Bells And Bravos To Honor 'Old Ironsides' On Historic Sail

Excitement is mounting as the day nears for the United States Navy three-masted frigate, USS Constitution to sail under her own power once again - the first time that she has sailed in 116 years.

CDR. Michael C. Beck, USN, commanding officer of USS Constitution, invites all residents to Pier One in the Charlestown Navy Yard on at 7:45 a.m. on Sunday morning, July 20 for a brief program honoring the ship and her crew as they leave their homeport, Charlestown, under tow in preparation for the historic sail - her first sail since 1881. All the churches in Charlestown will join the tribute by ringing their bells at 8 a.m. Sunday morning, July 20 to honor "Old Ironsides" as she moves out into Boston Harbor under tow.

The U.S. Navy's "Operation Sail 200," celebrating the bicentennial of Old Ironsides, will feature the world's oldest commissioned warship afloat coming under sail off the coast of Mass. USS Constitution will sail with the same six-sail configuration that she normally used for battle.

The historic USS Constitution will sail in formation with two modern U.S. Navy warships and with a fly-over by Navy fighter aircraft. Operation Sail 200 will highlight the direct correlation of today's U.S. Navy and Marine Corps team, the importance of "forward presence," advanced technology, core values and the dedication and professionalism of our Sailors and Marines with the rich played by renowned cinema organist, Dennis James, and as the great sea battle erupts on film, the real ship will come alive with musketeers and cannonades.

The story begins at the Continental Congress in Philadelphia. Barbary pirates have been enslaving American sailors and treating American women passengers unspeakably. With the famous quote, "Millions for defense but not one penny for tribute," America resolved to become a great power. Old Ironsides was launched and sent to sack Tripoli, where our heroes, Wallace Beery (the bosun) and Esther Ralston (the captivating girl), are imprisoned.

Paramount spent millions of 1926 dollars building full-scale replicas, as verisimilitude was cru-

Old Ironsides To Sail Again

maritime history of the U.S.

USS Constitution, maintained as a national monument at the Charlestown Navy Yard here in Charlestown, recently completed a four-year overhaul to restore her to original hull strength. In-depth structural tests and evaluations of the ship and a lengthy training program for the crew have prepared USS Constitution for this historic voyage in Massachusetts Bay.

School-aged children from all 50 states contributed their pennies to buy the sails that will be used during the sail. The "Old Ironsides Pennies Campaign" led the nationwide effort that was coordinated by the USS Constitution Museum, a private, non-profit educational institution dedicated to preserving the heritage of USS Constitution.

The community has had a deep commitment to outfit the ship with sails. Charlestown native, CDR. Robert L. Gillen, USN (ret.), 59th in command of USS Constitution, is serving as chairman of this fund-raising effort for her sails. The Charlestown Cooperative Bank has collected the money raised for the sails at no charge to the committee. Also, the first donation of $1,000 was presented to the fund in March of 1996 by the Killilea Fund of Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion. James Conway, chairman of the post's Killilea Fund, had also promised an interest-free loan of up to $100,000 if money for the sails had not been forthcoming.

USS Constitution will be towed 17 miles from Charlestown to Marblehead on Sunday to stage the ship near the sail operation area in Massachusetts Bay. During the War of 1812, Marblehead provided USS Constitution a safe haven from two British warships. USS Constitution was last moored in Marblehead in 1931.

The ship is scheduled to engage in sail training in Massachusetts Bay between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Sunday while she is under tow. She will moor in Marblehead and later in the afternoon, the crew will disembark to spend the night on shore.

On Monday, July 21, the ship will be towed to an area of Massachusetts Bay where, at noon, tow lines will be released and her sails will be unfurled for Operation Sail 200.

The guided missile destroyer USS Ramage (DDG 61), the guided missile frigate USS Halyburton (FFG 40), and the Blue Angels Navy Flight Demonstration Team's F/A-18 Hornets will render honors to USS Constitution in tribute to the core values of "honor, courage and commitment."

