G20 Demonstrators Stitched Up on Threadneedle Street

An Article by Matthew Delooze

My name is little Billy White, And I know what's wrong and I know what's right

An' the wife says "Geordie, go to London Town!"

An' if they don't give us a couple of bob, Won't even give you a decent job

Then Geordie, with my blessings, burn them down

(From the Jarrow Song by Alan Price)

Hello Truth seekers,

It's time to get my article pen out and write a quickie. Having been to Brazil for three ayahuasca ceremonies and having an appearance at the UK Probe at Blackpool March has simply come and gone in a flash. My mind is spinning most of the time trying to get the things I want to do done, but at the same time a force seems to be showing me many other things it wants me to do and understand too.

It's like I have myself actually talking to myself saying things like... "Write this, say this, do that, write the other, research this, do a talk there, stick a brush up your arse and sweep up, write this article, write that news, research this thing, research that thing, answer the emails, forget your life, just do this, just do that and just do the other"....etc...etc.

Sometimes a gridlock situation occurs and I come to a complete stop. I sometimes think to myself, 'whoa boy', come on get a bloody grip, one step at a time. I sometimes have an actual argument with myself too but strangely, even though its

'me' in some kind of schizophrenic mode I never ever let the side of 'me' that will be most kind to the 'other me' win the argument. I always end up either physically working to expose the Serpent Cult through research, writing and talking or I'm always thinking of ways to do the research, writing and talking to expose the Serpent Cult.

My life on a five-sense level is a total struggle and I flog myself to death just trying to fit in to the normal sheep like existence that I used to be part of 15 years ago but it is just impossible nowadays. I'm now in this world but not of this world. I am beyond the point of no return. I've shit my hole full as folk around here say.

Sometimes, when I feel pressured I feel like the brainless scarecrow that appeared in the Wizard of Oz when he is attacked from the 'flying monkeys' and all his 'insides' are scattered all over the place. Can you remember the scene?

Scarecrow under attack from flying monkeys

The heartless and the cowardly put the brainless back together

Did you remember the scene? I always thought that the flying monkeys were a bit too violent for a so-called kiddie's film but there again it isn't really a kiddie's film is it? The brainless, the cowardly and the heartless find their true selves through the directional ruby red slippers with Dorothy and of course Toto the dog. The brainless, cowardly and heartless realised they were never any of those things, they only thought they were. Just like you and I thought we were made of the same ingredients once.

Anyway no messing around let's get on with the tale eh? I hope you are all comfortable. Those that are aware of my work will know that I have written many times about how the force that I call the Serpent Cult (Inter-dimensional entities that are alien to this world and their human lackeys on Earth) use and control the human race to create and provide energy for them. For those that have not read my books or articles I can only suggest you start at the beginning of my free articles that are now easily accessible in the order they were produced.

I have in the past mainly concentrated on how the Serpent Cult attract people to join in positive energy Sun worship rituals that actually praise our enslavers through our 'positive emotions'. For example we are led to take part in Christmas because we actually enjoy taking part in it. We never think that it may be a very cruel deception to take part in a ritual we wouldn't really take part in simply because we actually enjoy taking part in it and therefore we willingly take part in it.

The same applies to rock concerts and events like Live 8, Live Earth and the Olympics etc, that we have covered in the past. I have done several articles on all these subjects but the vast majority of them relate to the act of free will 'worship'.

The act of free will worship simply means that the masses are conned in to feeling emotional because of the event they are attracted to (Music Festival etc.) or celebration (Christmas etc.) and their emotions create an invisible spiritual energy that is then harnessed and taken by a the fourth dimensional force I call the Serpent Cult.

The Serpent Cult can receive this energy because they have placed their own symbolism, their moniker if you like, on these events and they therefore become the official sponsors of these events. The celebrities and the religious icons used at these events are their spiritual property and they take proceeds of spiritual energy created at such events because of this.

A devious set of bastards in anyone's book they are too!

I have also mentioned, in previous articles, the use of 'symbolic temples' and how these replica temples can be used for covert and symbolic rituals. In recent years Barack Obama has been a good example on how to explain this matter. The build up to his inauguration was a prime example of how the masses unknowingly actually attend ancient sun temples and actually physically worship the lackeys of the Serpent Cult whilst they are shown inside a temple. Sadly the masses cannot see what is going on right under their noses and even more sadly the masses cannot see what building or monument is being used as a medium to export the energy they create in to another dimension to where it will empower entities that are alien to this world.

Anyway one of the reasons the Serpent Cult have the masses taking part in covert worship rituals at these events is not only to steal our spiritual energy, it is to extract our free will 'spiritual permission' to the Serpent Cult to rule over us.

Every human being is a natural creator of spiritual energy. Yes even you and me create spiritual energy and for that matter so does Colin Fry! We all create spiritual energy through our emotions. 'Every time you feel something you create energy'. The Serpent Cult knows this only too well and that is why they are intent on controlling all of our emotions at times and places when they need us to be emotional. They are very very deceptive and believe me they exploit our every move. You and I are a source of food to them and they farm us all very well. That is why the Serpent Cult controls all education, media, politics, entertainment and money etc. It is because all these things and more make us emotional and direct us. The Serpent Cult only control your mind simply because they want to control the spiritual energy you create. You and every other human being is a vital asset to the Serpent Cult simply because of the energy you create. It is vital to the Serpent Cult that you show respect to them in some way and I have pointed out how you do this several times before. The Serpent Cult has deceived you into surrendering your spiritual energy to them in some way and it makes sure you will continually do so, for their benefit, both in this world and beyond

Emotional Respect = Spiritual Energy

Once the Serpent Cult has received your free will emotional respect in some way they have then received the right to rule over you too. Just like the 5 sense agents like the Royal Family currently claim to have the divine right to rule but they can only claim this because we have surrendered our spirit to the 4th dimensional aliens that allows their agents on Earth to claim these things.

So if you can accept my previous claims and the spiritual surrender stuff and the ritualistic events that I have previously pointed out in previous articles then it is now time to start to 'see' how the masses actually 'ask' the Serpent Cult to allow their agents to pass 5 sense laws that control us all. I laugh when I see intelligent people blaming the likes of liars like Bush and Blair or Brown and Obama for the state of things.

On a spiritual level these people are simply doing what we have requested from their masters and they are simply servants for 4th dimensional powers that will reward them materially for their actions. On a physical level the masses have officially elected them as our leaders.

