It Was A Night Of Work For The Neighborhood Council

Members of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council set aside July 9 to review a revised set of bylaws and look at proposals that will need community input and CNC action in the fall.

Prior to the opening of the CNC business meeting, the Charlestown Recycling Committee outlined its plans for the membership. CRC spokesperson Jim Gascoigne told of the recycling container slated to be assigned to the community beginning in the fall. He said that the container, approximately the size of a semi, would be at a set location on a regular basis and would be removed at the end of the collection day. Council members, praising the actions of the CRC in raising awareness on recycling, asked the group to return in September to obtain council approval on the site for the recycling container.

Paul Barrett, assistant director for Harbor Planning and Development for the Boston Redevelopment Authority, told the CNC that the zoning process for the Charlestown neighborhood was going to be reinitiated. He said that the BRA would provide a draft of the zoning plan to residents now so interested persons could read through the text, and staff would return to the community in the fall for discussion.

Jerry Kavanaugh, director of Planning and Zoning for the BRA, said that the draft includes various zoning concepts including open space; residential; commercial with subdistricts of convenience, neighborhood shopping and community commercial; local industrial; institutional and economic development areas. Don Bosco's Francis Coleman and Malden Catholic's Joseph DeRoeve recently attended the annual American Legion Boys State program held on the campus of Bentley College.

Sponsored by Charlestown's Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion, the two young men, who are both entering their senior year of high school, were selected for their excellent record of leadership in school and community activities.

Two Charlestown Youth Attend American Legion Boys State

The Boys State program, which was attended by 675 student leaders from throughout Massachusetts, is designed to train the leaders of tomorrow in governmental organization, parliamentary procedure, municipal budgeting and community issues. Most students run for local and statewide public office in mock elections held to show how democracy works. In addition they attend workshops and compete in numerous athletic activities during the weeklong live-in program.

DeRoeve, son of Peter and Kathleen DeRoeve of Monument Street, took a course in economics, attended a seminar on date rape and served on the election committee. He commented that it was an experience that he'll never forget and hopes to return next year as a counselor.

Proposed Rail Line Would Connect Navy Yard To Biomedical Centers

by Kathy Giordano

Mayor Raymond L. Flynn traveled to Washington, D.C. this week to seek funds for a proposed Crosstown Bioscience transit line connecting biomedical research and health care centers in Boston and Cambridge. With federal legislation pending, he will convey to the U.S. Senate the support for the transit line by the U.S. Conference of Mayors, the city of Boston, organized labor and Boston's 26 research centers and teaching hospitals.

The Crosstown Bioscience Line would link the emerging employment centers that ring the core economy of downtown and Back Bay. It would expand ridership on the MBTA and provide capacity for economic expansion, according to a statement from Flynn.

Under the legislation before the Senate, $21 billion per year would be available for public transit for the next five years. The Mayor

Massport Funds 260 Summer Jobs For Youths In Greater Boston Area

On July 1, more than 260 students began their first day on the job at community agencies throughout the Boston area and at facilities owned and operated by the Massachusetts Port Authority (Massport). Massport donated approximately $160,000 to fund summer jobs with nearly 30 community youth organizations. Youth centers, camps, recreational programs and day care centers will all benefit from this Massport initiative.

"We want to make sure that Boston area youths are employed in meaningful jobs this summer," said Alden S. Raine, executive director of Massport. "Equally important is that the students will be working under supervision, in their own communities . . . learning about them . . . giving something back to them," Raine added.

Through the summer jobs program, Massport is also "giving something back," since the jobs were funded in communities which are affected by the operations of Massport facilities, such as Logan International Airport and the Port of Boston.

"This is not just about being a good neighbor," explained Massport Board Chairman Richard Giesser, "it's also about helping these communities and its students in this economic pinch that everyone is feeling . . . these community organizations which because of the recession, may have had to eliminate certain youth programs and jobs.

In years past, the financing of community organizations' summer programs came from agencies which have dramatically decreased funding of community programs because of lower than projected revenues from fund drives.

"There were numerous community organizations which needed the monies . . . we chose those who needed our assistance the most to fulfill pressing goals of programs aimed at inner-city youths," noted Giesser.

Massport's eight-week long program employs 150 students between the ages of 15 and 22 at Massport facilities and 111 students at community organizations. The youths perform a variety of jobs such as peer leadership, day care assistance, operational, clerical and administrative tasks. Among the communities served are Charlestown, East Boston, South Boston, Chelsea, Revere, Winthrop and Lexington.

