DRAFT

COUNCIL DIRECTIVE

amending Directive 2011/16/EU on administrative cooperation in the field of taxation

THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Articles 113 and 115 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Parliament¹,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee²,

Acting in accordance with a special legislative procedure,

Whereas:

- (1) Tax fraud, tax evasion and tax avoidance represent a major challenge for the Union and at global level. Exchange of information is pivotal in the fight against such practices.
- (2) The European Parliament has stressed the political importance of fair taxation and of fighting tax fraud, tax evasion and tax avoidance, including through greater administrative cooperation and exchange of information between Member States.

- (3) On 1 December 2021 the European Council approved a report from the Council (Ecofin) requesting the European Commission to table in 2022 a legislative proposal containing further revisions to Council Directive 2011/16/EU³, concerning exchange of information on crypto-assets and tax rulings for wealthy individuals.⁴
- (4) The European Court of Auditors published a report examining the legal framework and implementation of the Directive. That report concludes that the overall framework of Directive 2011/16/EU is solid, but that some provisions need to be strengthened in order to ensure that the full potential of the exchange of information is exploited and the effectiveness of the automatic exchange of information is measured. The report furthermore concludes that the scope of the Directive should be enlarged in order to cover additional categories of assets and income, such as crypto-assets.
- (5) The crypto-asset market has gained in importance and increased its capitalisation substantially and rapidly over the last 10 years. Crypto-assets are a digital representation of a value or of a right, which is able to be transferred and stored electronically, using distributed ledger technology or similar technology.
- (6) Member States have rules and guidance in place, albeit different across Member States, to tax income derived from crypto-asset transactions. However, the decentralised nature of crypto-assets makes it difficult for Member States' tax administrations to ensure tax compliance.

⁴ Document 14651/21, FISC 227, Ecofin report to the European Council on tax issues.

- (7) Regulation XXX on Markets in Crypto-assets of the European Parliament and the Council⁵ (the Regulation XXX) has expanded the Union regulatory perimeter to issues of crypto-assets that had so far not been regulated by Union financial services acts as well as providers of services in relation to such crypto-assets (‘crypto-asset service providers’). The Regulation XXX sets out definitions that are used for the purposes of this Directive. This Directive also takes into account the authorisation requirement for crypto-asset service providers under Regulation XXX in order to minimise administrative burden for the crypto-asset service providers. The inherent cross-border nature of crypto-assets requires strong international administrative cooperation to ensure effective regulation.
- (8) The Union’s Anti-Money Laundering/Countering the Financing of Terrorism framework (AML/CFT) extends the scope of obliged entities subject to AML/CFT rules, to crypto-asset service providers regulated by Regulation XXX. In addition, the Regulation XXX extends the obligation of payment service providers to accompany transfers of funds with information on the payer and payee to crypto-assets services providers to ensure the traceability of transfers of crypto-assets for the purpose of fighting against money laundering and terrorism financing.
- (9) At international level, the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) Crypto-Asset Reporting Framework⁶ aims at introducing greater tax transparency on crypto-assets and its reporting. Union rules should take into account the framework developed by the OECD in order to increase effectiveness of information exchange and to reduce the administrative burden. In implementing this Directive, Member States should use the Commentaries on the Model Competent Authority Agreement and the Crypto-Asset Reporting Framework, developed by the OECD, as sources of illustration or interpretation and in order to ensure consistency in application across Member States.

