
Training of Trainers

Training course for those, who would like to be more confident when working with groups of young participants at trainings, educational activities or volunteer projects.

Content and target group

After this training, the participants should...

- be able to design an educational activity (session) including objectives and appropriate methods for supporting the group dynamics
- understand, what are the main features of non-formal education/learning and experiential learning
- enhance their practical skills to be able to:
 - express themselves clearly in front of the group and to be aware of the non-verbal communication
 - lead debriefing after an activity
 - be aware of specifics in team work
 - facilitate sessions
 - deal with some problematic situations, that can happen within a group
 - give and receive constructive feedback
- explore their inner motivation of becoming trainers and be motivated to continue working with youth in the next months or years

Target group:

Trainers = beginners and workcamp leaders - those in the networks of INEX-SDA and Zavod Voluntariat, who

- ... already have at least one experience on working with group of participants (e.g. as campleaders)
- ... have motivation to become more proficient in leading a group (or become educators, teachers, trainers, youth workers...)
