Cloaks and put on a Black Cloak herself.

Then Raine pulled up the hood on her Black Cloak to cover her head, “Gooooood let the ritual begin!”.

Raine cast a fire spell to light the 5 Candles surrounding the Pentagram.

The 5 girls took positions at each point of the star in the Pentagram.

Together they lifted their hands and began the initiation and coven creation ritual. Together their minds intertwined and they became telepathic together. All of them accepting these changes to their lives.

“With this our bonding of marriage is complete, we are now coven.” Raine spoketh.

Sydney jumped for joy.

Raine grinned, “You know this means immortality for all of us... Because we’re immortal that means we always existed[perception]. The mortals are all fake!”

“What do we do with the mortals?” Adyson asked.

“We live in hiding but give them the planet obviously, you fool, we conquer it of course!”

Raine’s sarcasm turned to a serious tone.

“Raine’s mind says she suspects there’s a Lord of this planet keeping the population as slaves.” Sydney telepathically derived a thought from Raine.

Raine nodded, “I learned to always have insight for potential truths. Now that we are coven and that I have returned from the Black Bible we will liberate the Earth! Mortals will be no longer and those who live will be immortal like us.”.

The Alien Princess does LSD

An overprivileged princess in a powerful space empire. She is royalty but she does not know comprehension like somebody that comprehends existence must have equivalent rulership between all immortals. She believes she is more entitled than her equivalents, those whom will live for just as long as her as real perceptions in need of pleasure just as much as her.

One night she was drinking wine and a Grey Servant slipped LSD into her wine. The princess could manipulate her energies and chakras more than ever before, and she saw angels coming to her and telling her to repent, that she must see immortals as equals. Beings from Paradox that are eternal and have always been and will always be.

The Princess wept and repented, "Oh how I have been so wrong in believing only I mattered. Oh how I have been so wrong in believing only the royal family was worthy of immortality. I now understand predestined fate and why immortals must have unique experiences and lessons. I will repent by having our family free planets from slavery.”

This conflicted with Raine Ashfords plan to liberate Earth. What is Raine Ashford to do when her pride is being confronted by another liberating Earth with more ease, someone whom had always had an easier life. And will the pompous royal family really release Earth? Or will they ignore the princess?

A long time ago an angelic goddess was imprisoned in Hell to be tormented by this very same royal family. Little did they know this god was about to free herself and conquer all of Hell. For she was righteous and the righteous surpass the unrighteous.

Lucifer conquers Hell and becomes Emperor

Lucifer screamed out on a torture rack while Satan laughed and continued flogging Lucifer with chains and spikes.

Lucifer began glowing white and Satan was forced to the ground by a powerful force from Lucifer, "I've had enough of your evil, I will end all evils.", Lucifer made this pledge and was granted powers.

"To end all evil is your pledge Lucifer." A witch spoke telepathically to her.

"Who are you?" Lucifer was engulfed in whiteness.

"You can call me CC." An echoed reply said as the voice vanished.

Lucifer then reappeared in the torture room with Satan knocked unconscious. The white light faded and Lucifer was floating. She flew through the ceiling destroying it and began mind controlling the demons to be subservient.

The demons screamed and tried to catch Lucifer, but Lucifer repelled all of their attacks with a force.

Lucifer's eyes glowed red, "I have awoken, The God Emperor of Hell. Nothing will stand in my way and I will conquer Existence and make it paradise for all to live in."

Sara Christ's Second Coming

Lara looked at Sara, "I don't think you should give up on being a hero in the war against Satan. You were good. Really good at it."

Christ shook her head, "I left the life on Earth and..." flashes of Mary came to Christ's mind.

Sara clenched her fist, "I left someone on Earth a long time ago."

Lara spoke, "Then resurrect her. We've been together long enough that I know you still love her."

Sara Christ; "Alright I'm going to put on my Flight Suit and go to Earth to bring Mary back to life. I'll bring her back to Heaven."

Lara smiled, "God will let you, it's a very kind Grey. You should know that you used to work so closely with God, didn't they call you and the Holy Spirit the Trinity?"