So it is us that 'request' our 5-sense reality. It is us that actually request our physical enslavement and it us that request our spiritual enslavement too. I'll show you how we do the latter shortly.

Just like the Serpent Cult con us in to carrying out covert physical rituals of worship they also con us in to carrying out 'official spiritual challenges' towards the Serpent Cult to challenge their right to rule us. This is simply for them to symbolically prove their right to rule is based on our free will. In ancient times the Kings or Pharaohs had to prove the right to rule to the masses to enable them to be fit to represent 'God'.

We need to look at a very good example of what I'm trying to say to make it clearer and the recent G20 events are a very good and simple way to show you what I mean. You need to open your mind to see this scam but because of the previous info I have provided it should help you. We need to step on the next stepping-stone.

For those that don't know, the G20 summit took place in London this week.

I watched quite a bit of it on TV. I wasn't there in person myself but I did tune in to mainstream media to see what angle they were actually spinning. To my surprise they were running "live coverage of the G20 protest". I somehow felt like I had to watch the mainstream version of events. So I spent a few hours simply watching events as they were shown on TV.

The police had obviously 'allowed' a protest to take place on the day before the actual G20 summit and they had allowed it to take place in the heart of the financial district. It soon became apparent to me that the protesters had decided to protest in or were being purposely shepherded by police to the financial district of Threadneedle Street. The Bank of England is in that area.

The protest started in central london....

...and ended up in the Threadneedle Street area...

The protest was in a sharp but good humour atmosphere

The police carefully shepherded most protesters to their destination

I suppose to most people this was just an average run of the mill protest against the system that was taking place. I can see how folks might see it that way. I certainly would have seen it that way. That said we are trying to wake up aren't we? The Serpent Cult wants you to see these protests in the way you used to see them. It does not matter which way you used to see these protests because it's time to open up your mind and see and think differently. The Serpent Cult only want you to see with blinkers on and the Serpent Cult only want you to see according to the brainwashing you have received all of your life.

By that I mean you either see it from the protesters point of view, which most of you reading this article will do, or you will see it from the police point of view. You will either see a load of thug coppers simply stopping protesters from protesting and over-reacting and using unnecessary violent tactics to control the mob, or you will see a bunch of layabout trouble makers using unnecessary tactics just to hurt policemen, whilst looting and play silly anti-establishment games.

It's all a matter of which way you look at it isn't it?.

In my opinion both explanations are probably true in their own way and on a 5-sense level. Please don't get me wrong because I could only ever be on the side of the protesters if I didn't know what I know now. There is a part of me that could have burnt down the Bank of England, the Houses of Parliament and pulled down the London Eye in one afternoon and still find time to walk down the Mall, stark naked, and shit on the doorstep of Buckingham Palace, before getting my matches out again to burn that bugger down as well. Matthew Delooze was capable of that. Mathew Delooze is capable of that today if only to let off steam and frustration about world events but that is exactly how the Serpent Cult wants me to think.

My experiences in life and my awakening in 1998/9 have opened my eyes and I can now see things that are going on that I couldn't see before and that is the reason I'm writing this article. If I couldn't see the things I see I wouldn't be able to write about them.

So let's have another look at the G20 protest from a different perspective. Come on folks don't be blind all of your life, have a day off. Let's forget about the term 'policemen' and let's bloody forget about the term 'protesters' too. Let's think programmed 'human beings' instead and look at it from another viewpoint.

Because at the end of the day that is what both side's think they are, human beings.

They both think they are human beings doing what's right for all. I was a trade unionist type left-winger for many years. I thought I was doing the right thing. I went on picket lines and protest marches. I supported the Miners strikes and went on strike on behalf of our NHS nurses. I had many rows over politics etc. I didn't realise what was really going on back then I only thought I did but if I hadn't done those things I wouldn't be able to see what is really going on now and what was really going on then

So what is really going on?

Well let's look at events again. Lets look at the area and the official buildings that are involved at the G20 protest and the G20 summit because if you look properly things can, if you want them to, become easier to understand.

The protest took place for the entire day mainly at the 'Bank of England'. The police as we saw in early pictures shepherded the protesters all day from dusk till dawn and eventually confined them in the Bank of England area. What's so bloody special about that then I hear you say. My research in to matters indicates that you may need to know more about the Bank of England to start to understand what has gone on.

The Bank of England has grown, was built, out of the ruins of an ancient Roman Temple of Mithras.

Yes folks, the Bank of England is built on or very near to the ancient site of a Sun God. Coincidence is it? If it is I will go to the nearest gay friendly lotto selling outlet on a busy Saturday and stand by the lotto machine, drop my pants, bend over and ask all the male customers if they fancy a 'lucky dip'.

The original Mithras temple was moved to Temple Court, Queen Victoria Street. In my opinion it was moved for ritualistic purposes in and around the Temple Church area. Surprisingly it has now been relocated again (or is planned to be relocated) back near to its original location near to the Bank of England. This is/has been carried out by famous illuminati monument makers Foster and Partners

The Bank of England is not just a bank built on the site of a roman temple either. It is a 'museum' too. So we have already got the same basic principles that I fully explained in my essay "Spitting Out the Feathers of the Benu Bird". In where we have ancient symbolic relics being admired in a building that has links to the ancient occult and symbolic geometry too.

I will add that the Bank of England's arty farty façade is allegedly based on the Sun and Moon temple of Rome.

Anyway the protesters were shepherded into an area that was surrounded by other temple like buildings. The Royal Exchange was one and Mansion House was the other

The protesters were shepherded to the Bank of England and the Royal Exchange.

I don't know who had given the police their orders for the day but a mass of people were forced into this area very aggressively and the emotions of these people, both police and protesters, were raised massively because of this. Yes?

Watch this clip and this clip to see what I mean. If you have watched them I should know that the police literally forced different groups of protesters towards the symbolic buildings.

The protesters were herded to the symbolic temples.

The protesters were literally hemmed in to the area that is built over the Temple of Mithras. They were on sacred illuminati ground and things started to heat up.