- (10) Council Directive 2011/16/EU⁷ lays down obligations for financial intermediaries to report financial account information to tax administrations that are then required to exchange this information with other relevant Member States. However, most crypto-assets are not obliged to be reported under that Directive because they do not constitute money held in a depository accounts nor in financial assets. In addition, crypto-asset service providers as well as crypto-asset operators are in most cases not covered by the existing definition of financial institutions under Directive 2011/16/EU.
- (11) In order to address new challenges arising from the growing use of alternative means of payment and investment, which pose new risks of tax evasion and are not yet covered by Directive 2011/16/EU, the rules on reporting and exchange of information should cover crypto-assets and their users.
- (12) In order to ensure the proper functioning of the internal market, the reporting should be both effective, simple and clearly defined. Detecting taxable events that occur while investing in crypto-assets is difficult. Reporting crypto-asset service providers are best placed to collect and verify the necessary information on their users. The administrative burden should be minimised for the industry so that it is able to develop its full potential within the Union.
- (13) The automatic exchange of information between tax authorities is crucial to provide them with the necessary information to enable them to correctly assess the amounts of income taxes due. The reporting obligation should cover both cross-border and domestic transactions, in order to ensure the effectiveness of the reporting rules, the proper functioning of the internal market, a level playing field and respect of the principle of non-discrimination.

- (14) The Directive applies to crypto-assets service providers regulated by and authorised under Regulation XXX and to crypto-asset operators that are not. Both are referred to as reporting crypto-asset service providers as they are required to report under this Directive. The general understanding of what constitutes crypto-assets is very broad and includes those crypto-assets that have been issued in a decentralised manner, as well as stablecoins, including e-money tokens as defined in Regulation XXX and certain non-fungible tokens (NFTs). Crypto-assets that can be used for payment or investment purposes are reportable under this Directive. Therefore, reporting crypto-asset service providers should consider on a case-by-case basis whether crypto-assets cannot be used for payment and investment purposes, taking into account the exemptions provided in Regulation XXX, in particular in relation to a limited network and certain utility tokens.
- (15) In order to enable tax administrations to analyse the information they receive and to use it in accordance with national provisions, for example, for matching of information and valuation of assets and capital gains, it is appropriate to introduce the reporting and exchange of information that is sub-divided in relation to each crypto-asset with respect to which the crypto-asset user made transactions.
- (16) In order to ensure uniform conditions for the implementation of provisions on automatic exchange of information between competent authorities, implementing powers should be conferred on the Commission to adopt practical arrangements necessary for the implementation of the mandatory automatic exchange of information reported by reporting crypto-asset service providers, including a standard form for the exchange of information. Those powers should be exercised in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council⁸.

⁸ Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 February 2011 laying down the rules and general principles concerning mechanisms for control by the Member States of the Commission's exercise of implementing powers (OJ L 55, 28.2.2011, p. 13).

- (17) Crypto-asset service providers covered by Regulation XXX may exercise their activity in the Union through passporting once they have received their authorisation in a Member State. For these purposes, ESMA holds a register with authorised crypto-asset service providers. Additionally, ESMA also maintains a blacklist of operators exercising crypto-asset services that require an authorisation under Regulation XXX.
- (18) Crypto-asset operators that do not fall under the scope of that Regulation but are obliged to report information on the crypto-asset users resident in the EU pursuant to this Directive should be required to register in one single Member State for the purpose of complying with their reporting obligations.
- (19) In order to foster administrative cooperation in this field with non-Union jurisdictions, crypto-asset operators that meet certain conditions should be allowed to solely report information on crypto-asset users resident in the Union to the tax authorities of a non-Union jurisdiction, insofar as the reported information is correspondent to the information set out in this Directive and insofar as there is an effective qualifying competent authority agreement in place. ~~Crypto-asset service providers authorised under Regulation XXX could be exempt from reporting such information in the Member State where it is holding the authorisation if the correspondent reporting takes place in a non-Union Jurisdiction and insofar as there is an effective qualifying competent authority agreement in place.~~ The qualified non-Union jurisdiction would in turn communicate such information to the tax administrations of those Member States where crypto-asset users are resident. Where appropriate, that mechanism should be enabled to prevent correspondent information from being reported and transmitted more than once.

