Gardens For Charlestown Seeks Community Support

Gardens for Charlestown has entered the award-winning Sullivan Square and Hathon Square Community Gardens in the First-Ever National Community Garden Contest sponsored by the American Community Gardening Association (ACGA) and Glad Wrap and Bags. The goal of the contest is to focus national attention on the importance of community gardening, and cash prizes will be awarded in each region. In addition, Glad will redeem proofs of purchase for cash from participants in the contest. We would appreciate support and help in collecting proofs of purchase - the stripes and bars code on the bottom of Glad Wrap and Bags. We will place collection boxes at the library, the Sullivan Square Garden tool shed, or proofs can be mailed to GFC, P.O. Box 44.

Saturday Is Clean Up Day

Saturday, April 14th, is Clean-Up Day in Charlestown. City departments will cooperate with local organizations and residents in cleaning vacant lots, playgrounds and streets.

Residents of all ages are urged to assist in the clean-up. Workers should meet at Thompson Square at 9:30 a.m. where work assignments will be made. Equipment such as rakes, shovels, and trash bags will be provided by the city. There will also be trucks to collect the trash accumulated that day.

Also, residents are asked to cooperate in street cleaning efforts on that Saturday. Residents should park their cars on the odd numbered sides of the streets from 8:00 a.m. to noon and move to the even numbered sides of the streets from noon to 4:00 p.m. Boston Police Deputy Superintendent Joseph Saia has stated that police will be cooperating in this effort by announcing the parking restrictions over the loud speaker and cars left on the sides of the streets slated

Public Hearing

CITY OF BOSTON
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
URBAN DEVELOPMENT ACTION GRANT PROGRAM
BUILDINGS 149 & 199, CONSTITUTION OFFICE PARK
CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD

Under the Housing and Community Development Act of 1977 the City of Boston is applying for Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) funds. These funds, which will be awarded on a competitive basis to various municipalities in the country, can be used to stimulate new and increased private investments for the purposes of revitalizing local economies and reclaiming deteriorated neighborhoods. By statute the Mayor is responsible for development of the Boston Urban Development Action Grant application.

This hearing, which is mandated by the Department of Housing and Urban Development to receive citizen testimony regarding the purpose of the application, will be held on Thursday, April 19, 1984 at 5:30 p.m. in the Board Room of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, 9th floor, City Hall, Boston.

Brief presentations will be made at the hearing describing the proposed rehabilitation of Building 149 into an office/retail facility that will create approximately 1200 new jobs and the conversion of Building 199 into a public parking facility for 1300 cars. The developer for this proposed project is Constitution Park Associates Limited Partnership, a Massachusetts limited partnership of which the Congress Group, a Massachusetts corporation, and Edward J. McCormack, Jr., are general partners.

A short question and answer period will follow. Handouts will be available at the hearing. For further information contact Carole Mathieson at the BRA, 722-4300.

To insure that Boston's application will reflect neighborhood needs and priorities, the City of Boston urges that residents express their opinions concerning the application. Urban Development Action Grant Funds will be allocated in accordance with federal equal opportunity and civil rights laws, regulations, and requirements. Those unable to attend are welcome to submit comments in writing to:

Pride is that remarkable virtue which we relate to moral excellence, goodness, or worthy practice. The feelings that we have about family, friends, our home and neighborhood, our church, community are feelings of Pride. A beautiful tribute to some local high-school hockey players that recently appeared in the Herald was an example of personal, team, and community pride.

You will have an opportunity to experience personal pride of the highest level in St. Mary's Church on Wednesday, April 18 at 7:30 p.m. when the St. Mary's Players put on an electrifying production of "Triumph and Tragedy". The play is a re-enactment of Christ's sacrificial offering.

Charlestown To Charlestown

by Kathleen Browne
It is approaching that time of the year, when a new Rose for 1984 will be chosen. I am writing this column to encourage the young women of Charlestown to take advantage of the opportunity of participating in the Rose Contest. This is a "once in a lifetime" opportunity. I can now say that winning the Rose Contest was an experience in my life that I will always treasure. Though you are not winning the Miss U.S.A. title, so to speak, for that moment, when you are on the runway at center stage, you feel like you are, for the people in the audience, who are family and friends, make you feel very special. The trip to Ireland is almost like an added bonus.