The ship will return to Marblehead Harbor, getting underway by tow back to Charlestown at 3:30 p.m. A fireboat will lead Old Ironsides to sea. Between 4 and 6 p.m., the crew will conduct sail demonstrations.

Old Ironsides is scheduled to pass abreast of Castle Island at 7 p.m. with docking at Pier One in the Charlestown Navy Yard at 7:45 p.m., greeted by the music of the Pipes & Drums of Bunker Hill and the unfurling of the 90-foot Navy and Mt. Rushmore flags.

Residents are invited by CDR. Beck to come to the Charlestown Navy Yard at 7:45 p.m. on Monday, July 21 to welcome USS Constitution back to Charlestown, her homeport since 1897 after her historic sail.

A welcome home ceremony is planned and all the churches in Charlestown will once again ring their bells at 8 p.m. on Monday evening as a tribute to Old Ironsides as she completes her successful sail.

Sullivan Named 1997 Quinn Scholar

A whirlwind of academic and non-academic activities has been the norm for the 1997 Quinn Scholar, Brendan J. Sullivan.

Sullivan, the son of Patrick and Anne Sullivan of Holden Row, Charlestown, is a 1997 graduate of Boston Latin School and is the 11th winner from the country's oldest public-school.

While at Latin, Sullivan was active with the yearbook as sports editor, the history club, the Irish Historical Society and the ski club. As a member of the National Honor Society, he joins an elite group.

In September, Sullivan will enter Stonehill College with the class of 2001, and as he approaches his college career, he will experience sibling rivalry with his brother, Michael, who attends Merrimack College. His field will be business administration, with additional concentration in government and journalism. Over the summer months, he will be employed by State Street Bank, and his skills will be greatly appreciated. All associated with the Quinn Scholarship, champion Sullivan's forthcoming education career, and would like to extend their best to this exemplary student and outstanding citizen.

BRENDAN J. SULLIVAN

William Jennings Bryan's quote says it all for Sullivan, "Destiny is not a matter of chance; it is a matter of choice. It is not a thing to be waited for; it is a thing to be achieved."

THE REAL ESTATE WEEKLY

Carolyn Sideman, Monument Properties

IF YOUR LOAN IS REJECTED

You found the perfect home, but finding the perfect financing has become elusive. After completing the application process, your lender has turned you down and you're upset. Can anything be done to turn this setback around?

A lot depends on why you were turned down. If your income is too low to satisfy one mortgage company, there might be another one with more liberal qualifying guidelines. If you have had credit problems, some lenders may be more willing than others to help you clear them up in a manner that satisfies their underwriters. If your loan runs into problems, sit down with the loan officer and your realtor to investigate the possibility of using a different lender. The first company may be able to "assign" the package to a competitor, enabling you to use your same credit report and appraisal. You will need the cooperation of your sellers too. While loan rejections are disappointing, they often have happy endings.

For solid advice on buying or selling real estate, the professionals at Monument Properties are ready to serve you. Come by our office at 85 Warren St., Charlestown or call us at 241-5900.

ONE YEAR BIRTHDAY REMEMBRANCE

FRANCIS X. LANG

July 18, 1927 June 24, 1996

May you always walk in sunshine
And God's love around you flow,
For the happiness you gave us, no one will ever know.
It broke our hearts to lose you, but you did not go alone,
A part of us went with you, the day God called you home.
A million times we've needed you, a million times we've cried,
If love could only have saved you, you never would have died.

Happy Birthday in Heaven
To my husband, our devoted Dad and our cherished Gramps and Grandpa . . .
"Sending all our butterfly kisses to Heaven!"
Lovingly remembered and always sadly missed . . .

Epic Film 'Old Ironsides' To Be Shown Alongside The Ship

cial for their biggest budgeted film of the year. When an accidental fatal explosion occurred, the cameras kept running as massive spars and sails crashed the decks.

