ABCD Announces Head Start Recruitment

It's time to enroll your preschooler in Action for Boston Community Development's (ABCD) Head Start program for the 1983-84 session beginning in September. Head Start is a federally-funded child development program which provides educational opportunities to 3-to-5-year-old children and their parents.

ABCD operates 34 Head Start centers throughout the city, including two in Charlestown - one at the Old Kent School and one at the First Baptist Church, where children of diverse ethnic and cultural backgrounds can acquire educational skills, make new friends, discover new ideas, and join in supervised play. Head Start gives children a valuable boost that helps when they start school, and children benefit from nutritious lunches and comprehensive medical and dental screenings. Classes are taught by qualified teachers and their assistants, and children with special needs receive individual classroom attention.

Head Start is not just for children. Parents are encouraged to take an active role in the program by helping make decisions in the local Head Start centers, by observing their children in class, volunteering their time, even joining the staff. Head Start is really a program for families - children and their parents benefit. Parents can take advantage of Head Start workshops, training courses, and work experience, as well as other ABCD programs including a free, accredited Urban College Program, employment and training

College Club Featuring College Tours

Are you a high school junior or senior? Are you interested in Boston College or Suffolk University? The Charlestown College Club, co-ordinated by the Kennedy Center and Boys and Girls Club, are planning a trip to and tour of these schools during February school vacation.

B.H.C.C. On - Call Emergency Service

The Bunker Hill Health Center has an on-call emergency service for medical emergency problems when the health center is closed.

This month we have implemented a new system for contacting the on-call emergency service. All patients will be asked to call the main number, 242-5700 when the health center is closed. This will be answered directly by an answering service operator who will then page either the pediatrician or the adult medicine physician on-call. The physician will then call the patient and advise what sort of action should be taken.

For adult emotional crisis or psychiatric emergencies when the health center is closed, patients are asked to call 726-2994. This is the number for the Acute Psychiatric Service at MGH. For assistance with child and/or family crisis, patients should call 884-HELP.

Linda Panarese
Health Center Manager

The tour of Suffolk University is scheduled for Thursday, February 24th and the tour of Boston College is scheduled for February 25th. If you are a junior or senior in high school and would be interested in the tour(s) call Debbie Duffy at the Kennedy Center (241-8866) for information.

The College Club also provides S.A.T. preparation and help with financial aid forms and college applications.

E.D.C. To Meet

There will be a meeting of the EDC of the Kennedy Center on Tuesday, February 22, 1983 at 7:00 p.m. at the Mary Colbert Apartments, 20 Devens Street, Charlestown.

The public is invited.

Thinking About Selling Your Home?

HOME SALES ARE OFF TO A GOOD START IN 1983

With lower mortgage rates the real estate market is bouncing back from the 1982 slow-down. Our sales are up, we have more inquiries and we're selling higher priced homes than in 1982.

If the slow market of 1982 discouraged you from selling your home, call Gibson for a market update. We have many serious buyers looking for condominiums, single families and two and three family homes. We're looking forward to a good sales year in 1983.

Community School News

The Kent/Charlestown will distribute surplus federal cheese and butter on Thursday, March 3rd, from 3:00 to 7:00 p.m. Families eligible for AFDC, Social Security, Supplemental Security Income, Food Stamps, Medicaid and Headstart Services and those eligible for fuel assistance through the Kennedy Center's Fuel Assistance Program income guidelines are eligible to receive cheese and butter. Further information will be made available in next week's Patriot.

New GED and Adult Basic Education Classes will start on Tuesday, March 1st, at the High School Community School Building. These classes are free and are open to anyone in the community. All materials are provided.

At the same time the GED Test, itself, will be offered on February 28th, March 1st and March 2nd. Anyone interested in taking the test should register at the Community School Office at the High School before Friday at 5:00 p.m. Further information can be obtained by calling the Office at 242-2770.

There have been many calls seeking the pool schedule for adults. The pool is open for adult swim on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights from 5:00 to 6:00 p.m. and 8:15 to 9:00 p.m. On Wednesdays the pool runs 7:00 to 8:15 p.m. for adults. The weightroom is open for adult use every night from 5:00 to 8:30 p.m.