I met some wonderful people on my trip, some of whom I still keep in touch with, and I know that when and if I ever get to Ireland again, their doors will always be open.

This year's trip for the Mayor and Rose is even better than last. You now have a guided tour package which will allow you to see and visit the many historical and social places Ireland is known for. Being the first "Rose of Charlestown" is an honor and I can't emphasize enough how important it is to the Charlestown to Charlestown Committee, residents of Charlestown, and myself, to have the privilege of crowning another Rose this year.

Those interested should pick up an application at the American Legion Hall on 27 Chestnut Street on Monday evenings. The Committee meets every Monday night at 7:30 p.m. Though it doesn't matter who picks up the application, the Committee wants all applicants to return their completed applications in person.

If you have any questions regarding the Rose Contest, I will be at the next Charlestown to Charlestown meeting and will be glad to help you out in whatever way I can.

The Importance of Planning

It is only natural to put things off, but proper planning can spare a family traumatic decisions and financial burdens in the event of one's death. Pre-arranging a funeral may seem a difficult task, but there can be peace of mind for an individual who knows his or her wishes will be followed. For more information and guidance in funeral pre-arrangement . . . why not visit us or write for your FREE Pre-arrangement Booklet.

City Gardens: Growing Vegetables - Seeds

by Barbara Maheigan

Seeds - there are hundreds of varieties available through catalogues and at nurseries. The tiny seeds hold the promise of a beautiful, bountiful garden in July, and it is hard to choose just a few packages. Here are a few guidelines to remember when choosing and starting seeds.

Seeds are very inexpensive, and it's wise to buy the best quality available. Look for disease resistant varieties that suit your space limitations. Local stores carry seeds which are grown for our climate, but when ordering from a catalogue you must check the zone code to make sure that the variety will flourish in our limited growing season.

Last year's seeds can often be used, but test them before planting. Simply place at least ten seeds on a wet paper towel, and put the towel in a plastic bag, closing with a twist tie. Keep the bag at room temperature. After a week, open the bag and count the number of seeds that have sprouted. If less than half have germinated, close the bag and wait a few more days, and check again. If less than four seeds sprout, the germination rate is 40% and the seeds should be replaced to ensure success.

Most seeds will be planted directly into the garden. The seed packages will give most of the specific planting information: depth and row width, germination time, etc. There are a few general principles that are applicable for all types of seeds:

1. Always plant seeds at the proper depth.
2. Firm the soil over the seeds to prevent air spaces.
3. Water thoroughly after planting.

Seedlings will appear between two and fourteen days, depending upon the variety.

It's time to plant beets, carrots, chard, leaf lettuce, onion sets, peas, radish, and turnips now. Before planting the seeds, make sure the soil is not too wet after all the spring rain to avoid seed rot.

Summerworks is funded by the city's Neighborhood Development and Employment Agency (NDEA).

You must also supply your Social Security number; if you don't have one, apply for it today at your local Social Security office. You must also provide proof of your birth date, family income and residence (such as a bill with an address on it).

Summerworks places Boston youths in a variety of jobs at more than 400 public and nonprofit agencies in Boston's neighborhoods, including recreation facilities, museums, hospitals, day care centers, offices and other sites. Youths also attend workshops on career development and learn the basic skills of finding and keeping a job.

For details, call or visit your local Summerworks intake center, or call ABCD at 357-6000, extension 372.

"Boston Rebuilds" Recruitment Underway

An innovative new program to rebuild abandoned properties in Boston's neighborhoods while offering job training opportunities to local residents has been launched. "Boston Rebuilds - Building Skills and Rebuilding Neighborhoods" is now recruiting residents interested in learning housing rehabilitation trades.

Sponsored by the City's Neighborhood Development and Employment Agency (NDEA) and the Boston Private Industry Council (BPIC), the program seeks to train 90 individuals in all aspects of the housing rehab trades. Client support services including job placement, counseling, bi-lingual education, and reading and math tutoring will be provided.

In kicking-off the recruitment drive, NDEA director Paul Grogan said, "Boston Rebuilds" aims to develop a qualified, skilled housing rehab workforce while upgrading the city's housing stock. The training program will also insure that city residents will be able to take advantage of the projected demand for qualified construction workers over the next five years, and as such, will support Boston' Resident Job Hiring Policy on city-assisted construction projects."