Filming went on for many extra months so the director, James Cruze, could have perfect wind and sea conditions for convincing sailing and battle shots. Seasick actors were actually lost for a couple of days in a storm which turned the director's hair gray overnight, but the film emerged with all the ingredients for a splendid Hollywood drama: history, romance, adventure and lump-in-the-throat patriotism.

The festivities will begin on Saturday night in front of the USS Constitution at the Charlestown Navy Yard with an introduction by CDR Michael C. Beck, USN, commanding officer of USS Constitution. It is his vision that has led to the ship sailing again. He will discuss why our first great warship was named for our second greatest document (after the Declaration of Independence), the Constitution, and what it means to take the risk of sailing the ship again.

Organist Dennis James

will teach the audience the early patriotic anthem Hail Columbia so that those gathered to view the film can join the patriotic throng in the film. Then, as the sources of illumination are extinguished, the mammoth screen will ignite with "... history written in light."

All are welcome to join in this bicentennial salute to Old Ironsides with the program getting underway at 8:30 p.m.

In the event of rain, the film will be shown at the same time on Sunday evening, July 20.

Laser Show And Concert Celebrates Bicentennial Of 'Old Ironsides'

photos by Kathy Whitehouse

The history of USS Constitution and her 200 years of service to this nation rode on the waves of laser beams, as music and the brilliance of fireworks saw the ship from her launching in 1797 through her mighty battles to coming to call Charlestown her homeport 100 years ago was the highlight of a special Bicentennial celebration on June 16, part of the Bunker Hill Day festivities.

Sponsor of the laser show was the Bunker Hill Day Commemorative Committee, in cooperation with the Boston National Historical Park, the city of Boston, USS Constitution and Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion.

Financial support was provided by corporate sponsors, The Flatley Company and John Hancock Financial Services.

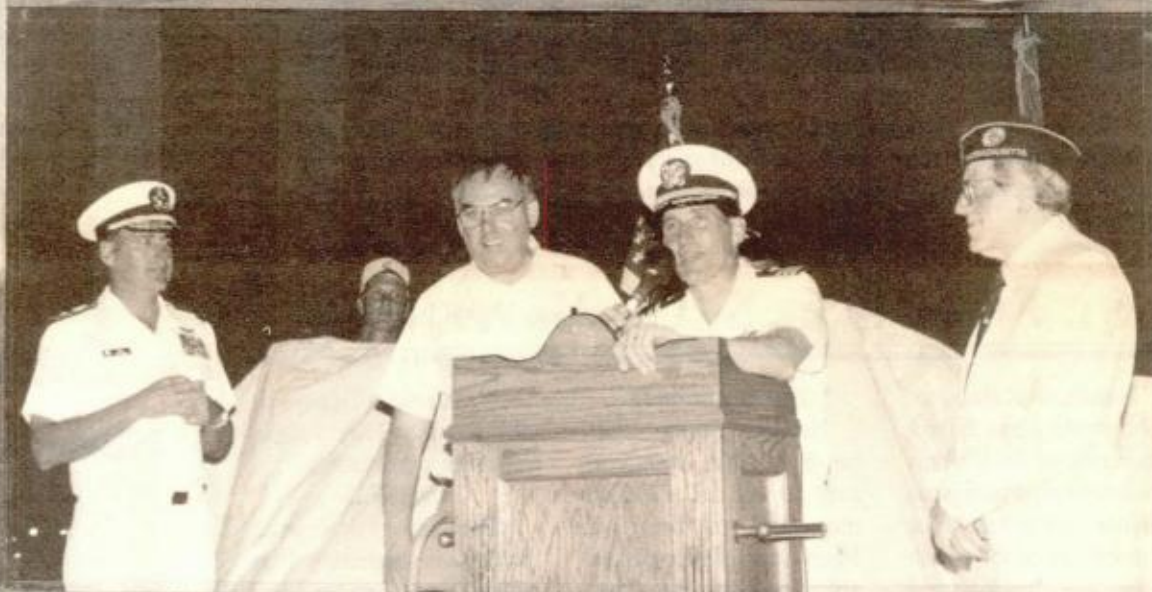

Entertainment by the Pipes and Drums of Bunker Hill and the Starlight Orchestra helped pass the time until dark and the start of the show, which was produced by Image Engineering of Somerville.