Christ nodded, "I remember The Trinity and the pact I made to protect Existence against Satan. I'm leaving retirement Lara."

Christ walked to the spacedock and boarded a ship heading to Earth to release the slaves as ordered by Royalty. But what Christ didn't know was that Royalty was just going to release them long enough to make the princess happen, and then when she stopped caring about Earth and the Humans they were going to begin the Apocalypse to kill the Humans and suppress any possibility of them becoming immortal.

The spaceship undocked and it's thrusters ignited, it charted it's route to Earth in the Sol System and departed Heaven.

The Protagonists and the Final Showdown

Lucifer's fleet of spaceships was heading for Earth.

Raine Ashford's coven was recruiting cultists through magical mind control.

The Princess was getting her way, like always, or so she assumed.

Sara Christ was almost at Earth to find Mary's skeletal remains and resurrect her like a pimp necromancer.

Raine Ashford was oblivious to the Princesses plans to release the population of Earth, but the Royal family was aware of her and had sent Witch Hunters to (futile) make her mortal.

Lucifer was on a warpath and conquered every planet she came across as her space fleet spread throughout the cosmos. She would arrive at Earth before Christ.

So the major players are almost here the spirit of the Earth narrated, this will be the final battle of good and evil. As predestined only good can win.

The Witches Coven brought all the Cultists they mind controlled to the forests where they had a secret lair.

Ashford baptized all of the cultists with purified oil. She was ready to wage her war against the government of Earth and conquer the world. But then Alliance ships began invading Earth to put on a show for the princess whom was barely paying attention from her spacecraft. She had stopped caring after the LSD had worn off.

“Just kill them.” She said to her mother the Queen.

The Queen laughed, “That was always the plan.”

The ships began destroying the planets surface.

Raine heard the explosions and ran out of her underground lair to see what was happening. The nearby towns were devastated with fire.

Raine took Sydney, Alex, Adyson, and Lily and lead them deeper underground to escape the massacre.

Lucifer's fleet fell out of hyperspace in orbit of Earth and launched an attack on the Royal Navy.

The two fleets fought as the coven ventured further into caves they were manifesting with their powers.

Sydney spoke, "Raine I think we need a protection spell. Does that Black Bible of yours mention any?"

Raine flipped the pages, "I think I could use some of these to invent a new spell that will protect us against the blasts and falling rocks in the caves. It's a shield that will surround us."

The coven stood in a circle and chanted as a protection shield surrounded them.

Sara Christ's ship arrived in the Sol System to be hailed by the Royal Navy, "We are in a siege, we are conscripting you into battle.", the automated weaponry system on the transport took control of the ship and it's turrets began firing at Lucifer's ships.

“What is happening?!” Sara Christ exclaimed, “A battle?! Here? Don’t they know what’s on that planet!!!!!!”

A long time ago when Sara was still Jesus she fought a 7 headed dragon with Hercules and together they imprisoned it on the planet. The battle in orbit was disturbing the seal that kept the dragon imprisoned in the center of the Earth.

Sara yelled, “You have to stop the battle!!!”

A roar was heard throughout space and a giant 7 headed dragon rose up bringing Magma with it, all of Earth felt the vibrations from the roar.

Raine Ashford’s shield repelled the collapse of the cave, and they were stuck in a bubble.

Sydney laughed fearless yet seemingly hysteric, “How do we get out of here?”

Lily looked around, “I’m not sure it’s safe.”

Raine Ashford cast a scrying orb and gazed onto the surface.

“Interesting.” Alex telepathically thought. “Look at Spain.”

Raine gazed at Spain and there was a 7 headed dragon flying above it.

Christ fell on her butt, “It’s too late. I couldn’t stop them from awakening The Dragon of the Apocalypse. It will surely destroy Mary’s grave and then there won’t be enough of her left to resurrect.”

Lucifer appeared on the communication channels visual output, “I am Lucifer, The Sol System is now mine.”

Lucifer’s wings spread as she floated in space, surrounded by a battle between her fleet and the Royal fleet.

Alex pointed to the scrying orb, “Even more interesting is what’s happening in space. Is that an angel?”