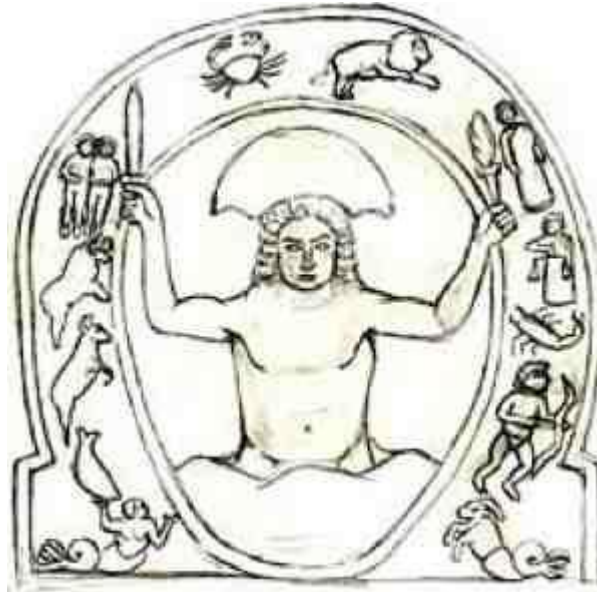

The Bank of England (Temple of Mithras) was literally smacked by the collective energy of the crowd

The police had forced them literally to the doors of the replica temples

OK then what actually is going on regarding a spiritual energy situation then? I'll tell you... the energy created by all the people being pushed into the area is directed at the temples, especially the Bank of England ('Temple of Mithras on a spiritual level). The combined 'angry' energy of the people involved, both the police and the protesters, is directed at the symbolic Mithras temple therefore all the energy is directed at Mithras (The Sun).

Mithras is the Sun God of 'Contracts'. Eh? The bank of England is built on the grounds of a sun temple that honoured the Sun God of Contracts? Well stick a feather up my arse and call me Matthew Fry. I didn't know that.

Mithras illuminated Sun God of Contracts

It is not a coincidence that the Serpent Cult used the site of the God of Contracts on Threadneedle Street to build their illuminated bank of the world on. It is no coincidence that this bank carries the symbolism it does. Can you see that? What are the odds of the British Establishment 'coincidentally' building their shit hole illuminati bank on symbolic ground linked to the god of contracts? The god of IOU's if you like? It's a blatant act of ritual and the liars that control this world and control your soul know that and come on folks it's time you bloody did too. Wake the bloody hell up why don't you? Do you want to really want to wake up? Are you playing games? Is your spiritual future just a game to you? Let your heart tell you the truth not your credit card and your comfort zone. You will only have that comfort zone as long as the Serpent Cult let you.

It was obviously planned to connect this building with a god of contracts Mithras from day one and it was also obviously planned to stick a museum in this temple too because the museum will be full of financial contracts and coins respecting the ancient members of the Serpent Cult and the energy created is being extracted through the replica temple of Mithras. The exact same scam is being used at the Louvre and the replica pyramid. The Bank of England, like the Louvre, is on an energy line that was previously exploited by the Romans but obviously the same brotherhood is involved today.

Let's get going... The protests, the angry energy if you like, were simply a symbolic and spiritual challenge to the secret rulers of this world over their right to rule. For some reason the Serpent Cult need our will and our right to protest at their symbolic monuments and buildings. I believe it is an act of some kind of cosmic democracy. The whole 'protest' was on a par with the masses storming a proper physical temple of the Sun gods and 'demanding action' and actually challenging the Serpent Cults right to rule. No one can deny that the protesters were using free will energy in their actions. Although the energy created was on the negative side of the emotional scale it was still energy and it was directed at the symbolism on display at the Temple of Mithras.

Emotional Disrespect = Spiritual Energy.

Displaying free will energy on a protest march or in a riot at symbolic temples like the Bank of England is the same as getting on your knees in a real temple and praying. Being on a protest march and releasing anger energy in front of a symbolic temple is also on a par with attending Glastonbury Festival and dancing in front of the Pyramid and releasing passive energy. The fact that the emotion is based on anger and protest does not make the energy created less powerful.

The Royal Bank of Scotland was targeted for damage after the crowd had been shepherded and trapped in that area. The Bank of England in the background

Indeed there was a physical attack on the Royal Bank of Scotland, which was sent, in pictures and film, around the world by the mass media, which is coincidentally, right next door to the Temple of Mithras (Bank of England). I certainly believe that agent provocateurs could have been in the crowd to attack that particular bank and the police certainly battered the crowd to that place and wound the crowd up.

The police made sure the crowd went where the police wanted them to go.

The crowd were 'coincidentally' led to the bank

The anger had already been put in the collective consciousness regarding this bank (RBS) simply because an agent for the Serpent Cult had receive the due reward for his actions of helping create the problems that have led to the economic con trick you now see all around you. Sir Freddie got a pile of cash for his deeds and the pre-panned publicity over this has been implanted in the minds of folks. But come on folks are not all the 5 sense agents in the Serpent Cult well rewarded for their lies and actions? They all piss in the same pot and they are all on the take. That is how the Serpent Cult operates, through greed and sleaze. They attract the most slippery of snakes to play 'a face of expertise' for the cameras but as I have previously said in other articles these people are as daft as you or they and I just follow orders. Sir Freddie has done what all other Knights of the Realm do. They wallow at a trough of greed and lies.

Please don't forget that the Serpent Cult control your 'emotions' even though you may think you are above that (you are not) and they can make you celebrate something or hate something when it suits them. It is obvious that emotional hate was created against Sir Freddie Goodman and the Royal Bank of Scotland for reasons better known to them, maybe it was to create subconscious, spiritual, anger towards the symbolism hidden in the logo of the said bank or simply Sir Freddie himself? I haven't had time to research the RBS logo but a very good suggestion was put to me recently in which it's suggested that the logo maybe connected to the 'Greenman' symbolism and the 'Knights Templar' in 'Scotland' Roslin Chapel sort of stuff and certainly Freddie is a modern day knight but as I said I'm only pointing out that the powers that be wanted massive emotion directed at 'Sir' Freddie and the 'Royal Bank' and they got it didn't they? Again I haven't researched the logo but Sir Freddie has earned his reward whatever symbolism it hides eh?

The RBS logo and the Greenman from Roslin Chapel Scotland (Source)

Anyway are you starting to see that the 'protesting crowds' and the 'protecting police' were actually both conned and directed to feel emotion and release energy outside the Temple of Mithras? Can you start to see that the collective consciousness of the British people at least has been manipulated and controlled to feel emotion about these things? Not that this scam is unique to the UK because the same scam of corporate fiddles and the use of symbolic bank logo's and the use of symbolic temples is being used all around the globe. It's just that most folks in other countries are just as blind and dumbed down as we are in the UK and again don't forget the Serpent Cult control our emotions. If your emotions are controlled they can be used as emotional blinkers.