The show featured laser graphics and animation projected against the side of the former chocolate factory building next to "Old Ironsides" and off the sails of the ship while laser beams and sheets of light danced over the heads of the estimated 3,000 people in the audience.

Music ranged from the modern to the patriotic, and some music even brought a tear to more than one eye.

Organizing and planning the laser show were Chairman Jim Conway and Co-chairmen Bill Foley, chief of interpretation for the Boston National Historical Park, and Gloria Conway, publisher of The Patriot.

Special guests for the performance included RADM. Arthur N. "Bud" Langston, USN, director of Navy staff, the 1997 Monument Orator, and CMDR. Michael C. Beck, USN, commanding officer of USS Constitution, the chief marshal of this year's Bunker Hill Day Parade.

MUSIC FILLED THE AIR on Pier One in the Charlestown Navy Yard on June 16 as several thousand persons gathered to await the spectacular laser show and fireworks, accented with a cannonade, dedicated to the Bicentennial of the commissioning and launching of USS CONSTITUTION in 1797 and marking the 100 years that Charlestown has been her homeport. Several views of the laser show and fireworks, produced by Image Engineering of Somerville, are shown on page nine. TOP ROW: On the left, RADM. Arthur N. "Bud" Langston, USN, director Navy staff and 1997 Monument Orator, is presented an engraved pewter plaque of USS CONSTITUTION by Jim Conway, chairman of the Bunker Hill Day Commemorative Committee, prior to the June 16th laser show. The plaque was designed by Charlestown artist Tom Gorsuch. Shown (l. to r.) Langston, Conway and CDR. Michael C. Beck, USN, commanding officer of USS CONSTITUTION and 1997 Bunker Hill Day Parade Chief Marshal. . . . On the right is the Pipes and Drums of Bunker Hill, a new band formed by local musicians who has been representing Charlestown at many area parades and events. SECOND ROW: On the right, CDR. Michael C. Beck, USN, commanding officer of USS CONSTITUTION, presents a Jib sail to the Bunker Hill Museum. The sail was made in the 1980s in the Charlestown Navy Yard for CONSTITUTION by school children. Shown (l. to r.) RADM. Arthur N. "Bud" Langston, USN, director Navy staff; Arthur L. Hurley, president of the

Boston National Historical Park Hosting 'Arts For The Parks' Exhibit

As part of the celebration of the bicentennial of the USS Constitution, Boston National Historical Park is hosting "Arts for the Parks." This national competition created by the National Park Academy of the Arts, in cooperation with the National Park Foundation, honors the artists who have best captured the spirit of our National Parks, both natural and historic.

Each year, artists from around the country submit paintings depicting subjects from over 370 national parks and monuments.

The "Top 100" paintings from the 1996 competition are on exhibit at Boston National Historical Park in Building 5 at the Charlestown Navy Yard daily from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. through Sept. 6. This is the only east coast venue for this exhibit and is the final stop on the tour.

The Arts for the Parks Top 100 Exhibition has become known as one of the outstanding displays of American representational paintings in the country and a well-respected showcase for established and "emerging" artists from around the world.

In addition to the awards offered by the National Park Academy of the Arts, Boston National Historical Park sponsored a purchase award for paintings celebrating the struggle for freedom represented by sites along the Freedom Trail and the Black Heritage Trail. The winning painting is a watercolor of USS Constitution in dry dock by artist Donald Stoltzenberg of Massachusetts. This painting, as well as the six finalists out of the 45 entries submitted for this award, is on display along with the Top 100 paintings.