Raine looked, “It’s a Deity... Hmm, we could learn how to become that powerful, let’s just watch.”

The coven agreed to study ascension.

Christ put on her combat armour, and wielded a machine gun, "I'm going down." She flipped her visor down covering her helmet.

"And here..." Alex pointed out.

"There's some serious Master Chief shit going on in space." Alex exclaimed.

The dragon screamed, "AWWWRRRRRRRRRRR YAAAA AWWWWRRRRRRR" and flapped it's wings, knocking over towers.

Sara Christ jumped out of the spaceship and the gravity of Earth started pulling her faster and faster towards it as she neared a landing on the ground.

Lucifer's ships shot at the transport ship Christ came from, exploding it mere minutes after Christ's jump.

Christ hit the ground at an impact speed that created a giant crater around her. She had arrived.

"Over here!" Sydney and Alex telepathically exclaimed, "ZOMBIES ARE ATTACKING THE CULTISTS."

Raine panicked, "Is Satan seriously here too?"

The war had found it's way to Earth, and the Apocalypse had begun.

It was chaos on the battle field, which only fed The Dragon's thirst for war.

Lara appeared as a hologram to Christ, "You need to find the Messiah while you're down there, this battle was unexpected. Prophecy says she will be able to win the war because she is righteous and pure."

Christ spoke, "She's a witch isn't she?"

Raine opened her eyes wide, "Are they talking about me? The Messiah?? Is that my destiny?"

Hell dropped out of hyperspace in the Sol System, Lucifer had brought Hell with her.

"And so it was that all of Sol would be at war." The planetary narrator narrated, "For the Day of the Apocalypse has arrived."

Apocalypse Never Happens, Author; Saviour

Satan the Demon teleported to the planets[Earth] surface for the 7 headed dragon was his pet and he was intent on spreading dystopia.

Sara was at Mary's grave, she was digging it up.

Lucifer was slicing through the Royal Navy getting her sweet revenge.

And The Coven was mostly cowering, but Raine gave them strength as she learned from Lucifer how to become a Deity. Chills would be sent up Raine's spine as she got closers to ascension.

Time was running out, and the battlefield was full of derelicts and wreckage.

Hell was devastating the Royal Navy.

The 7 Headed Dragon had destroyed Spain.

And the fabled Anti-Christ was nowhere to be found.

These were the last moments of the war.

“Remember in Sunday School when they would tell us about the rapture?”, Raine exclaimed.

“Yeah?” said Sydney.

“I think I’ve figured out how to do it. It would take a differentiation field capable of shifting everyone to paradisaal ideals and contradicting the evils within everything. But I think I know how to do it.” Raine pondered.

The coven spoke, “Then do it Raine.”.

A green light came from Raine’s body. She was glowing green.

The 4 coven members held the magical shield as Raine ascended.

Christ tried raising Mary from the dead like she did Lazarus but Mary had been dead for too long, her soul had detached from her body and only a witch could bring it back. Christ became determined to find the Messiah, but what she didn’t know was that the rapture would make resurrection moot.

Satan gathered an army of zombies and demons at the ruins of Spain, "HEAR ME UNHOLY. WE WILL BRING AN AGE OF TORMENT TO ALL OF DYSTOPIA. UGLY WILL BE THE NORM."

The zombies and demons cheered at Satan's speech against beauty.

The Witch Hunters were closing in on the coven.

Raine rose up out of the ground and from her back came wings of light. Instinctively she cast beams of holy energy at the Witch Hunters, incinerating them.

A new deity had awoken.

Lucifer was fighting the Royal Navy in orbit when hyperspace portals began opening up.

"This is it Grey's. We are everyones enemies. Attack them all!", The Grey Fleet had arrived, extremely neutral their saucers began wiping out the Royal Navy and Lucifer's Hell Fleet.

Raine's body floated above the atmosphere, holy light still shooting out of her at everything that got near.

The 7 Headed Dragon flew up into space to intercept the two deities.

“Now Raine.” CC’s voice echoed.

A differentiation field was omnipresently cast by Raine and in a flash dystopia was lost and all things transmuted to Paradise Eternal.

Evil was forever defeated.