If you feel emotion towards your economic situation then you will feel emotion, therefore release energy that is created by that emotion, towards the symbolic bank logos and symbolic occult temples they use. It's time to look at the images you see in this article again or do your own research and realise that on a spiritual level that there are far more things going during that protest than you could see. The Serpent Cult has taken your true vision away and they know we can only see the 5 sense things we see and we can only see the 5 sense things we are made to look at anyway.

Ok then if what I say is true then what is the reason the Serpent Cult creates the circumstances to get the masses to challenge its right to rule. Well again it has to be a 'free will' challenge and that is why the Serpent Cult create the problems that will eventually lead us to have a free will reaction to them.

It's simply on a par with that great saying of David Icke, 'Problem-Reaction-Solution'. That said it's not a 5 sense physical level problem-reaction-solution' it is a problem- reaction-solution on a spiritual level.

Both problem-reaction-solution situations are going on at exactly the same time, one is a con trick on a physical and political level that will affect your physical life in this world but the other one is a con trick on spiritual and inter-dimensional level and it will not only affect you on a spiritual level now but it will affect you and literally enslave you on a spiritual level in lifetimes to come. Do you understand that?

It is now easy, thanks to David Icke, to point out problem-reaction-solution on a five sense level but it's not so easy to point out problem-reaction-solution on a spiritual level. The blind 5-sense physical actions of the police and the protesters actually created the spiritual actions that the Serpent Cult required. On a five-sense level the people were simple trapped outside the Bank of England but on a spiritual level they were attending a ritual at the temple of Mithras. The Serpent Cult had spiritually got a representative collection of people to demand action at the temple of Mithras. Do you understand that?

The police also kept the protesters and obviously themselves at the Bank of England (Temple of Mithras) until the sun was going down. They had no access to food and water. So when you think about it the protest was basically a case of many human beings in various states of anger being outside the Bank of England from dawn till dusk. Well isn't it?

Yes there was no physical benefit to anyone at all was there?

When I saw this unfold I realised that one of the rituals used in Mithras worship was one of 'fasting'. The crowd had actually been forced to fast on a physical level but on a spiritual level the people attending the temple of Mithras were actually fasting.

The Protesters were literally trapped for hours outside these symbolic buildings and left to their own devices.

It's entirely up to you if the words and pictures in this article tell you something or not. The force that has consciously directed me for 10 years is telling me that I'm on the right track and saying that this story is an initiation into this information. I can certainly plainly see what is going on and I believe my words above are true and trustworthy so if I'm talking out of my arse I have absolutely no idea I'm talking out of my arse. OK? I'll also point out that these iconic buildings, like the Bank of England and the Royal Exchange are also used as awe building to collect emotional respect too. They are used as a museum and a designer shopping mall at other times. Just like the Louvre and the Champs Elysees are used.

The Royal Exchange at night

What happened the day after this protest?? Why were the protesters not allowed to stand right outside the Excel buildings where the actual G20 summit was taking place? There was a small token protest going on and that was half a bloody mile away so what good was that?

Think about it folks and you will realise that the 'protest' was only allowed to take place where and when the PTB wanted it to take place. And the G20 summit went ahead without a hitch as they always do. The liars and fraudsters that we allow to rule us and create the misery in the world fed their fat lying faces inside the excel centre whilst pretending to discuss matters that were already arranged months or years ago.

Protesters what protesters? Said the liars that rule you.

The liars and fraudsters, human agents for a alien force, that get you to continually enslave you through rituals you cannot even see

They already know what's coming and they already know how deep the recession will be because they have planned it that way. The fools playing games outside the bank of England were pissing against the wind and playing stooges in a sun god ritual (But shhuuusssshhhhh don't tell them they think they actually have rights)

Anyway the reason why there was only a token protest half a mile away from the G20 summit is because the spiritual challenge of the right to rule that was given to the Sun Gods at the temple of Mithras the day before and the challenge was fulfilled and given back to the masses, spiritually unopposed, the day after. The pre-arranged angry crowd was not needed for a ritual that day therefore no protest was allowed to take place where they didn't want it.

The G20, the physical human representatives of a 4th dimensional force, simply came back with a magical solution and that magical solution was in direct response to the challenge that was put to their spiritual masters the day before and again they were unopposed, so the magic formula was announced as not only a five sense miracle but as a symbolic right to rule from their masters. In other words the spiritual challenge put to the sun gods in the Temple of Mithras, the god of 'contracts', was answered by their agents on earth at the excel centre. Do you understand that?

The Excel centre where the magic response came from after the protest.

Can you grasp what I am saying? I am saying that the reasons for major official 5 sense 'protests' are created mainly for spiritual reasons and not for physical reasons although it looks like the opposite to the masses.

I have only mentioned once or twice before that 'protests and marches' are carried out to suit the Serpent Cult not the protesting marchers. It was mainly in my essay All for Nothing and Nothing for All. All protest marches, whether official or not, will only lead to symbolic buildings or to occult monuments. That's why our corrupt local authorities, controlled at top levels by the Serpent Cult, have placed symbolic monuments in your town centre's and they actually give us the right to march and protest, but only with their permission of course.

All major civic buildings that control your finances and laws will also be modelled on sacred geometry and/or based on occult temples of worship. This is simple because if you approach these buildings in a state of protest you are actually airing your grievances (praying for help) in the temple and all spiritual energy created by your actions will go to Serpent Cult and this is simply because their symbolism is hidden in the monuments and the buildings.

The Serpent Cult hide their symbolism in civic buildings so we cannot see their true purpose, a place of worship.

The likes of the lying royalty and lying presidents that rule this world can only claim divine right to rule because you and I have given away our spiritual consent to rule to their masters and this allows them to do what they do. The ruling elite in this world is only the ruling elite because we give permission to them to rule over us because we unknowingly worship their masters. It really is as simple as that. I realise that you have been programmed not to accept such a statement but that does not stop me saying it.

Even when we protest we 'have to' protest in front of the symbolism provided by the Serpent Cult. The actual act of protesting in front of symbolic buildings is an official acceptance that the force symbolised by the buildings has control over you.

