Would you like to spend 12 months in a lovely, picturesque, medieval town in one of the smallest, but greenest, European countries?

Would you enjoy the opportunity to become an active part of the local community?

Then apply now, or before 14th of February 2023, by sending your CV and motivation letter to international@familija.eu

We are looking for 6 candidates from different programme countries to join our long-term volunteering project, which will connect different organizations from the Škofja Loka area, Slovenia, by incorporating the international volunteers into their everyday work for the period between

September
and August
2024.

PROJECT OVERVIEW:

The long-term ESC volunteering project “Kids in Action 10 – United in Solidarity” will connect 8 organizations or their units in the area of Škofja Loka:

- Familija (Youth Day Care Center Blok and Project Learning of Young Adults PUM-O),
- Center for Social Work Škofja Loka (DCΩ and DCM Podlubnik),
- Center for Social Work Kranj (Day Care Center DC Škrlovec),
- Three local elementary schools (Jelo Janežič primary school, Cvetko Golar primary school, Škofja Loka - Mesto primary school).

The main target of the project is to continue a well-established tradition of connecting related local organizations, that carry out educational, social and preventive programs for children and youth, and for other vulnerable social groups

Project overview

Project partners offer their users space where they feel comfortable and safe, where they can develop their social skills and where they can get quality support in their behavioral, emotional, learning and other needs. The aim of the programmes is to provide support to the widest circle of users, as well as to those with special needs and other problems.

Support is provided at an individual level (work with each individual), as well as in cooperation with their families.

All the partner organizations of the project are similar to each other, they have a similar work of practice and similar target population. That is the reason why we came to the conclusion that the cooperation between them should be strengthened by hosting a joint volunteering project with volunteers from different countries. Each of them will be included in the everyday work in the above mentioned organizations for the period of one year, from September 2023 until August 2024.

The program includes group work and activities with colleagues, cooperation between various institutions, training, counseling, holiday camps, day trips, workshops, etc.

The project is not limited just to the basic partner organizations, but it is also complemented by the involvement of volunteers in the work of different local organizations, which will take place once a week. More people will come into contact with the project, and consequently, through the exchange of knowledge, a small place like Škofja Loka will gain a much needed European dimension of viewing the world.

Our volunteers will be involved in classes, various workshops, excursions and camps, as well as providing educational and therapeutic assistance, organizing leisure activities, assisting certain administrative tasks, and promotion, etc. They will get to know the theory and practice of preventive work with children, youth and people fewer opportunities within the education and social system in Slovenia.

All the included institutions represent a very perspective environment for international volunteers, who are interested in working with youth or with other vulnerable social groups. The goal of all the organizations involved in the project is to gain new skills and experiences in order to increase the degree of tolerance, mutual acceptance, understanding and respect. Not only will volunteers gain from the project, but also from the entire local community.

Opportunities for volunteers

We offer the following available placements for volunteers. They will have their own basic working organization(s), where most of their work will be done, but they will also have an opportunity to get to know the work of the other organizations involved in the project.

Vacancy 1 – MDC Blok & PUMO

MDC BLOK (working hours 13:00-19:00) is a daily youth center which is a part of the Familija foundation. The daily center offers diverse programs for youngsters between 10 and 18 years of age.

The daily youth center is aimed at providing more equal opportunities for underprivileged children through facilitating activities. BLOK plays a significant role for the youngsters as it functions as a “second home” for them. Here the youngsters can truly be themselves, they are included in the planning and creation of activities and additionally have the possibility to develop themselves through these non-formal (educational) activities. They typically develop interests in new areas, improve their social and soft skills and increase their self-esteem.

“ BLOK plays a significant role for the youngsters as it functions as a “second home” for them. ”

The youth center is a place where they go to hang out with their friends, play board- or card games, do their homework, receive study assistance and participate in daily workshops. These workshops vary widely from creative to practical and from practical to sporty (e.g. co-creating a magazine, debate club, weekly sports, multi-cultural lectures, nutrition, dance competition, etc).

MDC Blok

Lastly, MDC BLOK occasionally collaborates with other organizations, institutions, citizens and artists of the broader local community (such as schools, PUM-o, library, municipality, a refugee or craftsmen). This is done to increase the youngsters' understanding of what is happening in society and thus to widen their horizons and potentially to activate them beyond what is happening at the daily center.