Money Matters

"Let us assist you in your business and tax planning"

by Nicholas C. Pino
Counsellor to Small Businesses

VACATION TIME? NOT FOR TAX PLANNING

Summer is vacation time, and you might find it appealing to take a vacation from financial matters, including tax planning. But if you want a lower tax bill for 1997, midyear is an excellent time to size up your tax situation and make the necessary adjustments to your tax-cutting strategies.

First, do an estimate of your income for 1997. Then consider which tax-cutting strategies will work best for you. Some ideas to consider:

- If you own a business, consider hiring your children to work for you. Your business gets a tax deduction for the wages paid, and your child pays no income tax on earnings up to $4,150. So you've cut the overall family tax bill. Be sure the wages paid are reasonable for the work performed.

- As you review your investment portfolio, consider investing in nontaxable municipal bonds. Work through the numbers here to be sure you're not passing up a better taxable investment that will return higher after-tax dollars than a non-taxable investment such as munis.

- Review your debt. If any of the interest you're paying is not tax-deductible (such as interest on auto loans, credit cards or school loans), consider paying off the debt or converting it to debt that will allow for deductible interest (such as a home-equity loan, where available).

- Don't overlook the 1996 changes in the tax law that could cut your 1997 taxes significantly. For example, married couples with only one wage-earner can now contribute up to $4,000 to their IRAs (an increase from $2,250). If you're adopting a child, check into the new adoption tax credit. Certain long-term health care insurance and long-term care costs are now tax deductible. A pilot program for medical savings accounts went into effect this year. If you qualify for one of these accounts, your contributions to the plan would be tax-deductible, and withdrawals to pay medical expenses would be tax-free.

If you'd like details on the best 1997 tax-cutting ideas for your specific circumstances, contact our office. We're here to help you minimize your taxes.

BOB D'S BEAT BY BOB DeCRISTOFORO

♣ Stephanie O'Sullivan . . . I was pleasantly surprised when I ran into Stephanie O'Sullivan of Dorchester at the Community Center the other day. She dropped by to conduct a clinic and give a little talk to the day campers. Stephanie who?, you might ask. Stephanie O'Sullivan is one of the nicest girls you would ever want to meet. She was a college hockey star at Providence, and she now skates on the USA Women's Team, which will be competing in the upcoming Winter Olympic Games in Japan. This will be the first Olympics in which Women's Hockey will be a medal sport. Like her brother, Chris, who plays for the Calgary Flames, she never forgets where she came from and, similar to Chris, always wants to give back to her community. This visit to Charlestown is just one of her "giving back" efforts. The O'Sullivans are people I am very proud to call friends. Thanks to good pal Billy Stoddard of the Boston PAL for making the visit possible.

♣ Cablevision Jam Session - Hoop-It-Up comes to Boston this weekend thanks to Cablevision and, in particular, Joanna MacDonald, a few more Charlestown teams and a North End team, will be joining the Russell Grogett team, on the blacktop at the Bayside Expo Center.

Additional Townies now participating are the team of Freddy Arroyo, Chet Ferreira, Scott Moses and Anthony Sorrentino, and the team of Daniel Crump, Clinton MacDougall, Angel LeBron and Phil Carey.

Over in the North End, Cablevision is sponsoring the team of Marco Imbergamo, Marius Savino and Christian Trotta. Yes, people in the North End do read the Patriot!

Entry fee into Hoop-It-Up and similar competition is in the $100 and up range and Cablevision is giving young people of our area and other Boston neighborhoods the opportunity to compete.

♣ Police Family Fun Day . . . Capt. Conway, commanding officer of Area A-1, and all the officers of the Boston Police Department invite you to the annual Charlestown Family Fun Day on Thursday, July 24 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Doherty Playground on Bunker Hill Street.

In addition to the great cookout, there will be the Police K-9 show, pony rides, the bike patrol unit, caricatures and face painting by Ken Partello and much more.

This program is sponsored by Capt. Conway, the Community Partnership Program "On The Beat," and the Gang Resistance Education and Training (GREAT) program.

