Note (Other Annual Income): You do not have to include alimony, child support, or separate maintenance income unless you want it considered as a basis for repayment. Your other annual income can include money received from various sources. Some examples are: family income, investments, social security benefits or retirement. If you are 21 years or older and regularly use income from others to pay your bills, you can include that too.

USA PATRIOT Act To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal laws requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. What this means for you: When you open an account, we will ask for your name, address, date of birth, and other information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents.