In addition to the funding, Massport administered the recruitment, selection and referral process of all 260 candidates.

IF YOUR LOAN IS REJECTED

You found the perfect home, but finding the perfect financing has become elusive. After completing the application process, your lender has turned you down, and you're upset. Can anything be done to turn this set back around?

A lot depends on why you were turned down. If your income is too low to satisfy one mortgage company, there might be another one with more liberal qualifying guidelines. If you have had credit problems, some lenders may be more willing than others to help you clear them up in a manner that satisfies their underwriters. If your loan runs into problems, sit down with the loan officer and your Realtor to investigate the possibility of using a different lender. The first company may be able to "assign" the package to a competitor, enabling you to use your same credit report and appraisal. You will need the cooperation of your sellers, too. While loan rejections are disappointing, they often have happy endings.

Summer Fun In Charlestown Parks

by Colleen Cronin

Charlestown parks will be full of fun this summer as the Boston Parks and Recreation Department has planned many activities for residents of all ages to enjoy at no cost, ranging from arts and crafts, to music and drama, to sailing, sports and fitness.

Come sail historic Boston Harbor aboard the Courageous, a two-time America's Cup winner donated to the city of Boston in 1986. For a reasonable fee, adults can enjoy the fleet of J/22, Rhodes 19 and Laser sailboats, many of which are handicap accessible, to learn, race or simply enjoy the outdoors. Instruction is offered in basic and advanced sailing, racing and coastal navigation. The center is open weekdays from 2 p.m. to sunset and weekends and holidays from 9 a.m. to sunset.

Free sailing for Boston youth 8 to 20 continues through Aug. 30 on weekdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For more information, please call the Courageous Sailing Center at 242-3821.

The Fun on Wheels van will visit Charlestown again this summer, bringing sports, games, arts and crafts and other organized activities to kids 15 and under. On Wednesday, July 17, the van will visit the Doherty Playground on Bunker Hill Street from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and the Barry Playground on Medford Street from 2 to 5 p.m.

Fun on Wheels will return to the Barry Playground on Monday, July 29, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and to the Doherty Playground from 2 to 5 p.m.

Preliminary competition for the Mayor's Youth Olympics is being held today, July 11, at Charlestown Community Schools Field on Medford Street. Youths 6 to 14 from throughout Boston are striving for the gold in regional competitions en route to the championship on Aug. 15 at White Stadium in Franklin Park. Competition is focused primarily on track and field events.

The Parks Department invites youths to work to improve their dribbles, lay-ups and slam dunks at the Parks Department Basketball Camp to be held at the Doherty Playground through Friday, July 12.

Get your autograph books ready because one of your favorite Red Sox players is coming to the Barry Playground on Medford Street on Thursday, July 18 at 2 p.m. as part of the

Burke Recipient Of O'Neil Scholarship

After much difficult deliberation by the scholarship committee, James E. Burke has been selected as the recipient of the 1991 Matthew J. "Matty" O'Neil $1,000 Scholarship.

The son of Eileen and James Burke of 26 Cross St., Burke has had a solid high school career at Don Bosco Technical High School, as evidenced by his B average and his class rank of 28 out of 170 students. His teachers describe him as "a pleasure to teach" and, in fact, he has been the recipient of many principal of the month awards. Although not lettering on the varsity level, Burke participated in most intramural sporting activities and as a senior was selected as the assistant trainer for the varsity basketball team.

In Charlestown, Burke has been actively involved in the Boys & Girls Club and most recently his involvement and leadership were noted with an award at the club's recognition dinner.

Burke plans to attend Northeastern University in the fall and hopes to one day become a physical therapist.

We now have four candidates for Mayor — Flynn, Ellis-Hagler, Doherty and 21-year-old Wilner Borgella. Seventeen candidates filed for At-Large City Council seats and 30 are seeking District seats. Bob Travaglini is being challenged by School Committeeman Bob Cappucci and newcomer Tom Pizzi . . . Should be an interesting summer!
- Welcome Home, Mayor . . . of CharlesNewtown, that is! Glad to hear that Joe Cunha has arrived back in Charlestown, although only for a short visit! His many friends hope that he'll find time to tear himself away from the grandchildren to pay them a visit! Looking good, Joe! . . . Psst, Joe! If Tommy asks you out to eat, wear comfortable clothes, a sun hat and . . . bring your own chair!
- Tony's Open . . . Venture down to Pier 4 in the Navy Yard and visit Tony Costa at his new Snack Bar. Located just outside the Shipyard Park fountain area, the spot has become a very popular meeting place for locals — plus, the food is delicious!