♣ Bay State Games . . . The 1997 Bay State Games are now underway at various venues around the city. There will be some great competitions and great competitors. My week will be spent over at Boston University where I will be involved with the hockey competition as a Bay State Game volunteer. Come on over and keep me company!

♣ PAL Basketball . . . Five teams are currently involved in the PAL Summer Basketball League, which is now underway at the Monument Street Basketball Court. The league operates around our very successful BN-BL program and has introduced basketball to many new participants.

Players taking part are Edward Delgado, John Moncon, Jose Zayas, Antonio Cepeda, Danny Cruz, Lolo Rosa, John Cepeda, Charlie Sierra, Tikio Patron, Jason Castillio, Angel LeBron, Luis Cruz, Wilkin Peguro, Triton Rios, Mike O'Brien, Fred Arroyo, Bob Yandle, Eli Mundale, Arron Mundale, Julian Mundale, Shaun James, Carlos Vega, Darwin Mendoza, Jimmy Joseph, Anthony Gilliard, Tino Nieves, Kyle Egleston, Hakim Daniels, Frank McPherson, Scott Moses, Paul Doherty, Mike O'Neil, Anthony Shea, Mike Centola, Corey Hollien and Jason Sousa.

Special thanks to Youth Officer Teddy Boyle and to my own Andy Puopolo Summer of Success participants who staff the program.

Stars of the week: Edward Delgado - Blue, Angel LeBron - Light Blue and Bobby Yandle - Orange.

Standings as of July 14: Blue 3-0, White 2-0, Orange 1-2, Light Blue 0-2 and Red 0-2.

♣ Arena Football . . . My learning summer continued this week with Arena Football being the new sport. The Florida Bobcats and the New York City Hawks were at the Fleet Center to showcase their talents. Thanks to Mayor Tom Menino and the FleetCenter Community Service Corporation, young people from every Boston neighborhood had the opportunity to attend this fast-paced game. Of course, a large number of Charlestown youth were in attendance.

On Friday, 18 young Townies, all members of the Andy Puopolo Summer of Success program, took part in a special Arena Football clinic given by Florida Bobcat Coach Babe Parilli and his Florida team. This was a hands-on, get involved clinic right on the FleetCenter "field," led by a number of football pre-game calisthenics! It was really an enjoyable experience, and everyone who made the day and weekend possible are to be commended for their efforts. You gave our Charlestown kids a great opportunity, and the Florida Bobcats proved what pro athletes are supposed to be all about.

Among the participants were Freddy Arroyo, Bart Rosher, Edward Delgado, Mike Melaugh, Anthony Shea, Lolo Rosa, Jose Zayas, Frank McPherson and Mike O'Neil.

♣ Roller Hockey . . . Rain put a little dampener on the first week of play in the Roller Blade Senior Division schedule, but in the season openers we saw Newtowne top Jiffy, Main Street upend 5-4-3's, and the Untouchables shock Dunstable Street. The games scheduled for July 10 will be made up.

Upcoming games: Tuesday, July 22 - Jiffy vs. 5-4-3's at 6 p.m., Newtowne vs. Untouchables at 6:45 p.m. and Main Street vs. Dunstable at 7:30 p.m.

♣ Mayor's Cup, Hoop Camp, Etc. . . . Southie's Columbus Park would be a good place to spend part of the weekend. The Mayor's Cup Baseball Tournament is underway and our Charlestown teams have advanced to the semifinals.

Jon Jones has just completed a week at the Boston University Basketball Camp. Officer Ted Boyle helped to make it possible and special thanks to Daddy Jones for providing the transportation! Bucky Jones was quite a basketball player himself.

Speaking of camp, the young people who are attending the National Sports Program at UMass-Boston are having a great summer. The camp is all booked this year. Hopefully those who called me in recent days will sign up early next summer.

The Football Townies hope to get in the win column when they play the Cowboys this Saturday, July 19, at 6 p.m. on the road in Brighton.

Special thanks to John Stella, John Wrenn and Kevin Lundin for their help with the first annual North End Cup!