Following an initial classroom orientation training period, students will receive on-the-job training at two city-owned abandoned properties in Dorchester. The properties selected by NDEA/BPIC to be rehabilitated will yield five new units of housing which will be available for purchase at affordable rates to Boston homebuyers once the major renovations are completed. NDEA/BPIC have targeted these properties as part of the City's efforts to rehabilitate vacant and abandoned structures into decent and affordable housing for neighborhood residents.

For more information on "Boston Rebuilds - Building Skills and Rebuilding Neighborhoods" program, Boston residents should call 427-3583 or 357-4471.

$40,000 Navy Scholarships

The Navy is now accepting scholarship applications for the Naval Academy (USNA) and the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps (NROTC). There are 1350 scholarships being offered by USNA, while the NROTC program also affords in excess of 2,700 four-year Scholarships which may be used at over 160 civilian universities throughout the nation.

This is an excellent opportunity for qualified students to receive either a USNA scholarship which pays all educational expenses while living at the Academy, or a full tuition NROTC scholarship worth up to $40,000, both extending the opportunity to receive a commission in the United States Navy upon graduation.

To present the benefits of both scholarship programs, the Navy Recruiting District, Boston has scheduled information nights and encourages all interested high school juniors, parents, faculty members and guidance counselors to attend. An information evening will be held on Tuesday, April 24th at the Charlestown Navy Yard, in the Hull Room by the former Officers' Club.

For reservations and further information, contact either District Boston's NROTC Program Manager, Chief Petty Officer Richard Murray at 223-4195, or Dr. Edward Bryant at 223-5888.

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON NATIONAL BOYS CLUB WEEK APRIL 17 - 21, 1984

As Honorary Chairman of Boys Club of America, I am pleased to extend my warmest greetings to all who are participating in the 1984 observance of National Boys Club Week, April 17 - 21, 1984.

National Boys Club Week provides me with a very welcome opportunity to commend the thousands of men and women across this land who give so much of their time and talent to make this worthwhile program possible.

America's future rests with her youth, and our young people need opportunities to learn, grow, and mature. Boys Clubs help provide youngsters with a healthy environment that will aid in their development and make them better and more productive citizens.

Through programs emphasizing career guidance, health and fitness, delinquency prevention, and community service, the trained professionals and dedicated volunteers at some 1,100 Boys Clubs provide over 1.2 million members with the support and encouragement they need to achieve their individual potential.

Our country was built with the spirit of neighbor helping neighbor and by people willing to get involved for the common good. This same spirit enables every Boys Club to open its doors to local youths and to offer happiness and hope to those who enter.

I urge all Americans to join me in observing National Boys Club Week, and I encourage everyone to support this outstanding organization that is doing so much to benefit our future leaders.

Noted saxophonist and Berklee College of Music faculty member Randy Felts, a resident of Charlestown, led his dynamic band "Ear Candy" in its television debut during the group's first major club appearance recently. Performing at the popular Mark's Pub in Watertown, the top-flight ensemble, co-led by Berklee faculty trumpeter Mirek Kocandrla, was videotaped for upcoming broadcast by Westwood Cable TV.

A Berklee alumnus, the versatile Felts has performed as a soloist with the College's leading ensembles in Berklee's prestigious Concert Series and can be heard on a new recording of "pop Irish" music that is receiving widespread airplay and being expanded to an album. The gifted musician has performed with a wide variety of popular rock and show bands throughout New England and New York and has been a music instructor at the Brookline Music School, Dover-Sherborn Regional High School and in the Reading Public School System.

Legislative Package To Address Housing Needs

by Mayor Raymond L. Flynn

An 80 year old woman is living in Charlestown without electricity or heat in a deteriorating tenement. She is being held hostage by a fixed income. Her three story building has open windows, exposed wiring, falling plaster, sinking floors, and rats. She sleeps in a chair by the stove and uses her flashlight to get around. Her pipes sometimes freeze and she buys tap water from neighbors for $2 a gallon in plastic jugs.

The building this woman lives in has just been purchased by an individual who wants to renovate it, and the new buyer wants this elderly woman and the second floor tenant to move out so that renovations can begin. After the refurbishing is complete, the rents will skyrocket.