Russell Street's Wayne Black will spend July 13th playing halfball, we're sure . . . July 14th will see the Dunphys turn out to treat their Judie to a great celebration . . . July 17th will see the Conways gather at the Patriot office to sing the ole birthday ballad to Gloria . . . and elsewhere around town — Everett Thompson of Cordis Street will be doing something nice for his mother Lillian for her birthday — and the Sullivan Street Roche clan will be taking time out to applaud the birthday of Kevin with the added enjoyment of Kevin's parents being on hand for the celebration . . . Have a wonderful year, one and all!
- Good News . . . As a result of a question asked in last week's column, we have been informed that the dedication of Charbonnier Street will finally take place next month. When all details are established, an announcement will be made . . . Stay tuned!
- Word Has Reached Us . . . that Father John Fogarty is now residing at Marian Manor Nursing Home, 130 Dorchester Ave., South Boston 02127 . . . and we're sure that his many friends in Charlestown would be happy to drop him a line or pay him a visit!
- Recuperating . . . at Mass. General Hospital (Fruit Street, Boston 02114) are Mary Johnson in the Ellison Building and Joe Kent on Bigelow 8. Speedy recovery to you both.
- Tip O' The Hat . . . to John Burchill and the National Park Service for a splendid July 4th weekend in the Navy yard with special praise for the July 6th concert on Pier 1 featuring "Up With People." All who ventured down to the "Yard" enjoyed an array of events suitable for the entire family!
- A Well-Deserved Rest . . . is in store for Judy Evers as she vacations up north next week. If you have city-related problems next week, Judy suggests you call the Mayor's Hotline at 725-4500 for assistance. Have a great time, Judy — you'll be missed!
- Visiting Boston This Weekend . . . will be the 54th Regiment Re-enactors, the first black regiment recruited in the north (Massachusetts) to fight in the Civil War. The Re-enactors are organized out of Washington, D.C. and are dedicated to preserve the memory of the regiment through interpretative programs. The group also appeared in the film "Glory" . . . You can see them on Saturday, July 13 in a parade from the Custom House Tower to the State House starting at 10:30 a.m. with a ceremony taking place at 11:30 a.m. on the State House steps. An encampment will take place on Sunday, July 14 on the lawn of the Commandant's House in the Charlestown Navy Yard. For more info., call 742-5415.
- Antique And Classic Boat Festival . . . this weekend on Pier 8 in the Navy Yard. Starting on Saturday, the 13th at 11 a.m. the festival will feature nautical exhibits, entertainment and vessels will be on public display. Sunday's events will start at 11 a.m. with the vessels open to the public, blessings of the fleet at 1 p.m. followed by a grand parade and salute to the USS Constitution. For more information, call Pat Wells at 330-1134. The event is sponsored by the Boston Harbor Association.
- Psst . . . No One Asked — But . . . In all these "worst case scenerios" traffic studies we've been forced to endure for eons — has anyone taken into consideration the fact that after a major event in the Navy Yard, with sufficient parking having been provided, there is not an adequate means of egress from the area? Case in point — last Saturday's fireworks display in Boston Harbor was so well publicized on radio and TV, tens of thousands of people were forced to wait up to 40 minutes to reach Chelsea Street by car at the end of the evening's events. Backed-up traffic met at Ninth Street on First Avenue trying to exit Gates 4 and 5!!!

(continued from page one) added that the Central Artery North Area (CANA) parcels that will open up with the completion of the roadway construction project will also be under discussion.

Kavanaugh stated that with the definition of districts, particularly residential districts that reflect existing structures, the zoning will provide safeguards for infill building into the district including usage, setbacks and design.

Barrett added that the BRA will meet with residents and business people in September in order to refine the draft zoning document with the goal of the BRA to have a final zoning plan by the end of that month.

Development Chairman Tom Cunha asked that a September CNC meeting be called with the agenda only the zoning plan.

Barrett announced that copies of the draft zoning document will be available on July 11 at the BRA office, second floor, Building 33 in the Charlestown Navy Yard, and at the Patriot office at One Thompson Square.

With the official opening of the CNC meeting, the first business on the agenda was the reading of the bylaws revised by the committee at numerous meetings this spring. Bylaws Committee Chairman Jim Conway read the new bylaws which was followed by a discussion on specific questions or clarifications. At the conclusion of the discussion period, the CNC ratified the new set of bylaws as presented by the committee and voted that they would take effect at the close of the night's meeting.