Please note that the G20 scam protest is not a new concept because it has gone on for thousands of years. Protests and riots have always been used on a spiritual level for the masses challenge the spiritual forces that rule them to the right to rule them. It's because the Serpent Cult always 'provide a solution' to the protest (that remains unopposed) that gives them the spiritual therefore the physical right to rule. Think back over time to Poll Tax riots etc and you will see what really goes on. We riot a small token of response happens (Thatcher resigns) and we praise our enslavers again. Oh my brothers what bloody silly fools we have become. I quoted the Jarrow Song at the beginning of this article, that too was a protest march in London in 1936. Those brave men and women did just what the G20 summit protesters did this week, they gave their enslavers their energy in their enslavers temples. Sadly both events played in to the hands of our enslavers. If we as human beings cannot begin to see beyond the five sense reasons for these protests and see there is a use of energy going on them I'm afraid in my opinion the human race will never ever be free. If that is the true wish of the human race then it is time or us truth seekers to wrap it all up and shut the hell up.

I think David Icke sent one of his subscription newsletters out the other week stating that taking part in riots is exactly what the authorities want you to do. He is 100% right in my opinion but it is not only for 5 sense reasons.

David Icke also asks that you be aware of who exactly is whipping up emotions and causing violent acts on so-called peaceful protests. I know that the Serpent Cult place their 'agents' in the crowds and they will be there simply to direct the protesters and police (human spiritual energy) to where they want it released, it is usually a temple or occult monument or other symbolic building of some kind. These agent provocateurs will simply create the means for the protestors and the police to raise the emotional levels, therefore the spiritual energy, of the crowd and believe me, I have been there and got the T shirt, there is nothing good about being trapped in a violent protest / riot because both the innocent protester and even the well meaning policeman are victim in more ways than one. As I said earlier in this article there is part of me that wants to physically attack the deceptive bastards that control us but again that is what they want and if we do we will only increase our chains of enslavement for doing so.

Be aware of some organisations that tell you where and when to protest. G20 Meltdown were said to have created the plan of this protest and this organisation looks genuine to me on the surface but even ageing Militant Tendency veterans and Socialist Worker type organisations can be infiltrated and their actions manipulated, especially whipping up anger and hatred in certain areas. The years tell me that this type of protest are useless and gain nothing but empower the system even more than it is. The only way I see as a form of safe defence is through 'free willed non co-operation' regarding the physical and spiritual actions the Serpent Cult direct at us. Please remember these words... "Our true collective spiritual desires cannot be refused and will come to pass so please make sure your desires are your own"

Please be aware of things that are added to genuine protests and be aware of agent provocateurs

I am not telling anyone what he or she should do but I do advise not to take part in protests in city centres. Mob handed protests and even riots have never solved or won anything anyway. The Serpent Cult is very very tricky and they gain your free willed permission to rule because of trickery. So please don't be tricked in to demonstrating outside or inside symbolic buildings or around occult symbolic monuments. It's a very sick trick but a very effective one and you will be simply worshipping your enslavers.

The protests at the G20 in my opinion are a good example to show you what is really going on at these events but unless you open your mind and your eyes you will not see it.

I have only give you one example of how this scam works but the same scam has gone on for thousands of years and most of you have fallen for the same scam for many lifetimes. I say it's time to see through the scam and I have tried to point it out to you in this article. It is time to see that protesting in certain places really is an act of spiritual ritual. It is literally just like lighting a candle in church but most of all, to those that know my words are true, I say it is time to symbolically start 'untying the binds of Mithras' and to rid yourself of any contract you have with him.

We need to see beyond the mind control that has been placed on us by the Serpent Cult. We need to regain our true sight. We need to be able to see the scams that are being carried out on us. Once we start to do just that we will see that the Serpent Cult is just one big bag of deceptive horseshit and we really have nothing to fear. We can rid the world of fear but we can only do that when we lose our own fears and open our minds and see just what we are being conned in to doing in our lives. This country and this world is full of people who just want to live without fear and oppression and once we see through the trickery being played on us in this world we will see that there is just not physical freedom available but spiritual freedom is available and every single one of us is entitled to that.

The agents operating in the Serpent Cult, such as Queenie, Obama, and the rest of the vipers in the nest will simply become dust in the wind unless they have your free will permission for them to rule. Don't give it them and their inter-dimensional masters will be able to feed off our blindness and ignorance no more and you will be free.

That's all for now folks.

I thank you all for taking time to listen to my words.

May Love Reign O'er You all

Matthew Delooze 5th April 2009.

Interesting interpretation

Hi Matt,

Haven't been following your stuff since 'Spitting out the feathers'. Taking so long in life to discover the art of paragraphs, you obviously didn't go to school at St. Theodore's, but any road, I expect a lot of your readers are well pleased. Right piss-take done, now down to brass tacks.

I can see the sense in the sun worship symbolism and I personally put his down to millenia of careful sun observation for entirely practical reasons, like knowing when to plant and harvest. Very useful survival information for pre-industrial man and reason enough for it to have become engrained into our culture. Zeitgeist the movie has a very interesting section on the central role of astronomical (and centrally solar) science in pretty much most ancient mythology and current religious symbolism.

What I'm having difficulty with is the leap of faith into the energy transfer to these buggers in the fourth dimension bit. Personally I didn't give a toss about Di's road 'accident' - must be a hard-hearted sod. They didn't get a scrap of my energy from that stunt, whoever and whatever their motives.

Your solution to both Diana's murder and 9/11 in one go cut no ice with me Matt. Anybody with the will and perseverance to investigate 9/11 can see exactly who did it, how and why and sucking out our energy is a bit of a flimsy solution as far as I'm concerned. You may be right in cutting a long story short and I may be just too short-sighted to see how this involved 4th dimensional beings. Perhaps I'm as thick as two short planks, but I'm still willing to keep an open mind.

Need to catch up on all your articles. Keep 'em coming.

Peace and love and all that.

G20 demo

Of Course! There had to be some reason for hemming in a group of people for no apparent reason for a few hours with no chance to eat, drink or pee!

I am yet to come across any explanation for this clearly dangerous state of affairs other than yours Matt.

Am I thick or something to think that 'containing' people rather than let them go on their way was going to make them as angry as cornered animals and very pissed off.

A slow filtering out could have been possible surely.

No, there had to be another reason and that reason had to be a directive from someone who was 'in the know' as far as this 'holy' (or should it be 'unholy') spot was concerned.

A great opportunity for energy extraction on a very important area, and the coppers were as duped as the crowd and just followed orders from their masters.

Any cops out there care to comment? It would be great to have a Oneball commentator to throw some light on this.

