Hey Romain. I bought a 25 box of montecristo no. four and 10 box of cohiba maduro five from them in excess of seven years back and nevertheless have some in my humidor. Box seals and cigar bands were legit for both equally and consistent sizing and colour for all. You also cannot purchase anything from stores affiliated with GAESA, a Cuban armed forces organization.

On top of that, some cigar smokers delight in acquiring a light-weight sample on the flavor of the cigar in this way. It is not a little something you need to do - or need to do most of the time. But it could be valuable, especially for cheaper cigars that won't have a very very well-placed cap.

Update: I have to say I left an evaluation saying they're more than priced. Which I nonetheless imagine they can be but I just put an purchase for a regional output and I must say they are doing have wonderful customer service. Marc was on top of anything. Supplied the option I would like to save my income and buy someplace else but they can be very professional. Their choice of scarce cigars is great much too. If they reduced their rates I can be a more normal shopper. PS watch out for their gross sales. Sometimes they're going to have 20 or 15 per cent off. This is when to jump. They can be a decent deal at that rate.

We preserve our cigars in a wonderfully managed humidor to ensure you receive the freshest cigars doable. The Dominican Republic is the present massive boy on the subject of cigars and is also the most important exporter on earth to America. This is often also largely due to the Cuban exodus. A great manufacturer from this state is Arturo Fuente.