We will incorporate a recreational lounge for young teens at the High School facility. It is scheduled to open March 4th. It will operate five nights a week from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. and will be an alternative to the other, more athletically oriented recreational activities in the Community School Program. We are planning a game room with bumper pool and ping pong tables available. A TV area with HBO hook-up will provide other diversions. The teen lounge will be staffed by two individuals hired through a grant managed by the Kennedy Center.

We have a few people interested in starting a volleyball program. We are setting aside, for the immediate future, Thursday evenings between 7:00 and 9:00 p.m. for this activity. If you would like to play volleyball, and perhaps participate in an intramural league come down to the gym on Thursday nights.

The Kent/Charlestown Council had its monthly meeting on Valentine's night. They determined that it would be wise for the Community School Program to hold a public forum to discuss where the Program should go in the future. At this point the Community Schools are providing considerable recreational activity for 100 to 150 young people nightly and adult education and leisure classroom activity to 200 adults weekly. The Program has much potential for expansion to serve both individual and group interests. A needs/interest survey will be conducted during March to identify possible program areas in which the community has interest. At the same time the Council will make its newly revised By-laws available to Charlestown residents for comment. The meeting, which we view as essential to our planning new programming, will be held on Wednesday, April 6th, at 7:00 p.m. at the Kent. Further information will be made available during the month of March.

Anyone seeking information on the above or the Community School Program in general, should call the Community School Office weekdays after 2:30 p.m. at 242-2770.

Lent: A Journey Of Faith

Editor's note: Rev. Thomas F. Conway, pastor of St. Catherine's Church in Charlestown and the author of several books on religious education, has written a series of Lenten messages that begins today and will continue through Lent.

by Rev. Thomas F. Conway

Easter celebrates the Pascal Mystery — that Jesus died and rose from the dead. To believe in the resurrection of Jesus is to believe Jesus is the Christ, the person sent by God to save mankind. Jesus, the Christ, is God and man. To believe in Jesus as both God and man allows us to call ourselves Christians.

Traditionally, believers become Christians through baptism. The preparation for baptism developed into a time called Lent. Those preparing for baptism are called catechumens. Later, a second purpose of Lent arose for those already baptized. This purpose was to renew, to celebrate the anniversary of one's baptism. For some, this meant to be reconciled again with God, to turn away from sin, sinful practices and to re-direct one's life to the purposes and goals promised at baptism.

Through a series of reflections each week we would encourage readers to deepen their commitments and faith. We propose to follow the theme of Journeys to a destination.

The reflections will consider Scripture readings used in most Christian churches on the Sundays of Lent. An inspiring effect of these scriptural studies will be a deeper and more loving understanding of our Jewish brethren and their traditions. For example, the journeys of Abraham and the Exodus with Moses.

As we reflect on Ash Wednesday, consider your journey for 1983. As an individual, a couple, a family: Where are you going?

Stop, look, listen.

Are worldly interests distracting you from following Jesus?

What are your priorities? Money? Pleasure? Status? Food? Entertainment-movies, TV?

Do they enhance or distract from your Christian principles?

Do you have defined principles?

What are they?

Future reflections will consider other journeys — with Jesus.

A Journey into the Desert

A Journey to Glory

A Journey of Conversion

A Journey toward Reconciliation

A Journey of Healing

Passion Sunday considers Jesus' Journey to Jerusalem.

Holy Thursday — The Passover Journey.

Good Friday — Journey to Calvary and Death.

Easter Vigil — Jesus Journey through Death to Life.

A Symbol — A Visual — to remind you of the Lenten season.

If there are palms left from last year's Palm Sunday celebration, these could be burned on a pie plate with one piece of charcoal from your summer barbecue. (If you don't have charcoal, borrowing from a neighbor would help share with them what your family is doing.) Merely burning the piece of charcoal and collecting the ashes is enough. After the ashes are cooled, place them in a fitting container or vessel and place them in a prominent place to remind you of this holy season. The place could be as a center piece on a coffee table, on a TV set, or in the center of the supper table.

Discussion: Spend some time this week discussing the season of Lent.

What do the ashes symbolize?

What does the gospel reading (Matt 6: 1-6, 16-18) mean by fasting and almsgiving?

Regarding the theme of a journey, what journeys does a family take?