- (20) In order to ensure uniform conditions for the implementation of this Directive, implementing powers should be conferred on the Commission to determine whether information required to be exchanged pursuant to an agreement between the competent authorities of a Member State and a non-Union jurisdiction is correspondent to that specified in this Directive. Those powers should be exercised in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council. More specifically, the Commission should, by means of implementing acts, determine whether information required to be exchanged pursuant to an agreement between the competent authorities of a Member State and a non-Union jurisdiction is correspondent to that specified in this Directive. Given that the conclusion of agreements with non-Union jurisdictions on administrative cooperation in the area of direct taxation remains within the competence of Member States, the Commission's action could also be triggered by a request from a Member State. For that purpose, it is necessary that, following the request of a Member State, the determination of correspondence could also be made in advance of an envisaged conclusion of such an agreement. Where the exchange of such information is based on a multilateral competent authority agreement, the decision on correspondence should be taken in relation to the whole of the relevant framework covered by such a competent authority agreement. Nevertheless, it should still remain possible to take the decision on correspondence, where appropriate, concerning a bilateral competent authority agreement.
- (21) Insofar as the international standard on the reporting and automatic exchange of information on crypto-assets, OECD's Crypto-Asset Reporting Framework, is a minimum standard or equivalent, which establishes a minimum scope and content of jurisdictions' implementation thereof, the determination of correspondence of this Directive and the OECD's Crypto-Asset Reporting Framework by the Commission, by means of an implementing act, should not be required provided that there is an effective qualifying competent authority agreement in place between the non-Union jurisdictions and all Member States.

- (22) Although the G20 endorsed the OECD Crypto-Asset Reporting Framework and recommended its implementation, no decision has been taken yet on whether it would be considered as a minimum standard or equivalent. Pending this decision, this Directive includes two different approaches for determining correspondence.
- (23) This Directive does not substitute any wider obligations arising from Regulation XXX.
- (24) In order to foster convergence and promote consistent supervision of this Directive and Regulation XXX, competent authorities should cooperate with other national authorities or institutions and share relevant information.
- (25) The relieving of the registration and reporting obligations as provided for in this Directive, which is dependent upon the determination of correspondent reporting and exchange mechanisms in relation to non-Union jurisdictions and Member States, should only be understood to apply in the area of taxation especially for the purpose of this Directive and should not be conceived as a basis for recognising correspondence in other areas of EU law.

- (26) It is crucial to reinforce the provisions of Directive 2011/16/EU concerning the information to be reported or exchanged to adapt to new developments of different markets and consequently effectively tackle identified conducts for tax fraud, tax avoidance and tax evasion. Those provisions should reflect the developments observed in the internal market and at international level leading to an effective reporting and exchange of information. Consequently, this Directive includes among others the latest amendments to the Common Reporting Standard⁹ of the OECD, the integration of e-money and central bank digital currency provisions and the extension of the scope of the automatic exchange of information regarding advance cross-border rulings to certain rulings regarding natural persons. In implementing the latest amendments to the Common Reporting Standard, as included in this Directive, and as already mentioned in the recitals to Directive 2014/107/EU with respect to the original version of the Common Reporting Standard, Member States should use the Commentaries on the Model Competent Authority Agreement and the Common Reporting Standard, now including the latest amendments to the Common Reporting Standard, developed by the OECD, as sources of illustration or interpretation and in order to ensure consistency in application across Member States.
- (27) Electronic money, as defined by Directive 2009/110/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council¹⁰ are frequently used in the Union and the volume of transactions, and their combined value increases steadily. Electronic money are however not explicitly covered by Directive 2011/16/EU. Member States adopt diverse approaches to electronic money. As a result, related products are not always covered by the existing categories of income and capital of Directive 2011/16/EU. Rules should therefore be introduced ensuring that reporting obligations apply to electronic money.

- (28) In order to close loopholes that allow tax evasion, tax avoidance and tax fraud, Member States should be required to exchange information related to income derived from non-custodial dividends. Income from non-custodial dividends should therefore be included in the categories of income subject to automatic exchange of information.
- (29) The Tax Identification Number (TIN) is essential for Member States to match information received with data present in national databases. It increases Member States' capability of identifying the relevant taxpayers and correctly assessing the related taxes. Therefore, it is important that Member States include the TIN of reported individuals and entities in the reporting and communication of information in the context of exchanges related to categories of income and capital subject to mandatory automatic exchange of information, financial accounts, advance cross-border rulings and advance pricing agreements, country-by-country reports, reportable cross-border arrangements, information on sellers on digital platforms and crypto-assets.

