

PRE AND POST-TRAINING
SURVEY ON FACT-CHECKING IN JOURNALISM FOR SOUTH-EAST.

Participants expectations of the training.

- Majority of the participants expected that after the training their knowledge on fact-checking, tools for fact-checking, SDGs, journalism, and how to deliver accurate information will be increased.

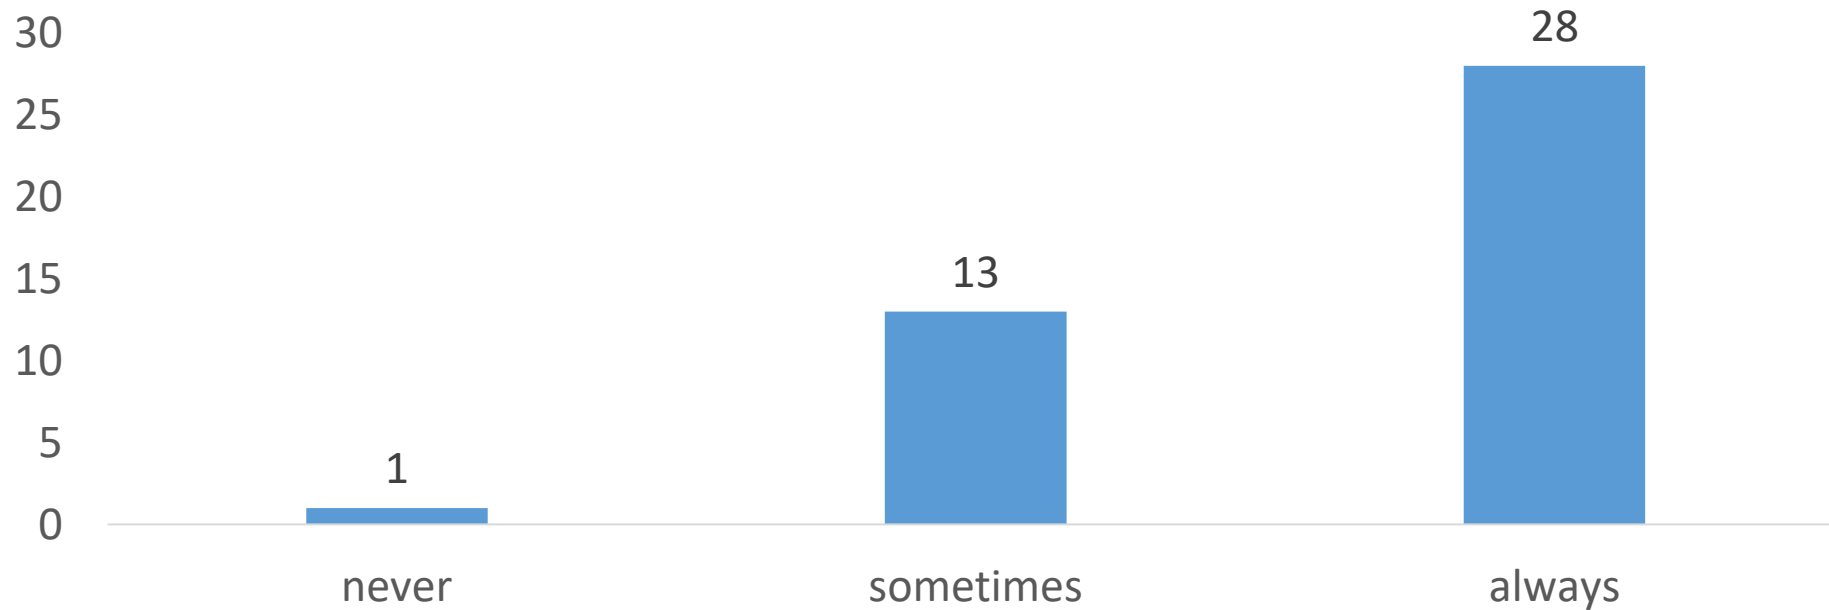

Knowledge of SDGs before and after the training.