What religious journey are we traveling?

Do we have to make changes?

The Lenten reflections are compiled or written from many sources. The attempt is to share the thoughts of spiritual writers and scripture scholars of most Christian churches and some of the Jewish traditions. The reflections will not cite quotations and references as not to distract the readers. The sources are listed here.

Views On Dental Health

by Jeffrey D. Cohen, D.M.D.

PRECAUTIONS FOR PARTIAL DENTURES

A partial denture is a removable appliance that substitutes for one or several missing natural teeth. It is held in place by clasps that grip the natural teeth adjacent to the partial.

Good oral hygiene habits are particularly important for wearers of partial dentures. If food residue and film are allowed to accumulate on clasps (which are food traps) the important abutment teeth may decay. Therefore, partials should be cleaned after each meal and special attention should be given to cleaning the inside of the clasps. While you're at it, clean your regular teeth to remove any food debris that could accumulate under the cover afforded by the partial denture.

If a partial denture breaks or becomes damaged in any way, it should be taken at once to the dentist for repair. Attempts to wear a damaged appliance can be dangerous. A shift of a fraction of a millimeter in the form of the partial can cause destructive forces on several teeth. Also, an improper amateur adjustment could possibly render the partial completely useless and irreparable by anyone.

Announces Quilt Raffle Winner

Kathy (Scannell) Benner was the lucky winner of the beautiful 580 piece hand-sewn quilt made by the Quilt Committee of St. Francis de Sales.

Kathy and her husband, Kevin, live at 69 Pierce Street, Malden and are both formerly of Charlestown. The drawing took place on Friday, February 11, at the Bishop Lawton Hall during the Valentine's Dance put on by the first grade parents. Boy did we dance up a STORM last Friday night at the Valentine's Dance (Sorry about all that snow folks!!) Kathy was quite surprised when I called her house to tell her she had won the quilt. She told me she never even bought a ticket. Now that's luck! Her sister Mary McLaughlin, of Short Street, had put her name on one. And that was the lucky one!

Miss Joanne McClum, our first grade teacher, picked the ticket.

We had hoped to raise $1,000 on the quilt for our school, and like the ticket read "Not worth $1,000 but sure is worth the $1.00 you spent." Well, thanks to the people of "Chance Town," or is it Charlestown, we went way over the top and raised $1,301 for the school. Those dollars add up. Thank You!

Kathy don't forget to give your sister Mary the $1.00 she put in for you.

Thanks to Gloria Conway and Maria Girvin for all the help with this school project and to all the Quilt Committee for their best one yet. And once, thank you to all the people of "Chance Town."

WHAT ON EARTH DO OLD COLONY BANKS AND THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF BOSTON HAVE IN COMMON?

THEY'RE ALL UNDER THE WING OF BANK OF BOSTON.

BANK OF BOSTON

Townie Sports Line

Grandfather Of Amateur Basketball

Question: What's the oldest basketball competition in the United States, decades older than either the NBA or the NCAA?

Answer: The Nate Hurwitz Memorial Basketball Tournament, played every Spring in Charlestown since 1923.

Over 75,000 boys between the ages of 12 and 19 have competed in this tournament during the last sixty years, many of whom have gone on to play college or professional basketball. The tournament alumni list includes former Detroit Piston Terry Driscoll, former Boston Celtic Kevin Stacom, and former Holy Cross standout Ronnie Perry.

The tournament was begun 60 years ago for the purpose of providing regional competition for neighborhood teams and was played after the close of the regular season. It was not started as a championship in any sense, and even now carries no official title.

By 1930, the Boston Sunday Globe acknowledged that the Hurwitz tournament "had done much toward raising the standards of play among youth by giving them the opportunity to compete with teams of their own size and weight under ideal conditions." Later, Walter Brown, former owner of the Boston Garden and the Boston Celtics Basketball Team, credited Hurwitz with "maintaining regional interest in basketball by encouraging widespread participation among boys."

Now, as the tournament completes its sixth decade of play, its involvement with youth continues. Ninety-six teams will participate this year in the four age divisions of the historic Nate Hurwitz Memorial Basketball Tournament.