- (29a) In order to increase the availability of the TIN to the competent authorities of Member States, each Member State should take the necessary measures to require that the TIN of individuals and entities issued by the Member State of residence is reported with respect to income from employment, director's fees and pensions. Furthermore, and in view of increasing the obtainability of the TIN to the competent authorities of Member States, each Member State should take the necessary measures to require that the TIN of individuals and entities issued by the Member State of residence is reported with respect to advance cross-border rulings and advance pricing arrangements, country-by-country reports and reportable cross-border arrangements. Such measures may include, but are not limited to, the introduction, at the latest by the transposition deadline set out in this Directive, of domestic legal requirements to report the TIN. Moreover, following the entry into force of the Council Directive (EU) 2022/2523 of 14 December 2022 on ensuring a global minimum level of taxation for multinational enterprise groups and large-scale domestic groups in the Union, and in the light of the rules on safe harbours set out in that Directive, it is important to ensure proper matching, in the context of the mandatory automatic exchange of information on country-by-country reports pursuant to the Directive 2011/16/EU. However, it is also recognised by the Member States that there may be rare situations where it is simply not possible for the reporting entity or the reporting individual to collect and report the TIN. This may include where, despite best efforts, the reporting entity or the reporting individual has not been able to collect the TIN or where a TIN has not been issued to the taxpayer.
- (29b) Each Member State should include, where it has been obtained by the competent authority of the Member State, the TIN of individuals and entities issued by the Member State of residence in the exchanges related to advance cross-border rulings and advance pricing arrangements, country-by-country reports and reportable cross-border arrangements.

- (30) The absence of exchange of rulings concerning natural persons means that tax administrations of Member States concerned may not be aware of those rulings. That situation risks creating opportunities for tax fraud, tax evasion and tax avoidance. Therefore, as well as in order to reduce administrative burden, automatic exchange of advance cross-border rulings should extend to such rulings where the amount of the transaction or series of transactions referred to in the advance cross-border ruling exceeds a specific threshold.
- (31) Advance cross-border rulings that determine whether a person is or is not a resident for tax purposes in the Member State issuing the ruling should also be exchanged automatically. However, in the interest of proportionality, and in order to reduce administrative burden, some common forms of advance cross-border rulings which may include an element of determination of whether a natural person is or is not resident for tax purposes in a Member State should not, solely on this ground, be subject to the exchange of information on advance cross-border tax rulings. Advance cross-border rulings on taxation at source with regard to non-residents' income from employment, director's fees and pensions should not be exchanged, unless the amount of the transaction or series of transactions of the advance cross-border ruling exceeds the threshold.
- (32) A number of Member States are expected to introduce identification services as a simplified and standardised means of identification of service providers and taxpayers. The Member States who wish to make use of that format for identification should be allowed to do so provided that it does not affect the flow and quality of information of other Member States that do not use such identification services. Therefore, the use of identification services should not affect the due diligence procedures or the requirements to collect information. Furthermore, if what is said above diverges from the OECD's corresponding standards on automatic exchange of information in certain respects, the provisions in this Directive regarding the use of identification services should not impact the determination of whether information reported and exchanged pursuant to an agreement between the competent authorities of a Member State and a non-Union jurisdiction is equivalent or corresponding to that specified in this Directive.

- (33) It is important that, as a matter of principle, the information communicated under Directive 2011/16/EU is used for the assessment, administration and enforcement of taxes which are covered by the material scope of that Directive. While this was not precluded so far, uncertainties regarding the use of information have arisen due to unclear framework. Given the interlinks between tax fraud, evasion and avoidance and anti-money laundering and the synergies in terms of enforcement, it is appropriate to clarify that information communicated between Member States may also be used for the assessment, administration and enforcement of customs duties and for anti-money laundering and combating the financing of terrorism.
- (34) [deleted]
- (35) Considering the amount and the nature of the information collected and exchanged on the basis of Directive 2011/16/EU, it can be useful in certain further areas. While the use of this information in other areas should as a general rule be restricted to areas approved by the sending Member State in accordance with the provisions of this Directive, there is a need to allow for a broader use of the information in situations presenting particular and serious characteristics and where it has been agreed at Union level to take action. Such situations would in particular be those where decisions have been taken pursuant to Article 215 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union regarding restrictive measures. Indeed, information exchanged under Directive 2011/16/EU may be very relevant for the detection of violation or circumvention of restrictive measures. In return, any potential breaches of the sanctions will be relevant for tax purposes, since avoidance of restrictive measures will in most cases also amount to tax avoidance in relation to these assets. Given the likely synergies and close link between the two areas, authorising a further use of the data is therefore appropriate.

