

Minecraft Game Server Hosting

It's a thrilling Sandbox game where you place blocks and going on adventures!

1.18 Caves and Cliffs Part II Update now available!

You can explore and survive in endlessly-generated environments with vast open spaces and a myriad of dungeons, enemies and enemies. You can explore the world without being directed to where to go, build incredible dirt mansions, or dig a hole to get away from the mobs. The outcome is entirely up to the player.

There are two main game modes. Survival is where you must travel around the world, search for food, fight enemies and build a home. Creative is where you have unlimited resources, and can build anything you can imagine.

Every single block on earth can be destroyed through mining, and then combined in a crafting table to make new blocks, armour, tools and even machines.

On the Java Edition of Minecraft there is a large modding community for Minecraft that includes a vast amount of additional content you can install on your server. You can access over 300 modpacks you can install in one click in our control panel. Let think of know if you do not see the one you are seeking. We'll install it.

Java Edition is not for you? No problem! On our service we also give you access to the Bedrock version of Minecraft so that no matter what device you're using we've got you covered!