Teams will enter this year's tourney from dozens of cities and towns in Eastern Massachusetts, from Beverly to Framingham to Scituate. In past years the tournament had teams representing seven states. Metropolitan Boston will be thoroughly represented by teams in all four divisions. For a nominal entry fee, teams enter the competition which lasts from Friday, March 18 until Saturday, April 9.

The tournament will be played under AAU rules and the games will be supervised by certified referees. In fact, many of the standard rules of organized basketball competition have evolved from rules introduced by tournaments like this one. The double-dribble rule is one of these.

When the organizers of the Tech Tourney, the oldest high school basketball competition in the country, began their tournament, they went to Nate Hurwitz for advice on how to manage such a large tournament. His counsel helped make the Tech a staple in the basketball community.

Hurwitz, who lived from 1894 to 1966, served for twenty-five years as Athletic Director for the Boys' Clubs of Boston, which is now the Boys & Girls Clubs of Boston. Previously he was a member of the Boston Whirlwinds, a professional basketball club that played throughout New England. He was also a soldier and a professional boxing manager.

His interest in sports was matched by his interest in youth. He saw athletics as a meaningful outlet for urban boys, and he often convinced policemen to let him have a crack at delinquents before the court could. The Boston Globe referred to him several times as "The father of 10,000 kids" because of the positive relationships he had with so many of the youth of Boston.

He left the Charlestown Clubhouse in 1945 when he was elected state representative from Cohasset. His daughter, Mary Jeannette Hurwitz Murray, now serves in the same seat in the House of Representatives, making them the only father/daughter combination to serve a constituency in Massachusetts.

John Brennan, current Athletic Director for the Charlestown Clubhouse, still hears mention of Hurwitz at the tournament. I've been associated with the Nate Hurwitz Memorial Tournament as a player, a staff member, and now as the Director, and every year I have men who played in the competition years ago approach me with anecdotes of Nate. They still come to see the kids play at the same gym that they played in thirty or forty years ago."

Brennan also encourages teams to enter this year's competition. "Every year we get teams from all over Eastern Massachusetts. Teams that want to participate can contact me at the Charlestown Boys and Girls Club to enter the sixtieth annual tourney."

C.Y.H.A. News

This coming Monday, the District Hockey Playdowns begin. This is the most important tournament of the year. The winner of each division in the districts goes on to the State Tournament which will be held in March.

This year we have five teams entered in the Tournament. We hope the people of Charlestown will come out to the rinks in support of the boys and coaches, and also will see some fine hockey.

The first games of the District Tournament are as follows:

- Mite I — Charlestown vs. So. Boston — February 21 at 8:00 a.m. at Neponset
- Squirt I — Charlestown vs. So. Boston — February 21 at 9:10 a.m. at Neponset
- Pee Wee I — Charlestown vs. Hyde Park — February 21 at 10:20 a.m. at So. Boston
- Bantam I — Charlestown vs. Parkway — February 21 at 11:30 a.m. at So. Boston
- Bantam II — Charlestown vs. Winner of Winthrop & So. Boston — February 22 at 8:30 p.m. at Neponset

We wish all the boys and coaches good luck!

To Conduct Hockey Clinic

This Sunday, February 20, Kevin Gallagher and Mark Urquhart will be conducting a hockey clinic for mites and squirts. The time is from 5 to 6 at the Charlestown MDC Rink, the charge will be $3.00 per skater. Assisting in the clinic will be Mike Shea, Bob Harty, Bob Magann, Joe Sullivan and Gerry O'Neil. We would like to continue the clinic every Sunday, (until the rink closes). It all depends on the attendance at the first session.

All are welcome. Skaters who regularly skate for the organization, and also beginners, are encouraged to attend. Equipment is necessary to prevent injury. Please note: You do not have to be a Charlestown resident to participate, and we welcome parents and children who are only skating for the first time. It is a perfect opportunity to start.

Danny Considine - A Superior Hockey Talent

by Andrea Morin

Tearing up the ice at lightning speed he wheeled to his left, eluding the lone defender. With the puck on his backhand he dropped his left shoulder, drawing the goalie out of position. He quickly switched to his forehand and with a half wrist, half slap shot put the puck over the goalie's left shoulder and high under the crossbar. The red light flashed on signalling a goal. The victimized goalie dug the puck out of his net in disgust as the goal scorer jubilantly raised his stick in celebration.