- (35a) It is essential that the information communicated under Directive 2011/16/EU is used by the competent authority of each Member State which receives this information. Therefore, it is appropriate to require the competent authority of each Member State to put in place an effective mechanism to ensure the use of information acquired through the reporting or the exchange of information under Directive 2011/16/EU. Such use of information may include, for instance, voluntary compliance programs, notifications to generate disclosure, awareness campaigns, prefilling tax returns, risk assessments, limited audits, general audits, tax coding, tax estimation, assimilation into domestic systems and other tax-related measures.
- (36) In order to enhance the efficient use of resources, facilitate the exchange of information and avoid the need for each Member State to make similar changes to their systems for storing information, a central directory should be established for information to be communicated on crypto-assets, accessible to all Member States and only for statistical purposes to the Commission, to which Member States would upload and store reported information, instead of exchanging that information by secured email. Member States should only be permitted to access data in that central directory relating to their own residents. All access and restrictions of access to the central directory should be in line with requirements under Regulation (EU) 2016/679. The practical arrangements necessary for the establishment of such central directory should be adopted by the Commission.
- (37) In order to ensure uniform conditions for the implementation of this Directive, the Commission should be empowered to adopt an implementing act to develop a tool allowing an electronic and automated verification of the correctness of the TIN that has been provided by the taxpayer or the reporting person. Those powers should be exercised in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council. The IT tool to be provided to Member States should help increase the matching rates for tax administrations and improve the quality of the exchanged information in general.

- (38) The minimum retention period of records of information obtained through exchange of information between Member States pursuant to Directive 2011/16/EU should be no longer than necessary but, in any event, not shorter than 5 years. Member States should not retain information longer than necessary to achieve the purposes of this Directive.
- (38a) Reporting Financial Institutions, intermediaries, Reporting Platform Operators, Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Providers or competent authorities of Member States are data controllers within the meaning of Regulation (EU) 2016/679. Where two or more of these controllers jointly determine the purposes and means of processing of personal data they are considered to be joint controllers. For example, competent authorities of Member States are considered to be joint controllers of the central directory, having jointly agreed on the personal data to be processed and the manner of processing.
- (39) In order to ensure a proper enforcement of the rules under this Directive, Member States should lay down rules on penalties applicable to infringements of national provisions adopted pursuant to provisions of this Directive on mandatory automatic exchange of information reported by reporting crypto-asset service providers, and should take all necessary measures to ensure that they are implemented. While the choice of penalties remains within the discretion of Member States, the penalties provided for should be effective, proportionate and dissuasive.
- (40) [deleted]
- (41) [deleted]
- (42) For the sake of harmonising the timing between the evaluation of the application of Directive 2011/16/EU and the biennial evaluation of the relevance of hallmarks in Annex IV of this Directive, the timing of these evaluation processes should be aligned.