This is just one example of the many difficult problems faced by our neighborhood residents of low and moderate income: that is, increasingly they face eviction, higher rents, or condominium conversion. My campaign for Mayor stressed an expansion of the city's housing stock; the protection and expansion of opportunities for home ownership, and the protection for tenants and small landlords. Within the next weeks my administration will put forward a legislative package which I believe will begin to address these desperate needs.

Consider the following statistics:

- The city's rental housing vacancy rate in November, 1983 was 2.29%, according to the Rental Housing Association of the Greater Boston Real Estate Board.

- The city has estimated it will need 18,000 new rental units in the next decade to keep pace with the demand.

- A growing number of homeowners find themselves in financial distress, unable to keep pace with the costs of maintenance and upkeep.

- Between 1970 and 1980, rents rose an average 99%, which median income in Boston lagged with an increase of only 56%. Today the average rent in Boston is over $460 a month. The average rent for a 3 bedroom apartment, the type needed by a family, is over $680 per month.

- Even more shocking, 14,000 units of housing stand vacant in our city. More than 6,000 units of low and moderate income housing are in various stages of financial distress.

- As of January 1, 1983, there were 12,366 residential condominiums in Boston. Their average assessed value is approximately $77,000.

- An estimated 55% of Boston's two-person families are eligible for subsidized housing. The shortage of privately-owned, rental housing is so severe for these groups of Bostonians that the Boston Housing Authority has a waiting list of over 6,000 applicants.

- 12,000 homeowning families and 58,000 tenant families are considered "shelter poor" by housing experts. That is, they pay such a high percentage of their incomes for shelter that they must do without other necessities of life. These 70,000 families make up one-third of all Boston families.

WE NEED CREATIVE SOLUTIONS

Last week, for example, we announced plans to renovate 20 of a projected 50 vacant and abandoned properties in Boston's neighborhoods throughout the city through the City's Urban Homesteading Program. Through this program the State, for the first time has allocated a substantial block of funds to Boston's housing and rehabilitation programs which will allow families of moderate income to get lower-interest mortgage monies from the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency. This cooperative approach enables us to maximize use of existing resources and shows what can be accomplished when we work together to address housing and community needs.

In order for Boston in the 1980's to be a place where low and moderate income households, including the elderly, minorities, long-term residents, and their children, can continue to live and work, there is a critical need to protect them as well as the housing stock from the negative impact of economic revitalization. Effective rent, eviction and condo conversion controls are an essential element of a comprehensive program to control displacement and to preserve affordable housing. My administration is committed to that.

Become A Friend Of The Parks

Do you have a great idea for an activity in a Boston park or recreation facility? Is your community group or organization interested in planning a clean-up, special event or recreation program in a local Boston park but can only raise part of the money?

Boston Parks and Recreation Commissioner Robert R. McCoy announces the new Friends of the Boston Parks Program which will assist groups with these types of projects with grants of up to $2,600.

Through the federally funded Boston Partners in Urban Recreation Program, the Boston Parks and Recreation Department will award grants to non-profit organizations who wish to design and implement new programs or special projects in neighborhood parks or facilities managed by the Parks and Recreation Department.

The Department is looking for a wide variety of programs such as cultural events, athletic programs, park clean-ups or other projects which will utilize volunteers, encourage support among local businesses and other neighborhood groups, or provide a new activity which contributes to park and recreation services in the City. Eligible groups must have non-profit status or be sponsored by a non-profit group.

Programs must take place and be completed between June 1 and December 31, 1984. Application deadline is 5:00 p.m. on May 4, 1984.

Applications are available at the Boston Parks and Recreation Department, Room 816, Boston City Hall and at the Bunker Hill Recreation Room, 15 Lyndeboro Street, Charlestown.

Seeks Ancestors Of Rathlin Island Emigrants

Dear Mrs. Conway,

I write to you at the suggestion of Ms. Marie Daly of Waltham, in the hope that you might be able to help me with my research. I am studying the history of Rathlin Island off the coast of County Antrim in northern Ireland, and am interested to discover information relating to emigrants from the island. Ms. Daly has sent me details of gravestone inscriptions from Mount Auburn Catholic Cemetery in Watertown, which refer to islanders, and many Massachusetts surnames are or were well known on Rathlin Island. Local accounts state that some islanders emigrated to the Maine coastal region.