Matt, you have to be dead right on this one, thanks mate.

Love and light to all of you. xx

Just watched the news, looks like they might have unwittingly got a sacrifice out of it as well. Poor, innocent news vendor, may he rest in peace and be avenged.

Hello Ozy?,

You can take the piss all you want Ozy. I always feel sorry for Catholics so I won't take offence. St Teds eh? You poor soul. I'm not here to do things the way the state tells me to so please don't spit any more feathers over my writing skills. I have an excuse though Mick.. I was educated whilst in the enforced 'care' of the corrupt English authorities. What's your excuse? Was the priest or teacher at St Teds molesting you whilst you learnt how to do paragraphs properly?

That piss take over Mick....

Well you are entitled to your own opinions but please feel free to share with us your conclusions regarding 9/11 and Diana. There is a members submission page opening soon. Please feel free to use it to place the information, created through 'your will and perseverance', that you claim to have.

If you haven't read any of my stuff since spitting the feathers then I can't understand why you suddenly write under this one, on this article, and start mentioning Diana and 9/11 stuff.

Again if you haven't read any of my stuff since the spitting article then I'll politely and discreetly point out that this article is really about the 'G20 protests' mate, not Diana or 9/11. I don't mention either in this article sorry! Are you blind or just daft? 😊 I suppose you leave a written note for the milkman on top of the dustbin man's wheely bin eh? Oh sorry I forgot the St Teds bit. Explains a lot sorry and as I said I do feel extra sorry for Catholics because of the silly brain washing they have had. They taught you how to do proper paragraphs but bugger all else at St Teds eh?

😊 Hey no worries mate I understand I know many of demented middle aged men in Burnley who suffered in a school called St Teds and are now reaping the proper effects of their sick education.

Mind you all the other schools are the same only not as blatant with the Jesus' dad stuff Eh?

Another piss take done...let's get down to brass tacks eh?

I don't give a monkey's if you cried or laughed over Princess Diana. I don't give a monkey's if you think the energy extraction theory is a joke or not either. Why should I? I'm not selling you anything. Take it or leave it or as in your case laugh at it 😊. Again you say your will and perseverance has already sorted the Diana / 9/11 stuff out so why bother reading any more about it... you have shut your mind on the case haven't you? Just like I have.

My will and perseverance created what I have wrote and have given to the public. Can you provide yours? Obviously we will honour any copyright you have but you are welcome to post your stuff on this site or the Matthew Delooze website Again please feel free to enlighten us to your information gotten through your 'will and perseverance'. Or will we find it' really through someone else's will and perseverance? Just like the stuff that was rammed down your throat at St Teds.

I offer an alternative Ozy and I assure you the information wasn't gained through playing silly buggers either.

Take it or leave it mate.

No worries either way. Look forward to your Diana / 911 info mate.

my very best wishes

PS I hope my paragraphs are now up to St Ted's standard but I'm sure glad my arse hole and/or my mind isn't it? I might have ended up like you then eh? 😊

Hello MB

In my opinion the organisers of such protests are instructed by the police of when and where they can go to protest. Only the high rankers in authority will decide on high profile protests. As mentioned in the article agents within protest organisations will whip up hatred and violence within the crowds. These agents can spark off incidents in any area on the official protest route and they have plenty of time to plan it on a five-sense level.

As I have written in the past, and I believe it is important that folks take this in, the Serpent Cult will carry out rituals actually 'inside' replica temples whilst there is a mob (spiritual energy) or symbolism (Occult endorsement) placed outside it.

The G20 protest was a prime example of this scam. I haven't researched the sad death of the man Matrix Buster but it is a possibility it is connected but my experiences tell me the a death ritual would have taken place in a secret room in the replica temple. That said it is possible that either through possession or other means that the death was connected. Either a policeman could have been possessed and whacked the man or the man could have been possessed himself simply to make the ritual complete.

Obviously we are going in to deeper areas there.

Thanks for your feedback. Without it I will not be able to carry on love

Hello Matt

Just a few words to tell you that your work is amongst the best in the field. I live in France and have discovered your work quite recently and you seem to reach conclusions that are close to mine. Do you think we are all taping into the same spiritual knowledge. I feel that the situation goes much much deeper than the five sense level and that essentially what we call reality is just a film being played out and that wen are caught in it. Through the diverse rituals (elections, marches, wars...) we give our energy to the beings that enslave us. I think that there is no "good side" neither the marchers, nor the police essentially they are all pawns playing a rôle. The same is true with the so called rivalry between the West and China. They are all pawns in the same game. This concept is sadly not understood by many so called conspiracy researchers (in france anyway). That is why I think your work is a breath of fresh air. Keep it up Matt!

Apolgies for straying off topic

Matt,

The reference to paragraphs was meant to be a compliment mate.

Didn't go to St Ted's, but last time we played them at football their centre half broke my nose. Went to St Mary's College, Blackburn (1966-72) and yes the priests were all nine bob notes but they never got near my arse. As for the mind, I came top of the class in religious instruction every year, because I figured out how their perverted logic worked and wrote exactly what they wanted to read, but never believed a bloody word of it 😊

Anyway I was up most of the night (made redundant at Xmas) studying your writings and came to the conclusion that you are definitely onto something. As you say, there are way too many co-incidences and something very big is going on. This latest Bank of England job, as you point out, was a classic case of assembling the herd at the focal point and then driving emotions to a peak. I know how it feels to be penned in by these Darth Vaders and when they stand in formation, banging their shields the adrenalin pumps hard. Not too sure about the voluntary respect element in this case though.

You have the advantage over me because you underwent a traumatic revelation, whereas I'm still groping in the dark. Woke from my sleep several times and a kind of rationalisation began to take shape. I've been thinking about it on and off all day (nowt better to do being on the dole with no decent job in sight). I'm very reluctant to do this (not sure its the right time or place), but I feel the need to do a brain dump and if it turns out to be a load of shite it won't be the first nor the last time I've made a complete fool of myself.

I'm unsure how to go about this, but I'll try and state what I think you are saying; state where I'm coming from and then try to make one and one equal two (but its more likely to be three) if that makes any sense.

Lower fourth/multi-dimensional alien entities are parasitic on mankind's emotional/spiritual energy and extract this by orchestrating ceremonial mass releases of said energy, focused through symbolic structures, with the (witting?) aid of powerfully-placed proxies/agents in human form. This parasitic power relationship has been ongoing for thousands of years and few humans are/have been aware of the process. Humans, usually limited to experiences of linear time and five-sense perception, are left at a massive disadvantage to the alien entity. Timing of ceremonies may be highly significant but I confess I don't understand how or why. Forgive me, Matt, for any glaring errors or omissions.