- (42a) Taking into account the judgment of the Court of Justice of the European Union in Case C-694/20, Directive 2011/16/EU should be amended in such a manner that its provisions do not have the effect of requiring a lawyer acting as an intermediary, where he or she is exempt from the reporting obligation, on account of the legal professional privilege by which he or she is bound, to notify any other intermediary who is not his or her client of that intermediary's reporting obligations. However, any intermediary who, because of the legal professional privilege by which he or she is bound, is exempt from the reporting obligation, should remain required to notify without delay his or her client of his or her reporting obligations.
- (43) The European Data Protection Supervisor was consulted in accordance with Article 42 of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council.¹¹
- (44) This Directive respects the fundamental rights and observes the principles recognised by the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union. In particular, this Directive ensures full respect for the right of protection of personal data enshrined in Article 8 of the Charter. In this regard, it is important to recall that Regulation (EU) 2016/679 and Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 apply to the processing of personal data under Directive 2011/16/EU. Furthermore, this Directive seeks to ensure full respect for the freedom to conduct business.
- (45) Since the objective of Directive 2011/16/EU, namely the efficient administrative cooperation between Member States under conditions compatible with the proper functioning of the internal market, cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States but can rather, by reason of the uniformity and effectiveness required, be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Directive does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve that objective.

(46) Directive 2011/16/EU should therefore be amended accordingly,

HAS ADOPTED THIS DIRECTIVE:

(a) paragraph 4 is replaced by the following:

‘4. Paragraphs 1 and 2 shall not apply in a case where an advance cross-border ruling exclusively concerns and involves the tax affairs of one or more natural persons, except where such an advance cross-border ruling was issued, amended or renewed after 1 January 2026 and where

When establishing the relationship with the Individual Crypto-Asset User, or with respect to Pre-existing Individual Crypto-Asset Users by 12 months after the entry of force of this Directive, the Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider shall obtain a self-certification that allows the Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider to determine the Individual Crypto-Asset User's residence(s) for tax purposes and confirm the reasonableness of such self-certification based on the information obtained by the Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider, including any documentation collected pursuant to Customer Due Diligence Procedures.
2. If at any point there is a change of circumstances with respect to an Individual Crypto-Asset User that causes the Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider to know, or have reason to know, that the original self-certification is incorrect or unreliable, the Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider cannot rely on the original self-certification and shall obtain a valid self-certification, or a reasonable explanation and, where appropriate, documentation supporting the validity of the original self-certification.

B. Due Diligence Procedures for Entity Crypto-Asset Users

The following procedures apply for purposes of determining whether the Entity Crypto-Asset User is a Reportable User or an Entity, other than an Excluded Person or an Active Entity, with one or more Controlling Persons who are Reportable Person.

 - (b) If the self-certification indicates that the Entity Crypto-Asset User is resident in a Member State, the Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider shall treat the Entity Crypto-Asset User as a Reportable User, unless it reasonably determines based on the self-certification or on information in its possession or that is publicly available, that the Entity Crypto-Asset User is an Excluded Person.

With respect to an Entity Crypto-Asset User, other than an Excluded Person, the Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider shall determine whether it has one or more Controlling Persons who are Reportable Persons, unless it determines that the Entity Crypto-Asset User is an Active Entity, based on a self-certification from the Entity Crypto-Asset User.

- (a) Determining the Controlling Persons of the Entity Crypto-Asset User. For the purposes of determining the Controlling Persons of the Entity Crypto-Asset User, a Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider may rely on information collected and maintained pursuant to Customer Due Diligence Procedures, provided that such procedures are consistent with Directive (EU) 2015/849. If the Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider is not legally required to apply Customer Due Diligence Procedures that are consistent with Directive (EU) 2015/849, it shall apply substantially similar procedures for the purpose of determining the Controlling Persons.
- (b) Determining whether a Controlling Person of an Entity Crypto-Asset User is a Reportable Person. For the purposes of determining whether a Controlling Person is a Reportable Person, a Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider shall rely on a self-certification from the Entity Crypto-Asset User or such Controlling Person that allows the Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider to determine the Controlling Person's residence(s) for tax purposes and confirm the reasonableness of such self-certification based on the information obtained by the Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider, including any documentation collected pursuant to Customer Due Diligence Procedures.
3. If at any point there is a change of circumstances with respect to an Entity Crypto-Asset User or its Controlling Persons that causes the Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider to know, or have reason to know, that the original self-certification is incorrect or unreliable, the Reporting Crypto-Asset Service Provider cannot rely on the original self-certification and shall obtain a valid self-certification, or a reasonable explanation and, where appropriate, documentation supporting the validity of the original self-certification.