♣ Tidbits . . . Birthday best to Mike O'Neil . . . Freddy, how much is six and six? . . . Brian Ward, welcome to Fenway Park! . . . Glad to see the "Commish" Paul Martell back at work . . . Hello to Anne Kelly . . . Jen Ray, nice haircut!

Smile!

Burke Takes Part In Outward Bound Program

Catherine Burke of Charlestown, recently completed an Outward Bound expedition called Connecting With Courage at Thompson Island Outward Bound Educational Center in Boston Harbor.

The Connecting With Courage program, which is designed for early adolescent girls ages 12 and 13, gives its participants an opportunity to celebrate physical and creative successes as a means of self-discovery.

During the 14-day course, Burke participated in sailing and navigating around Boston Harbor, trekking through the White Mountains, and creative arts, all of which promote the importance of leadership, self-confidence and teamwork.

Thompson Island Outward Bound Educational Center was founded in 1988 and serves over 5,000 students every year. The island's natural environment provides children with an alternative backdrop for learning and enrichment.

For more information regarding Connecting With Courage or other TIOBEC programs, call 328-3900, ext. 36.

Hundreds Of Runners Take To The Streets Of Town In The Charlestown Boys & Girls Club Benefit Road Races

This year's running of the Battle of Bunker Hill Road Race on June 15 saw over 600 participants racing down the streets of Charlestown. Of particular excitement was the two-mile Novice Race which had 170 finishers. This was a dramatic increase over last year's total of 110. There was also an increase in the number of Parent/Child teams with 17 in this year's race. The top team was Bobby and Robert Holt of Pembroke, followed closely by Matthew and Eric Philippi of Charlestown.

The 8K saw 441 finishers of whom 133 were Charlestown residents. The top Charlestown finishers were Tommy Lynch with 26:26, and Elizabeth Persichetty with 36:56. In the team competition, the overall winner was the Boston Athletic Association while the repeat winner of the Charlestown Challenge Cup was Shear Delight.

Thanks go out to everyone who contributed to this year's race, the runners, the volunteers who give support, direction and, most importantly, water to the runners, and to all the residents who line the course cheering them on. Thanks also to the MGH*Charlestown Health-Care Center staff, the Boston Redevelopment Authority, the Knights of Columbus, Ned Roselle, the Boston Police and the Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee. Finally, a special thanks is extended to Ted Raymond of The Raymond Group who has sponsored this race for seven years, and to The Home Depot, who was a second-year sponsor. Without all this help, the Boys & Girls Club couldn't continue to do what it does all year round, which is to give Charlestown youth a place to grow and learn.

Help Needed For Charlestown National Night Out

The "14th Annual National Night Out" (NNO), a unique crime/drug prevention event sponsored by the National Association of Town Watch (NATW), has been scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 5. Winn Management/CharlesNewtown, Peabody Properties/Mishawum and Boston Housing/Bunker Hill are collaborating on making NNO a great success in Charlestown. We cordially invite you to be a part of Charlestown's Night Out 1997 team.

National Night Out is designed to: (1) Heighten crime and drug prevention awareness; (2) Generate support for, and participation in, local anti-crime programs; (3) Strengthen neighborhood spirit and police-community partnerships; and (4) Send a message to criminals letting them know that neighborhoods are organized and fighting back.

We would be honored to have your participation in making our NNO program a success.

We are asking for monetary contributions for our "Wish List." Any contributions would be appreciated and will be advertised that night and recognized in The Patriot.

National Night Out Wish List includes: two gas grills, a large helium tank and balloons, a dunk tank (carnival theme items), 100 t-shirts for volunteers at $5.50 each, transportation, staging and lighting, donations from local businesses for raffles, and food donations for approximately 1,000 people (hot dogs, rolls, individual bags of chips, condiments, etc.).

Please call 241-9487 if you have any questions. Nancy Ruby, CharlesNewtown resident services coordinator, is also available to answer any questions at 395-3540.

Sincerely,
Terry Ring