That was but one moment in the hockey career of 18 year old Dan Considine. The 5' 11", 190 pound senior has backboned Charlestown High School's hockey team to a 12-0-0 Boston City League record this season, while maintaining a second place berth in both Boston City League and Division Two scoring with 24 goals and 31 assists.

A right hand shot, he starts at both center or defense, and according to Jack Morris, Considine's coach during his four years of varsity hockey, "Without a doubt he's far superior to any other player in the City League this year. He's the best center. The best defenseman. The best total hockey player in the League. And he's probably one of the top players in Eastern Massachusetts."

Considine's superior hockey talent has not gone unnoticed in the Boston City League. Walter Fitzgerald, former hockey coach at Boston Trade High School and now a Matthews Arena official, called Considine, "One of the outstanding players in the City League."

"Personally, I think he's the best hockey player in the city," commented Madison Park coach Tom Boussey.

Considine captains the Townies squad assisted by co-captains Eddie Considine (his younger brother), Bobby Allen, Chuckie Smith and Joe Sodergren. In his role as captain, "He leads by example," Morris states. "That's all he was asked to do and he sets a good example. He's totally unselfish. He could have doubled his goal production, but he dishes off. He helps everyone else on the team as far as setting up plays."

Considine's mother, Anne, his coach during his last year of midget hockey, echoes Morris. "Danny's not selfish. If you're open he'll give you the puck."

"Goals and assists don't matter," Considine remarked. "You're getting a point no matter which. I'm not out to get the points. I'd rather set up someone that's open."

Considine was first named captain of the Townies as a junior. The team finished with a 10-3-1 record in Boston Conference One action during the 81-82 season, and qualified for both the Boston City Tournament and the Eastern Massachusetts State Tournament. They were defeated by a powerhouse Boston Latin team 4-2 for the City Title and bowed to North Andover in the first round of the State Tournament 10-4.

Morris feels that the tourney game against North Andover in which he play because I wanted to win."

Considine finished in second place in Boston Conference One scoring as a junior with 15 goals and 21 assists. He earned City League All Star honors as a forward and also received the Lawrence P. Considine Memorial Trophy, awarded annually to the outstanding hockey player at Charlestown High School.

He played second line center in his freshman and sophomore years, earning second team All Star honors as a sophomore. His style of play has matured since then, says Morris. "He's become, in the last two years, a more complete player. He was always a good skater, but now he's a totally complete player. He's also disciplined himself, kept himself out of the penalty box."

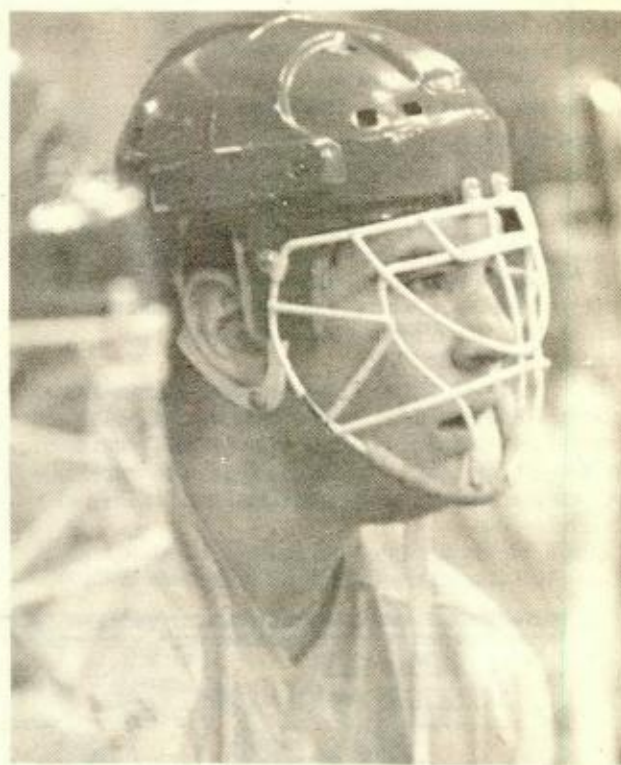

In addition to playing for Charlestown High School, Considine plays in a Junior A League during the off season, and for an American Hockey Association (AHA) district team, lege." Dan Considine remembered. "As the tryouts went long they cut out kids. That's how you found out if you made the team, if you kept having to come back. Camp was a good experience; a lot of skating and off ice training like lifting weights and running."