A self-certification provided by an Individual Crypto-Asset User or Controlling Person is valid only if it is signed or otherwise positively affirmed by the Individual Crypto-Asset User or Controlling Person, it is dated at the latest at the date of receipt and it contains the following information with respect to the Individual Crypto-Asset User or Controlling Person:

- (c) the Entity is not yet operating a business and has no prior operating history, but is investing capital into assets with the intent to operate a business other than that of a Financial Institution, provided that the Entity does not qualify for this exception after the date that is 24 months after the date of the initial organisation of the Entity;

- (v) the applicable laws of the Entity’s jurisdiction of residence or the Entity’s formation documents require that, upon the Entity’s liquidation or dissolution, all of its assets be distributed to a Governmental Entity or other non-profit organisation, or escheat to the government of the Entity’s jurisdiction of residence or any political subdivision thereof.

E. Excluded Person

1. ‘Excluded Person’ means (a) an Entity the stock of which is regularly traded on one or more established securities markets; (b) any Entity that is a Related Entity of an Entity described in clause (a); (c) a Governmental Entity; (d) an International Organisation; (e) a Central Bank; or (f) a Financial Institution other than an Investment Entity described in Section IV subparagraph E(5), point (b).
2. ‘Financial Institution’ means a Custodial Institution, a Depository Institution, an Investment Entity, or a Specified Insurance Company.
3. ‘Custodial Institution’ means any Entity that holds, as a substantial portion of its business, Financial Assets for the account of others. An Entity holds Financial Assets for the account of others as a substantial portion of its business if the Entity’s gross income attributable to the holding of Financial Assets and related financial services equals or exceeds 20% of the Entity’s gross income during the shorter of: (i) the three-year period that ends on 31 December (or the final day of a non-calendar year accounting period) prior to the year in which the determination is being made; or (ii) the period during which the Entity has been in existence.

4. 'Depository Institution' means any Entity that:
- (a) accepts deposits in the ordinary course of a banking or similar business; or
 - (b) holds Electronic Money or Central Bank Digital Currencies for the benefit of customers.
5. 'Investment Entity' means any Entity:
- (a) that primarily conducts as a business one or more of the following activities or operations for or on behalf of a customer:

 - (iii) otherwise investing, administering, or managing Financial Assets, or money, or Reportable Crypto-Assets on behalf of other persons; or

An Entity is treated as primarily conducting as a business one or more of the activities described in paragraph E(5), point (a), or an Entity's gross income is primarily attributable to investing, reinvesting, or trading in Financial Assets or Reportable Crypto-Assets for purposes of paragraph E(5), point (b), if the Entity's gross income attributable to the relevant activities equals or exceeds 50 % of the Entity's gross income during the shorter of: (i) the three-year period ending on 31 December of the year preceding the year in which the determination is made; or (ii) the period during which the Entity has been in existence. For the purposes of paragraph E(5), point (a)(iii), the term "otherwise investing, administering, or managing Financial Assets, money, or Reportable Crypto-Assets on behalf of other persons" does not include the provision of services effectuating Exchange Transactions for or on behalf of customers. The term 'Investment Entity' does not include an Entity that is an Active Entity because it meets any of the criteria in subparagraph D(10), points (b) to (e).

This paragraph shall be interpreted in a manner consistent with similar language set forth in the definition of 'financial institution' in Directive (EU) 2015/849.

This category is comprised of the integral parts, controlled entities, and political subdivisions of a jurisdiction.
- (a) An 'integral part' of a jurisdiction means any person, organisation, agency, bureau, fund, instrumentality, or other body, however designated, that constitutes a governing authority of a jurisdiction. The net earnings of the governing authority shall be credited to its own account or to other accounts of the jurisdiction, with no portion inuring to the benefit of any private person. An integral part does not include any individual who is a sovereign, official, or administrator acting in a private or personal capacity.
- (b) A 'controlled entity' means an entity that is separate in form from the jurisdiction or that otherwise constitutes a separate juridical entity, provided that:
- (i) the Entity is wholly owned and controlled by one or more Governmental Entities directly or through one or more controlled entities;
- (ii) the Entity's net earnings are credited to its own account or to the accounts of one or more Governmental Entities, with no portion of its income inuring to the benefit of any private person; and
- (iii) the Entity's assets vest in one or more Governmental Entities upon dissolution.