Chairman Dennis McLaughlin then discharged the committee with thanks to the chairman and the members.

Members present at Tuesday night's meeting were: McLaughlin, Cunha, Conway, Moe Gillen, Jim Mansfield, Ellen D'Ambro-sio, Marilyn Darling, Kate McDonough, Nancy Keyes, Mel Stillman, Bob Wallace, Ed O'Connell, Marty O'Brien, Peter Looney and Kevin Roche.

Looney, chairman of the Basic Services Committee, reported that an increase in the sitings of rats in the neighborhood is the basis for a committee meeting called for Thursday, July 25 at 7 p.m. at the K. of C. Hall.

Cunha reminded members of the July 11 Development Committee meeting on Parcel R-107 at the corner of Main Street and Lawnwood Place. It will be at 7 p.m. at the K. of C. Hall. He spoke of the second in the series of meetings on the Navy Yard's Draft Environmental Impact Report slated for Monday, July 15 at 7 p.m. in the BRA office in Building 33.

Stillman stated that the Public Safety Committee would meet on Tuesday, July 16 at 7 p.m. at the Kent Community School.

Still on public safety, O'Brien told the members of his concern at the reduction of the number of fire fighters assigned locally. He said that more men are being moved to stations downtown, leaving Charlestown short, especially on the ladder truck. He added that it is more important than ever that the town have a full complement of fire fighters as companies from outside the city have had a decrease in personnel. A motion was made that these concerns be forwarded to Fire Commissioner Martin Pierce in a letter.

McLaughlin appointed McDonough and Mansfield as co-chairmen of the Election Committee. The election, slated for October, calls for the election of seven CNC members representing each of the town's seven precincts.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the CNC will be on Tuesday, Sept. 3 at 7 p.m. at the K. of C. Hall, 75 West School St. One of the items on the agenda will be the election of a second vice chairperson as is provided for in the new bylaws.

St. Catherine Cadet Softball Update

by Cecil Jones

The girls on the St. Catherine Cadet Softball Team got a very big win this week, beating St. Agatha of Milton 30-22. The team was lead by Paula Hickey who pitched a great game, made some super defensive plays in the field, and then went five for six at the plate with three home runs and seven RBIs.

Corey Gallagher also had a big game chipping in with a perfect six for six. She had three home runs and batted in 11 runs. The girls had big games from Bridget Centola and Carol Sheehan, both perfect from the plate with four for four hitting. Katie Farrell had a monster three-run home run. Helping out on the offensive end were Shauna Pelton, Desiree Eatherton, Nicole DeRoeve and Alison Evers.

The girls' next home game is this Sunday, July 14, at 5 p.m. against St. Brendan's of Dorchester at the Barry Playground on Medford Street.

Charlestown Townies Open Football Season On Friday

The Charlestown Town Team plays its opener in the Eastern Football League on Friday, July 12 at 8 p.m. The local lads will host the Hockomock Colts out of Mansfield, Mass. at the Beckwith-Boucher Memorial Field at Charlestown High School on Medford Street.

Established in 1961 as the New England Football League, the EFL will kickoff its 31st anniversary this coming weekend with all 10 teams in action. This year two teams have been added to the league — the Maine Lions and the Methuen Outlaws — which promise to intensify the EFL action.

The Charlestown Town Team is one of the oldest organized football associations in the country. The Townies entered the EFL in 1986 after having been a perennial powerhouse in the Boston Senior Park League in the 60s and 70s.

The Townies look to better their 4-6 record of last year with some new talent and a new coaching staff headed by Jack Green. A number of key veterans from last year's squad will be returning along with some newcomers who will strengthen the team.

The team's next game will be on Friday, July 19 at 8 p.m. when they host the Rhode Island Ocean State Buccaneers, formerly called the Rhode Island Rhinos, here in Charlestown.

■ For Girls Only . . . Beginning today and continuing for the next four Thursdays, a terrific program for girls called "A Rainbow of Cultures" is being offered by the Girls Scouts at the Charlestown Community Schools. The program is being coordinated by the BHA Teen Outreach Worker and the Girls Center.

■ Jonathan Owens . . . Jonathan Owens recently tried out for the Bay State Games. He didn't make the Metro team but his hard work paid off. Someone was watching the tryout and this week Jonathan is attending the Hoop Mountain Basketball Camp on a partial campership. The message is clear and simple, always play hard and do your best, you never know who is watching.

