I found West Indy Barbell because I injured my back deadlifting and knew I needed a good team and coaches at my reach. After still squatting and deadlifting for a few months I realized something wasn't right even after six months of rehab and addressing weak points. So going back into training I shifted my attention to the bench only for now until I can figure out what's actually causing my issues with an MRI. Ever the meathead, I can still squat and pull 500 with a hurt back so once I fix it, it'll be go time. Until then, I'm going to keep getting jacked and working my bench only cycle and posting the videos. #powerlifting #benchpress #westindybarbell