PUM-O

PUM-O (working hours 8:30 – 14:30) stands for “Project learning for young adults”. It is an informal educational program that serves youngsters between the ages of 15 and 25 years who dropped out of the educational system.

The main goal of the program is to motivate the young people to either continue education or pursue and obtain employment. The program enables the participants to gain different competences and skills through many informal forms of learning.

The program includes three trained expert mentors and numerous external collaborators who join the program in accordance with the current project activities, individual work and international projects.

The usual characteristics of youngsters involved in the program are lack of motivation, conflict behavior in the school system, health issues, backgrounds of traumatic family experiences and escapism.

The PUM-O program is holistic, and the training is tailor made for each participant according to their needs and desires. The methods we use include project work, activities of interest, individual work and international projects.

Vacancy 2 –

DC Škrlovec

The program is realized by two full-time workers and around 20 volunteers, who are involved in the activities based in their own desires, wishes, knowledge and needs.

First and foremost in Škrlovec, we want to include kids who face difficulties in the growing up process and who are deprived of normal family life.

The daily activities of the volunteer will be discussed with the coordinating teacher and will be mostly based on his/her interests and preferences.

They could attend various classes and help the teachers prepare some activities for the lessons, or offer help to individual pupils with difficulties, especially in language classes, occasionally also in history, geography or other subjects.

Previous experience in the field of education might be an advantage for the volunteer, but it is not a necessity.

Moreover, they will also be encouraged to organise or take part in some afterschool activities or school events (e.g. sports day, English conversation, drama, art classes).

Vacancy 4 and 5 –

We offer creative opportunities for positive peer interaction, motivation to complete school work and improve academic achievement, development of problem-solving skills, acquisition of new life skills, fostering good working habits, advancing communication skills, nurturing means of integration, gaining a sense of acceptance and security, and building self-esteem.

Jelo Janežič school for kids with special needs

The school educates youngsters with specific learning difficulties and its main focus is to help pupils with intellectual disabilities get as independent as they possibly can.

The chosen volunteer will assist with daily activities, help with the program and will also have an opportunity to organize different workshops based on their interests and the children's needs.

Arts and craft play an important role in both basic organizations, so the volunteer should be willing to take part in dancing, music and/or art workshops.

Previous experience with vulnerable groups is more than welcome and some knowledge from pedagogy and psychology is also recommended.

Who are we looking for?

The future volunteer should bring in their own ideas into the project and be prepared to create, plan and execute their own projects.

Accommodation, food and transport arrangements

The volunteers will be accommodated in one fully furnished apartment (including gas, water, electricity and Wi-Fi) on the main square of Škofja Loka, an old historical town with about 13,000 inhabitants, located 25 km north-west from Ljubljana.

They will be also entitled to receive a monthly “pocket money” of 150 €. A bike will be provided to each of the volunteers as well as tickets for public transportation (if required for the purpose of the project).

Free time

Škofja Loka lies at the confluence of Selška and Poljanska Sora and next to Škofja Loka Hills.

It is 25 km from Ljubljana, 40 km from Bled and 120 km from the Slovenian coast.

Being located in Central Europe, Škofja Loka is a great starting point to visit other nearby European cities. Budapest is 500 km from Škofja Loka, Venice 250 km, Vienna 350 km, Zagreb 170 km.

Be active.

Spending free time

Škofja Loka is a regional center with all the infrastructure that comes with it.

We have a library, post office, banks, numerous restaurants, pubs, four sports halls and other recreational facilities, a cinema hall, theater and many different clubs such as skateboarding, paintball, shooting, bee-keeping, climbing, mountaineering society, mushroom picking society, animal welfare society, yoga, dance, basketball, soccer, knitting, orchestra and folklore.

Volunteers can join all of these activities, and many more.

Language should not be an obstacle because everyone speaks English well.

The town is just small enough that young people know each other, but it is also an environment that enables individuals to creatively engage in the society.

The areas surrounding Škofja Loka have many possibilities for activities in nature, which also includes various forms of entertainment such as hiking, running, and cycling.

This gives individuals genuine contact with nature and additional opportunities for leisure activities. In summer, swimming in the Sora rivers is also possible.

Whereas in winter, skiing and snowboarding is available in the area.

The volunteers also have a stimulating impact on the Škofja Loka living environment.

Ask a question to any of the current volunteers.
We will make sure to respond within a few days.