■ Joe DeRoeve . . . Summertime used to be a time of relaxation. No more. Summertime is now a time to prepare for the future and sharpen one's skills.

Joe DeRoeve has taken on this new summer attitude. Joe is participating in a Summer Pro-Am Hockey League at the Kasibuski Rink in Saugus. After a week of play, his team is undefeated and Joe is one of the leading scorers.

■ Bunker Hill Summer Ball Hockey Begins . . . The second season of the Bunker Hill Summer Ball Hockey League gets underway this evening. Four teams will vie for the 1991 crown. JAFT, Newtowne and M.F. Revenge hope to oust the defending champions Butt Pirates. All games will be played at the NEW ball hockey cage in the Bunker Hill Housing Development.

■ A No Hitter CYO Style . . . Paul Myers pitched a no hitter for his St. Catherine CYO Baseball Team. Paul had nine strikeouts in the win versus St. Theresa. Phil Coleman's home run was the offensive play of the game.

■ Townies' Season Opener . . . The Townies will open the 1991 Eastern Football League season on Friday, July 12 at the Charlestown High School field. Coming off a preseason Jamboree 10-0 victory, the Townies are ready to go. Football season is here.

■ Dorchester Youth Basketball . . . The fine relationship developed this year with the William Bulger Dorchester Youth Basketball League continues this summer. Jeff Houlihan and Jonathan Owens are participating in the summer league that takes place on Sunday evenings at the Ryan Playground.

■ Tournament Note . . . As mentioned a couple of weeks ago, Charlestown was represented in the second annual Joey Holloran Memorial Basketball Tournament. Here is a little insight into the tournament taken from "A Tragedy and a Tribute" from the June 29th Curbstone, a Dorchester newspaper.

"Joey Holloran was a typical Dorchester youth. His grammar school education came from a school around the corner from his home, St. Anne, Neponset. High school started at Boston Latin and finished up at Don Bosco. The oldest of four, he was a junior at UMass when tragedy struck a year ago. While he was attempting to protect a homeless man who was being harassed, Joey was punched and then fell into the street where he was hit by a car. His family anguished through six weeks of confusion and heartbreak as Joey lingered in a coma and then died from his injuries. The tournament was conceived by his friends, not only as a tribute but also and more importantly as a means to make the memory of their friend as positive as his life had been."

I was very proud that a Charlestown team participated in this tournament.

■ Sox Talk Coming . . . A Sox Talk is scheduled for the Barry Playground (Oilies) next Thursday, July 18 at 2 p.m. This is a popular program coordinated by the Boston Red Sox and the Boston Parks Department, which brings members of the Red Sox team into the neighborhoods of the city.

PRAYER TO ST. JUDE

Most holy apostle, St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the Church honors and invokes you universally, as the patron of hopeless cases, of things almost despaired of. Pray for me, I am so helpless and alone. Make use I implore you of that particular privilege given to you, to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolation and help of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations, and sufferings, particularly — (here make your request) and that I may praise God with you and all the elect forever.

Developing this new transit system could cost between $800 million and $1.2 billion, according to Boston Redevelopment Authority statistics. The MBTA is currently studying alternative ways of developing a circumferential transit line for the metropolitan area.

The Mayor quoted Professor Michael Porter of the Harvard Business School

from his recent report, "The Competitive Advantage of Massachusetts," as stating that the Health Care Cluster has been one of the most stable sources of growth for the Commonwealth averaging 2.8 percent annually over the past decade. Flynn stated that already more than 80,000 people work in these employment centers and projections are for an increase of 50 percent over the next decade.

The Crosstown Bioscience Line would connect seven Boston bioscience employment centers: South Station Technopolis, South End Technology Square/City Hospital, Ruggles Center/Northeastern, Longwood Medical Science Center, Olmsted Research Center, Boston University and the Charlestown Navy Yard. An estimated 127,960 people will be working in these bioscience centers by the year 2005.

BRA Director Stephen Coyle stated that a request from the Mayor to Gov. William Weld to support the innovative plan has met with approval. Coyle stated that the proposed transit line is the "next generation of transit for people who live in the city and work in the medical facilities to get around the city." He added that the use of the existing rail bed will enhance the project.

Flynn stated: "Connecting these employment centers will give Boston and the state a unique competitive advantage for the next decade and beyond in the bioscience economy creating as many as 42,000 jobs in the next 10 years at these centers."

Coyle said: "The next step is to push the legislation through the Congress."

