

BRIAN ORTEGA VS. CHAN SUNG JUNG SLATED FOR APRIL MAIN EVENT

A highly anticipated featherweight title eliminator has reportedly received a date.

Along with citing many methods ahead of the particular proposed fight, Brian Ortega will square off of towards Chan Sung Jung upon October 17th inside some sort of UFC Fight Nighttime key event.

Ortega and Jung have a budding rivalry with one another as a fight scheduled to get December fell into through prior to a open public scuffle required place between Ortega then one of Jung's pals, artist Jay Area, with some sort of UFC function in Las Vegas.

Ortega (14-1) has but to struggle since getting rid of via TKO in a 145 kilos championship bout to help then-champion Max Holloway around January 2018. 'T-City' possessed raced to six stoppage profits in a row after joining the UFC immediately after his first bout was initially ruled a no competition.

Jung (16-5) meanwhile will enter the five-round deal with following back-to-back TKO gains all the perks. 'The Korean Zombie' provides gone 3-1 since coming back from a 4 year zwischenzeit from the sport introduced about by South Korean military service. Jung last fought in December 2019 in which he defeated Frankie Edgar inside the first round.