It was as a midget that Considine first began to play both center and defense. "When I started playing for Charlestown Youth they put me as a forward. I didn't know what I wanted to be, a center or a defenseman. Playing center is good because you can be more mobile," he commented. "But I like the set up now. It's easier to move around. I like playing defense and trying to help out the goalie."

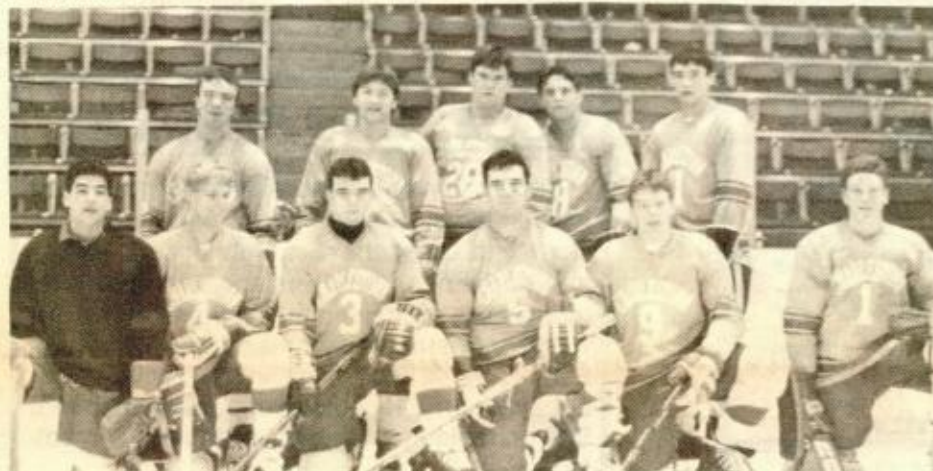

"On the high school team we only have three defensemen, me, my brother and Kevin Woods, so I'll center the first line and then drop back and play defense."

played with a separated shoulder, was the most outstanding of Considine's high school career. "He played excellently; made a great effort, and not many people know how much pain he was in."

"I had a sore shoulder and I couldn't really get a good shot off," is how Considine described the situation. "But I still went out and tried to give it a bid to the Suffolk Seals, on Sundays during the winter. He estimates that he plays hockey 11 months a year.

Purportedly, Considine has been scouted extensively by New England colleges. He has not yet decided which college he would like to attend.

Considine began skating at age two, and as he puts it, "My mother and father got me skating and as I went along there was nothing else to do but play hockey."

At age six he played his first organized hockey for the mite team in Charlestown's Youth Hockey League. At eight he made Charlestown Youth's AA Squirt team. After playing two years of Squirts he moved on to Pee Wees. In 1976 his Pee Wee team won the Boston Neighborhood Hockey League championship. After two years of Pee Wee came two years of Bantams and Midgets, respectively.

In his last year of midget hockey both Dan and Eddie Considine were selected among the top 52 midgets in New England to attend the AHA camp at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs. "We had to go through three tryouts every Saturday morning at Babson College." Dan Considine remembered. "As the tryouts went long they cut out kids. That's how you found out if you made the team, if you kept having to come back. Camp was a good experience; a lot of skating and off ice training like lifting weights and running."

It was as a midget that Considine first began to play both center and defense. "When I started playing for Charlestown Youth they put me as a forward. I didn't know what I wanted to be, a center or a defenseman. Playing center is good because you can be more mobile," he commented. "But I like the set up now. It's easier to move around. I like playing defense and trying to help out the goalie."

"On the high school team we only have three defensemen, me, my brother and Kevin Woods, so I'll center the first line and then drop back and play defense."

A two sport athlete in high school, Considine also played four years of varsity football. "The only football I ever played was for the high school," he stated. "My father talked me into playing. I wasn't going to play."