As well as discovering the whereabouts of emigrants, I should like to know if their families preserve any traditions about their ancestors, of their life on Rathlin and of their reasons for leaving. Any help with this project would be greatly appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

NEW HOMES SMALLER

Homebuilders are adjusting to affordability problems by building smaller houses with fewer amenities. After a decade in which the median number of square feet in new homes steadily rose, those built in the past three years have become smaller. The median living area of new homes completed last year was 1,550 square feet. This is 45 square feet less than the previous year and 105 square feet smaller than those built just three years ago.

Builders are also reducing the number of amenities in new homes to cut costs. More new homes with just one bathroom are being built while the proportion of homes with two or more bathrooms is slowly decreasing. Also, more homes are being built with two bedrooms or less. Last year, only 20% of new homes had four or more bedrooms. One amenity is bucking the trend. Almost two thirds of homes built last year had central air-conditioning. This is an 11% increase over the past three years.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at ETHEL MAC REALTY, INC., 10 Allston Street - Phone: 242-2006. Professional Service you can trust!

Curb Your Dog

The solution to your dog "wants" problem, is not to walk your dog around the block, or to ride him in a car, to foul someone else's sidewalk, tree or yard... or take him to the Park or to the Monument. These places are meant for people to enjoy. One should be able to sit in a park or to walk on a sidewalk without being subjected to offensive dog odors.

It's your dog! It's your job to clean after him! Use your cardboard and your trashbag.

You claim to be dog lovers, but when it comes to cleaning after your animal, you are uncaring slobs!

Facts About Drugs — F.A.D.

How long does marijuana stay in the body after it is smoked?

The body, in its attempt to rid itself of THC, the active ingredient in marijuana, transforms it into metabolites. These metabolites can be detected in blood tests and the urine up to a week after marijuana is smoked.

Can marijuana cause brain damage?

No study has turned up evidence of this. Yet tests on monkeys who have been trained to smoke a marijuana cigarette five days a week for six months have shown changes in the structure of the monkey's brain cells. So the possibility of lasting changes in brain function from heavy and continuous smoking of marijuana can not be ruled out.

How does pot affect the heart?

It increases the heart rate as much as 50%. For this reason, people with heart conditions, or those who are at high risk for heart ailments should not use marijuana.

How does marijuana affect the lungs?

Pot smokers inhale the unfiltered smoke deeply and hold it in their lungs as long as possible. Repeated inhalation of smoke whether cigarettes or marijuana, inflames the lungs and affects breathing. Five joints a week would be smoking six packs of cigarettes a week.

Can marijuana cause cancer?

There is no direct evidence of this, but the smoke has more cancer-causing agents than tobacco smoke. In laboratory tests, the tars from marijuana smoke have produced tumors when applied to animal skin.

Chronic marijuana users have lower levels of male sex hormones, tests have shown. Abstention from smoking reversed this condition. Findings suggest that regular pot use may reduce the fertility in women. In both males and females, marijuana has been shown to affect the growth hormone. This makes it a worry with adolescent boys and girls.

Annual Good Friday Procession Of The Cross

Residents of Charlestown are invited to participate in the Annual Charlestown Ecumenical Good Friday Procession of the Cross that will depart from Thompson Square at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, April 20, 1984.

THEME

This day, as we remember the suffering of Jesus on the Cross, we also ponder His compassion for the many sufferings of His children, here and now. Our hope is to make known to more people, the many services which are being offered to alleviate some of these sufferings.

Something's Fishy!

Two fishy fellows are now making their homes in the Children's Room of the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street, but these fancy fish need names!

The Children's Room is sponsoring a "Name the Goldfish" contest for our fish friends. Anyone may enter by simply writing your choice of names, along with your own name and phone number, and dropping it in the box in the Children's Room.

The winning entry will be chosen in a random drawing on Thursday, April 19, at 3:30 p.m. and the winner will be awarded a riddle book, "Fishy Riddles."

Get in the swim of things and enter your favorite fish names soon!

Interested gardeners may find out more about the program by visiting the Library at 179 Main Street or calling 242-1248.