Though educated as a 'Catholic' I never had any time for organised religion. At university I studied Geology (Earth History) and Cosmology. Worked my adult life in computer science. Five years ago events shattered my scientific outlook (won't go into detail here) and led me to an unshakeable belief in reincarnation. This in turn led me to develop the following set of implicate beliefs. I think:

We are all incredibly powerful beings in spirit. We are part of the intelligent universe some call God. We incarnate (assume a temporary physical shell) undergoing voluntary amnesia in order to experience that which we can only know in a detached way when in spirit. The purpose of incarnation is through experience to realise that which we really are. Indeed, we create our 'reality' though few are consciously aware of this. I sometimes think of us as God's nerve cells, but that may be at best a very crude analogy.

These assertions may be naive, fanciful, shallow or just plain garbage, but not being a student of spirituality I only know that they work for me, for now at least.

In order to realise (experience) who we really are we need to experience that which we are not. Without cold, hot is meaningless. Without evil, good means nothing. So adding one (Matt's understanding) and one (my mis?understanding) leads to two. Or is it three? The 'aliens' and their human agents (Illuminati, bankers, monarchic and corporate elites, politicians etc.) are evil incarnate. Most humans are basically good, but in a deep sleep.

I sense that mankind is getting close to a very rude awakening. Evil is rampant and closing in for the 'kill' - the complete subjugation of man, both physically and spiritually. When the shit hits the fan most people will still be drowsy, but others will laugh in the realisation of their true indestructible nature and in the realisation of what and who their 'enemies' also really are, forgiving them and thanking them for the lesson.

Just the late night output of an overactive imagination, fueled by too much coffee and fags. God knows what I'd come out with if I'd been on the Brazilian hard stuff, like you Matt.

Peace, love and all that.

hello leonaury

Thanks for the feedback,

It comes in handy when you ready to retire 😊. In answer to your question."Do you think we are all tapping into the same spiritual knowledge".

Well look around you whilst you are in public and you will see that not many folks are 'tapping in to'any spiritual knowledge at all and they are simply entirely influenced by their education or their choice and source of other information.

I have found there is a certain section of the people that do have strong spiritual urges within them to be triggered in the right way for them (as they feel it and see it). This will allow them to see and feel some kind of escape, shift, or redemption is coming their way and again they will have a strong urge to satisfy their curiosity and that curiosity will act as a directional force.

My own personal opinion is that certain individuals will act as medium to pass on the spiritual knowledge to others and trigger certain folks and so on and so forth.

So if that situation works then yes people will have tapped in to the same spiritual knowledge but via a relay sort of system and not a mass blanket bombing from the sky type of manna from heaven system.

Hope that helps.

hello ozy.

Tha's come back lad.

Yes mate of course I must have forgotten the difference between compliments and piss takes:). I'm getting old and senile and bitter and twisted.

But hey you haven't lived unless you have been clattered with a St Ted's centre half.

I was too several times. Respect to you mate for your sufferings. It just goes to show that if the Catholic Church doesn't get your soul it punches you on the nose! I think the players were trained at St Teds to boot the hell out of the opposition in the first 5 minutes so other teams just keeled over for the rest of the match.

The ref was actually a teacher at the school too or if they weren't they knew the controlling clique in Burnley would destroy the lives of any fool that challenged the might of St Teds. 😊

Typical Christian practises eh? We will beat the shit out of you then go and hail Mary for doing so.

Yes I understand the darth vaders etc. You will feel emotional in that situation. I have a few t shirts myself.

I didn't say it was a 'respect' ritual mate I said it was a spiritual challenge to rule ritual. Please read the article again without focusing on picking faults and you may hear it better.

The 'free will' side of things is actually the act of joining the march willingly.

I did go through trauma yes but I have no advantage over any one. I have in many eyes been disadvantaged all of my life. Still am. But I wouldn't swap places with anyone today. Good job I didn't get a education or it would have bugged me right up I can tell you. So there are benefits to missing out on doing proper paragraphs, spelling and gramma. You also miss out on the brainwashing that will fuck you right up.

On the dole you said?

You should come to Burnley because being involved with the catholic education system will guarantee favouritism on the council jobs list.

The paragraph where you sum up my work, obviously complimenting me and not taking the piss mate, thanks for that:), is obviously 'your' interpretation of my theories or facts, which you have already previously stated doesn't cut any ice with you.

You then go on to state your 'own' opinions which seem like Buddhism to me mate but don't let that compliment pour any scorn on your unique inventiveness, especially after you attended St Mary's college.

Yes you reincarnate mate in my opinion and yes we keep ending up in St Mary's so we can reincarnate over and over again and play at being a wannabe intellectuals. Sadly we usually end up playing them on the dole living in misery and bitterness.

Don't forget to thank Buddha for that when you decide to adopt his ideas and end up in St Mary's next time you want to experience being a slave again. Keep doing it mate you might get there one day. Experiencing the same shit lifetime after lifetime is very educational isn't it? You then get to realise that reincarnation is for your own good to continue to experience things and any thoughts that you are food and entertainment will cut no ice with you.

I don't claim that bankers 'are evil' I claim certain high rankers in all industries and all commerce are agents working for a inter-dimensional force. You know what I mean Just like my mate Popey claims to do. He actually claims the truth and says he represents a multi - dimensional force. I agree with Popey 100% on this and he does serve a multi dimensional force. Unfortunately its not that bloke with the beard, or that fat get that you have similar views of.

I say the bankers etc do the same thing Ozy.(I take it you live in ozzy?) The bankers are not evil in their eyes they are doing what they think is right. They take the piss and they rob and steal and lie. Just like we all do in one way or another. We are only small scale pathetic tossers but these bankers got the full hog.

Obviously I agree with most of what you are saying in the last but one paragraph you wrote and so will most in the spirituality communities. We are all,in the main anyway, waiting for something to happen the only trouble is we are mostly waiting for someone to tell us what to do and think for us too.

How many folks will go running to the same ancient scriptures for comfort and advice that they were brainwashed with as children when their programmed egotistical little twisted minds can't cope with the fact that they truly hypnotised and are certainly incapable of thinking for themselves? 90% 95%?

