I was remarking to my partner today about how frustrated I feel during this healing process, that I feel like I should be healing faster, or better. That being a month post op means I should feel “fine” by now. That there’s something wrong with me because this healing process has for the most part been deeply physically uncomfortable. But I realized I was comparing my healing process to others I’ve seen online. I was setting my fully formed and embodied experience next to a few online images and wondering why the two didn’t match up.:

A close-up photograph of a person's arm, showing a prominent bruise on the forearm. The bruise is a mix of purple, red, and yellowish tones, indicating recent trauma. The background is blurred, showing an outdoor setting with greenery and a paved area.