- (c) Income does not inure to the benefit of private persons if such persons are the intended beneficiaries of a governmental programme, and the programme activities are performed for the general public with respect to the common welfare or relate to the administration of some phase of government. Notwithstanding the foregoing, however, income is considered to inure to the benefit of private persons if the income is derived from the use of a governmental entity to conduct a commercial business, such as a commercial banking business, that provides financial services to private persons.
8. ‘International Organisation’ means any international organisation or wholly owned agency or instrumentality thereof. This category includes any intergovernmental organisation (including a supranational organisation) (a) that is comprised primarily of governments; (b) that has in effect a headquarters or substantially similar agreement with the jurisdiction; and (c) the income of which does not inure to the benefit of private persons.
9. ‘Financial Asset’ includes a security (for example, a share of stock in a corporation; partnership or beneficial ownership interest in a widely held or publicly traded partnership or trust; note, bond, debenture, or other evidence of indebtedness), partnership interest, commodity, swap (for example, interest rate swaps, currency swaps, basis swaps, interest rate caps, interest rate floors, commodity swaps, equity swaps, equity index swaps, and similar agreements), Insurance Contract or Annuity Contract, or any interest (including a futures or forward contract or option) in a security, Reportable Crypto-Asset, partnership interest, commodity, swap, Insurance Contract, or Annuity Contract. The term ‘Financial Asset’ does not include a non-debt, direct interest in real property.

10. 'Equity Interest' means, in the case of a partnership that is a Financial Institution, either a capital or profits interest in the partnership. In the case of a trust that is a Financial Institution, an Equity Interest is considered to be held by any person treated as a settlor or beneficiary of all or a portion of the trust, or any other natural person exercising ultimate effective control over the trust. A Reportable Person will be treated as being a beneficiary of a trust if such Reportable Person has the right to receive directly or indirectly (for example, through a nominee) a mandatory distribution or may receive, directly or indirectly, a discretionary distribution from the trust.
11. 'Insurance Contract' means a contract (other than an Annuity Contract) under which the issuer agrees to pay an amount upon the occurrence of a specified contingency involving mortality, morbidity, accident, liability, or property risk.
12. 'Annuity Contract' means a contract under which the issuer agrees to make payments for a period of time determined in whole or in part by reference to the life expectancy of one or more individuals. The term also includes a contract that is considered to be an Annuity Contract in accordance with the law, regulation, or practice of the Member State or other jurisdiction in which the contract was issued, and under which the issuer agrees to make payments for a term of years.

14. 'Cash Value' means the greater of (i) the amount that the policyholder is entitled to receive upon surrender or termination of the contract (determined without reduction for any surrender charge or policy loan), and (ii) the amount the policyholder can borrow under or with regard to the contract. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term 'Cash Value' does not include an amount payable under an Insurance Contract:
- (a) solely by reason of the death of an individual insured under a life insurance contract;
 - (b) as a personal injury or sickness benefit or other benefit providing indemnification of an economic loss incurred upon the occurrence of the event insured against;
 - (c) as a refund of a previously paid premium (less cost of insurance charges whether or not actually imposed) under an Insurance Contract (other than an investment-linked life insurance or annuity contract) due to cancellation or termination of the contract, decrease in risk exposure during the effective period of the contract, or arising from the correction of a posting or similar error with regard to the premium for the contract;
 - (d) as a policyholder dividend (other than a termination dividend) provided that the dividend relates to an Insurance Contract under which the only benefits payable are described in paragraph E(14), point (b); or
 - (e) as a return of an advance premium or premium deposit for an Insurance Contract for which the premium is payable at least annually if the amount of the advance premium or premium deposit does not exceed the next annual premium that will be payable under the contract.
