Cinema has long turn into a large part of human life and will stay permanently. Cinema brings persons together, evokes feelings, designs awareness and conveys the very idea of its creators. These and many other factors have an effect on the psychological state of the viewer. Talking about effects of movies on human mind. Children, adolescents and people with unstable psyche are most susceptible to the dependency phenomenon. We all have been there - we've all felt courageous and fearless after watching a Marvel movie or a comedy with Jacky Chan. We've all observed the effect of quality acting on how we perceive ourselves and associate ourselves with charismatic movie characters. In this relation, the only worry left is what sort of heroes we would like to associate ourselves with and which kind of philosophy they have. There is no secret that negative characters sympathize with a large number of individuals. A large number of behavioral patterns that we notice in persons around are taken from the movies. And this is not always a conscious selection, but a product of influence on the subconscious mind. Do you think this is all absurdity and only is applicable to children wearing a Spiderman mask? Obviously, it's silly to blame films for people acting in a certain style in real life, yet it's imperative that you admit the large affect of movies on society and human behavior. So, what's my point? Watch top quality films with fantastic acting and uplifting stories and never forget that real world is different and you're no super hero or an immortal.