I realise any new information whether it be true or bullshit has to be ridiculed and cuts no ice with those that believe their education actually did them good especially when that information comes from or through an uneducated buffoon like me.

But hey mate...the Brazilian 'Hard Stuff' has nothing to do with my ideas. I was writing long before I supped any hard stuff. The Ayahuasca thing is a different tale altogether but given the choice of receiving education through St Mary's college or a cup'o hard stuff I think I'd call the virgin's bluff myself and drink the hard stuff. By Christ, it's about some bugger did and actually exposed the slapper for what she really is.

My very best wishes
Matt

PS... No word on the 9/11 / Diana stuff that your will and perseverance solved? I'm sure we are all dying to hear this stuff. I am for sure. The members articles tag has just gone up if you want to use it. Speak your mind fully on 9/11 and Diana or owt else by all means mate. No one is going to censor you on here unless you swear too much or put porn links on and we need someone to start the members articles off or it just might end up a white elephant.

Maybe Buddha can tell us instead? Use Buddha as a pen name if you want it may sound better.

That's a compliment mate not a piss take. Sorry I didn't realise it before but I'm not as educated as you and my vocabulary is very limited.

pps thanks for the feedback and the the comments.

Puzzled - What the hell does Buddha have to do with anything?

Matt,

We got off to a bad start with piss-takes and bad schooling and paragraphs etc. But the time has come the Walrus said "to talk of many things: of sailing ships and sealing wax and cabbages and kings".

I will be back in Lancashire (to see my mum) in a few weeks and will buy the beers if you up for it.

No bad starts mate:) . I can take piss takes i have done all my life i had ginger hair and freckles.

We can blame Buddah for any perceived bad starts.

I don't refuse many beers Pete but my 'timetable' if full at the moment. apart from the odd Saturday night.

Hi Matthew, find it very easy to totally agree with all you say!
I read one of your articles mentioning these places of worship, and particularly the buildings with pillars outside, since reading it you have opened my eyes a great deal and i cant believe how many times, crowds are 'forced' to gather outside these places and they suspect jack st! But even with this knowledge, the g20 demonstrations plastered all over the news i still didn't click! Thanks for bringing it to light (once again) its now so obvious, the elephant in the room, once again!
Keep up the superb work!!

Re: Untying the Binds of Mithras - G20 Demonstrators ...

hello sudday,

Thank you.

It took many many hours to produce the protests articles.

So I am very grateful that a few people see the stuff that's in them.

It's become obvious to me that, in the main, the articles are taken for granted by those who have read them and kept up with them over the years and can see the bigger picture. The information in them is deemed a right to receive by some people.

Others think they are shite anyway:)

But that said sudday it is me that should say to you 'keep up the good work' if you can see what is in the article.

best wishes

Re: Untying the Binds of Mithras - G20 Demonstrators ...

Matt i have only just come across your work so you may note that I have read your posts and commented on a few as I go.

I saw your work recommended in a comment on a YouTube video and as a seeker of the truth i decided to investigate. My goodness i am glad I did!

I can say that I won't take your work for granted cobber and if you are ever down under please let me buy you a beer or three mate! I think your insights are spot on.

And i do hope you decide to put off your retirement for a wee while yet. I mean what else are you going to do in the skanky back streets of Burnley mate when you could be spreading messages of truth and transformation? You mention above in a response to leonaury that certain people act as a medium for spiritual information to act as a catalyst for others. You have fulfilled that role for me thus far and I do thank you sincerely for your efforts.

In regards to the energetic agenda behind protests and the like I must say that it makes perfect sense. I'm not sure i would have made the connections myself (perhaps i've drunk too much aspartame for my own good) but i am certainly grateful for you having made the link. It makes total sense on the intuitive level and justifies why every protest in Brisbane ends at parliment house ordained with the masonic maltese cross and crap all over it. FCK that.

I have never been one for protests but i did attend an anti-globalisation march in '94 and it was outside the StockExchange building in Brisbane. There were a few McStones thrown at McSh!t that day too.

I'll be sending more truth seekers your way my friend.

Cheers
Mark

Hello Matt,

this is a great article , I really learned a lot from this one - I think you've expanded on it since the last time I read it too.

Anyway, I thought the placing of the conference - the Excel building (pyramidesque - very, in fact, it's a pyramid) made me a bit twitchy as the Millenium Mills was across the water. The reporter was standing with the M M behind her.....it was that reporter 'flanders'..... Belgium nod?

Anyway, an interesting video, especially the telly shop scene:

Matt i have only just come across your work so you may note that I have read your posts and commented on a few as I go. I saw your work recommended in a comment on a YouTube video and as a seeker of the truth i decided to investigate.

My goodness i am glad I did! I can say that I won't take your work for granted cobber and if you are ever down under please let me buy you a beer or three mate! I think your insights are spot on. And i do hope you decide to put off your retirement for a wee while yet. I mean what else are you going to do in the skanky back streets of Burnley mate when you could be spreading messages of truth and transformation? You mention above in a response to leonaury that certain people act as a medium for spiritual information to act as a catalyst for others. You have fulfilled that role for me thus far and I do thank you sincerely for your efforts. In regards to the energetic agenda behind protests and the like I must say that it makes perfect sense. I'm not sure i would have made the connections myself (perhaps i've drunk too much aspartame for my own good) but i am certainly grateful for you having made the link. It makes total sense on the intuitive level and justifies why every protest in Brisbane ends at parliment house ordained with the masonic maltese cross and crap all over it. FCK that. I have never been one for protests but i did attend an anti-globalisation march in '94 and it was outside the StockExchange building in Brisbane. There were a few McStones thrown at McSh!t that day too. I'll be sending more truth seekers your way my friend. Cheers Mark hello mark,

hey they won't just bugger about with my cases down under and have a little snigger at me... they just won't let me in full stop. i have a 'criminal record'. The USA is out of the question too. visa's and grovelling might get me in and the cash to get there might come in handy but i'll take beers of anyone... 6 did you say cobber?

but if i don't get in I'll go to rome instead..

rome the backstreets of skanky Burnley

... re comments to leon about 'messages'

if our minds are not ready for the message then we won't hear them. there is no point giving the message untill the minds that need to hear it can hear it. 'the preparation to open ears' is harder than the messages that will enter them when they are ready and opened. and don't i bloody know it mate.

what we laugh at today will lead us to be humbled .

but don't tell the fakers that. they won't believe you.

cheers for posting

matt
