INTRODUCTION

At QC Kinetix (Kansas City), we know that you want to get back to feeling and performing at your best. That's why we're proud to be able to help patients just like you manage their pain with our non-surgical treatments. Whether you're dealing with a sports injury or a chronic condition like arthritis pain, we know how important it is to help you heal your body from the inside out, so that you can get back to living the life you want to live. Our Kansas City regenerative medicine techniques are designed to get to the root of your condition so that you can heal naturally, and avoid surgery or invasive medical procedures. We are proud to offer treatment for all types of chronic pain conditions including knee pain treatment, hip replacement alternatives, shoulder pain treatment, relief from elbow pain, and more. We treat our patients with the utmost respect and concierge-level service throughout their entire clinical experience.