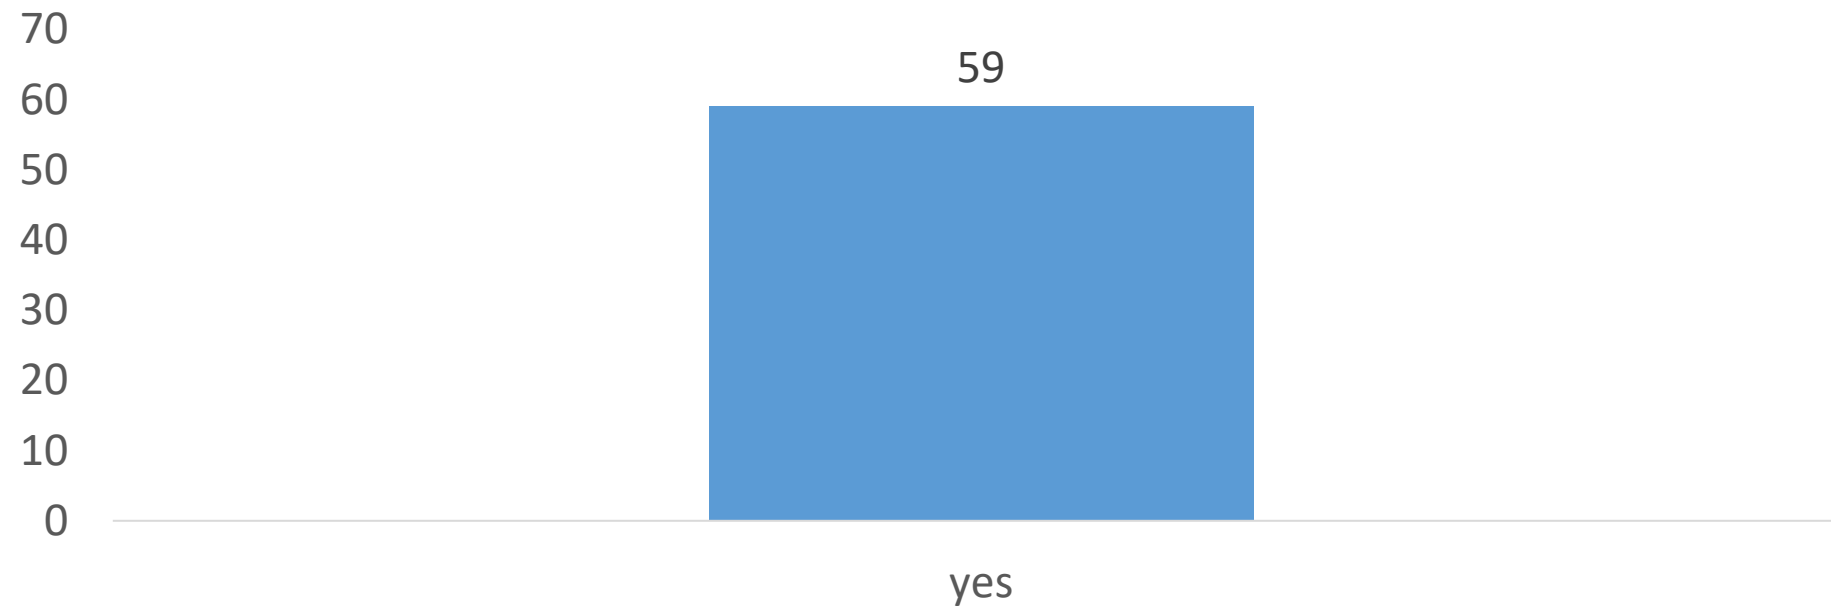

Knowledge of SDGs on its usefulness to journalist before and after the training.

Respondents that check facts.

Has your knowledge on fact checking improved?

Tools utilized by participants when fact-checking a story (before the training).

- Majority of the participants listed:
- Internet
- Interview
- Investigation
- Source
- Google, research, opinion

How the participants check their facts (before the training).

Most of the participants check their facts through:

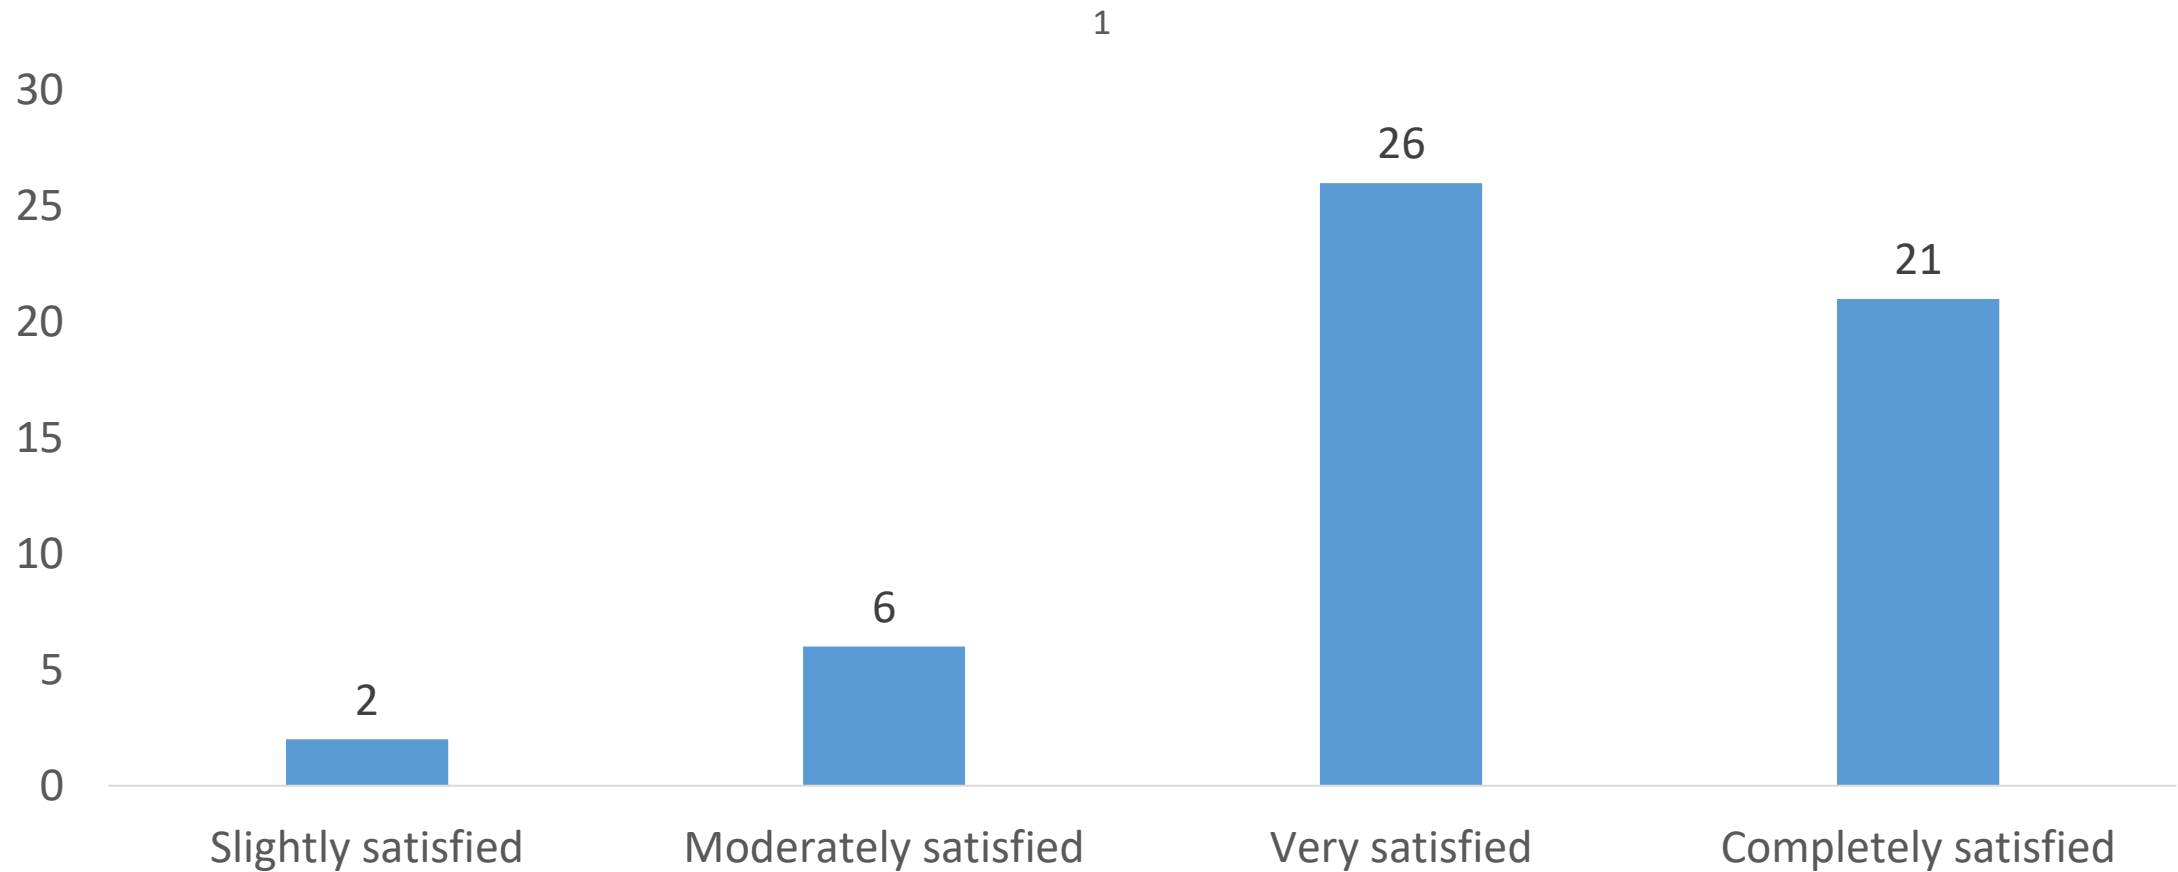

- Internet
- Interview
- Research
- Source
- Google
- Radio station
- Author

Tools to be used for fact-checking, as listed by the respondents.

Majority of the participants listed:

- Fact-checking
- Africacheck.org
- Google, internet
- Reverse image search
- Tweetbeaver.org
- Sources, company information extractor
- Stalkscan.com
- opinion

Participants satisfaction with the training outcome.

THANK YOU