As a senior he co-captained the team along with Wayne Flayman, Joe Sodergren and Stevie Burns. In his senior year he switched from playing center, a position he had played in his three previous seasons, to fullback.

time rivalry with South Boston High School this season by defeating the City Pointers 7-2 at Matthews Arena on February 4. "It's always a big game between Charlestown and Southie," Considine stated. "Everyone gets up for it and we practiced hard all week for the game. We wanted to win it. Plus it almost clinched the City League Title for us." Going into the February 4 game both teams were undefeated in City League action.

"The Charlestown-South Boston game was featured on the February 6 telecast of Hockey Night In Boston (HNIB). "It felt good that they came and watched us play," said Considine, who also played in the 1982 HNIB Summer Tournament.

Dan Considine was selected by HNIB as the number one star of the game. He scored one goal, which proved to be the game winner, and added four assists. The number two star was Kevin Woods, the only junior on Charlestown's blueline, who has elevated body checking to a high art form. Eddie Considine, scoring on two blasts from the right point to put the game out of South Boston's reach, was the number three star.

With an overall record of 12-2-0, Charlestown is ranked seventh in the Boston Herald poll, tenth in the Boston Globe coaches poll and eleventh in the HNIB poll. The two losses came against non-league opponents, Columbus 4-3 and Boston Latin 5-4.

The Townies last game, with Boston English, originally scheduled for February 7, but postponed because of snow, was played on Tuesday, February 15.

"We have the same team coming back from last season," mused Considine about the E. Mass. Tournament. "We have everything together now, so we should do well, a couple of wins, anyway."

Earlier in the season Dan Considine's hockey goals were, "To make it to the State Tournament and go undefeated in the League." Now that he's accomplished that, what's next? "I'm going to give the scoring title a shot," he says.

Considine's 55 points in Division Two are second only to Jamaica Plain's John Torchetti's 74.

"The number of goals you get isn't indicative of how you play the game," states Morris. "When you play the big games it's how hard you work and what you produce in the big games that counts." And Dan Considine produces.

"I'm not out to get the points," Considine says. "I'm just out to see who's on top of the board at the end of the game, who's got the most goals..."

From the Desk of Deputy Superintendent Joseph V. Saia Jr.
Commanding Officer District A
Charlestown, East Boston, Downtown

EXECUTE SEARCH WARRANT

Officers received a search warrant from the Charlestown District Court to search for narcotic drugs at 20 Auburn Street, Charlestown. The search was made on January 29 but nothing was found. On February 7, Detectives Ridlon and Ingemi arrested the woman resident of the above address on a warrant issued by the Charlestown District Court for receiving stolen property.

ARREST SAFEKEEPING

On February 4, 1983 APT, Agency reported an alarm at Sullivan Square, MBTA Station. Officers responded and observed a perpetrator coming out of the safe room door. The lock on the door had been damaged. The Somerville man was placed under arrest and transferred to District A for safekeeping.

On February 8, State Police arrested a white male at Bunker Hill Community College for possession of Class C

Drugs and for trespassing. He was transferred to District A for safekeeping.

On February 9, 1983 a Charlestown man was arrested by Detectives Gleason and Donahue on a default warrant issued in the Charlestown Court. He was transported to District A and held.

LARCENY ARREST

On February 6, 1983 at 1:30 a.m., officers arrested a Baldwin Street man for attempting to steal accessories off a motor vehicle parked at City Square.

These are just a few of the incidents which occurred in and around the Charlestown Area.

Thinking Out Loud

by Sal Giarratani

I wonder if when God created light, he had a wine and cheese party to celebrate the accomplishment?

I have to give it to the Mayor's Office, when it does something the world has to know. God forbid lights just go on without public celebration.

The new lights are a definite improvement over the old street lights but the political grandstand play was totally unnecessary.

And I'm afraid more of the same from the Mayor's People will come as we move into this election year and to be honest, more of the same from the other mayoral candidates, too!

More things get done that have needed fixing for a long time, especially when it's time to get re-elected or elected. Somethings will never change.

Getting back to last week's gala event at Thompson Square, I kept looking for Debbie Boone to walk in singing, "You light up my life." I do hope lighting improvements continue and expand into more residential areas. The new lights are so bright that the rest of Main Street heading toward City Square and Warren Street resemble a Black Hole in Space.

One thing about thinking out loud is you have no time to change it. What you see is what you get. I hope the Mayor's People accept my criticism in the spirit in which it is given. They can't expect to build up a simple thing like newer and better lights and not expect rational people to respond.

I hope the potholes on Main St., which now will be more visible thanks to the Mayor's Office, will be filled. If the Mayor's People can come through on this urgent matter, I will only commend them.

Mayor White has done a lot of good since taking office in January 1968 but four terms is enough and new lights on Main Street doesn't earn another four years!

"ONE NATION, UNDER GOD"

The full meaning of the words found in our headline, taken from the Pledge of Allegiance, has been enhanced by President Reagan's recent Proclamation of 1983 as the "Year of the Bible," and its current necessity is very well exemplified by his remarks later, at a Washington, D.C. National Prayer Breakfast, where he said "America will not go forward without faith in God," adding "Isn't it time for us to say, 'We're not too proud to pray'?"

Knowing that those who continually carp about separation of church and state will be lining up to take pot shots at this one, we want to get our oar in early to congratulate and thank our President for this magnanimous gesture, reinforcing the theme of our nation's National Motto, "In God We Trust!" Number 1 has proved by this action that "it is not a violation of the constitution for anyone in a national, state, or local position to say anything nice about God, our Lord Jesus Christ or our Christian Heritage," making this writer even more proud of his recent stopover at the Eire Pub in Dorchester's Neponset section.

Friends at No. Syracuse, New York's Phillippian Fellowship, coincidentally, have just furnished us a copy of their current bulletin, which alludes to an article in the January newsletter of Intercessors for America (Elyria, Ohio) that documents our country's belief and reliance in the Creator.

Here are just some of the examples from it: "First Charter of Virginia, 1606: This charter specified that the Virginia Colony should bring glory to Almighty God and advance the Christian faith; Mayflower Compact, 1620: Forty-one pilgrims prepared the first written constitution of our land. It opened, "In the Name of God, Amen, having undertaken for the Glory of God and the advancement of the Christian faith ...;" New England Charter: "To advance the enlargement of Christian religion to the glory of God Almighty;" The Carolina Charter, 1622, acknowledged that the settlement was constituted for "the propagation of the Christian faith, and the Declaration of Independence, 1776, makes four specific references to dependence of our nation on God." Add to that, if you will, the fact that all inaugural addresses by our presidents have included reference to this nation's dependence upon God, and all 50 states have a statement of faith in God in their constitutions.

As we pause to celebrate the birthdate of perhaps the greatest national hero in history, General George Washington, we note, too, that it was the "Father of our Country" who originated the order placing a chaplain in each regiment, issued the first Thanksgiving Day Proclamation in 1789 and who, upon retirement from the presidency, bequeathed us the following prayer ... which we know that all who believe in the sanctity of the family, and who oppose abortion, homosexuality, pornography and many other cancerous ills corrupting our society, will agree is as pertinent today as it was prophetic then:

"Almighty God, who has given us this good land for our heritage, we humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor, and be glad to do Thy will ...

Save us from violence, discord, and confusion, from pride and arrogancy and every evil way.

Defend our liberties and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought out of many kindred and tongues ...

In the time of prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble suffer not our trust in Thee to fail."

With no apology to the Humanists, who often credit their authority for the "separation of church and state" argument to Thomas Jefferson, we conclude with one of his quotations (found inscribed on the walls of the Jefferson Memorial), namely: "God who gave us life gave us liberty. Can the liberties of a nation be secure when we have removed a conviction that these liberties are the gift of God?"

This official recognition that "Holy Scripture is the bedrock upon which America rests" (Andrew Jackson) can only bode well for her future. So, again THANK YOU President Ronald W. Reagan for this timely and meaningful Proclamation. All of us, however and wherever, should S.T.O.P. what we are doing and praise God for the very breath of life He has just given us ... and may we all find our place in the Book of Life during this "Year of the Bible."

Correction

Due to a typographical error, the January 27, 1983 Patriot story, entitled "Kennedy Center Realizes Temporary Deficit," the sum of day care checks and money orders found in a drawer was incorrectly stated to be $28,000. The correct figure should have read $2,800. However since that printing, the amount has been revised by Kennedy Center Director Leo Carey to be $2,100.