Summer Fun In Charlestown

Cablevision will bring a party to Charlestown on Thursday, Aug. 8, with the sounds of Sky Blue and Taylor-Made. The concert will be held from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the Training Field. The show is part of Cablevision's Party in the Park Concert Series.

In addition to these events, Charlestown parks have a lot to offer and are popular on warm days. Boys and girls play ball and climb monkey bars while their parents keep a watchful eye. The basketball courts at the Doherty Playground are the familiar setting for a neighborhood faceoff and the tennis courts at the Eden Street Park are a great place to unwind after a hard day's work.

The activities in Charlestown this year are part of the Parks Department's program, "We've Got Your Summer" with over 300 activities and 50 concerts throughout the city of Boston. For more information or to obtain a copy of the program book, contact the Parks Department at 725-4505.

Does Anyone Know?

To The Patriot:

I have a question that has bothered me for years and I don't seem to be able to get an answer from anyone. I've asked car dealers and wrote to "Ask The Globe" and called them. My question is . . . Why do some automobile makers make their cars with a speed of 120 miles per hour?

I've been driving for almost 40 years and I don't remember the speed limit being over 70 mph. There would be fewer accidents and more people alive today if the speed on a car was controlled. Can someone answer this for me?

Thank you,
Helen Tibbetts

St. Catherine Parish To Elect Pastoral Council In September

Friends,

I believe we have been watching our parish grow in many ways during the past year and, for the most part, are very pleased with what we have seen.

You, as parishioners of St. Catherine, have made all the difference. Because many of you would like to be more involved in the everyday life of the parish and because we as priests know we need your expertise, advice and competence, we will be beginning the process of electing a pastoral council for St. Catherine. The good of the church is dependent on you.

There are many pastoral councils in existence in various parishes throughout the Archdiocese and they have differing functions and responsibilities depending on the understanding of the staff.

I would like to have a council made up of parishioners who are people of deep faith, celebrate that faith in the church community and attempt to live each day as Christians.

I ask you now to begin praying that St. Catherine Parish will benefit greatly through the establishment of their council we will be looking for people from throughout our parish community who bring with them an unselfish love for the church. The main purpose of the council will be to assist the priests in planning, organizing, initiating, promoting, coordinating and reviewing the evangelization workshops,

Thank You

A Note To The Charlestown Old Schoolgirls Association:
 I wish to express my gratitude for being awarded the Winifred B. Duffy Scholarship at your annual reunion.

Thank you very much. It will be put toward continuing my education at St. Anselm College.

Sincerely,
Amy Chardavoyne

religious instruction and service activities within the parish.

We hope to have between 10 and 20 elected or appointed members on the pastoral council.

I ask you, as a parishioner of St. Catherine, to give some serious thought about submitting your name for election if you would like to share your time and faith with us. In the near future I will ask some people to serve on a nominating committee to organize and oversee the election process. We will then ask any parishioner who would like to serve on our first pastoral council to submit his or her name. An election will follow in which all parishioners 18 and over may vote. If there is to be a teen-age member on the council he/she will be elected by the youth of the parish.

If the election process results in a membership not sufficiently representative of the total parish community, as pastor, I may appoint members to the council to achieve this goal.

This is a major undertaking for our parish since we have not had a pastoral council for quite a few years. I am excited about the possibilities because I have great confidence and trust in our people.

The process will begin shortly so that we can have elections in September. All the members will then attend a training session on Oct. 26 run by the diocese.

Please pray that God's spirit will guide our way so that the future of St. Catherine Parish will be a bright and faith-filled one for people of all ages.

Sincerely,
Father Ron Coyne, pastor
St. Catherine Parish

Is There A War Right Here In Charlestown?

We should all be proud. As a country we came together over the Middle East crisis. Who among us did not pray for peace in the Middle East? Who among us did not have a relative or friend or know someone who had a relative or friend stationed in the Persian Gulf? We all felt the threat and danger of war. We all feared for our loved ones and friends and, yes, we even feared for strangers. Loss of life in war is tragic. What a great response we showed, not only as a nation but as a "tight-knit" community. The people of Charlestown showed tremendous support and sympathy for the troops in the Persian Gulf. We could see the danger, we could sense the danger.

In our own community we are blind. Why can't we come together when "war" hits our community? This war has been raging out of control for many years — for as long as I can ever remember. This is not a war against crime, but a war of crime and violence.

Here in our own community we have all known someone who has suffered a violent death — someone who has been murdered . . . not through a war . . . not for a cause . . . but out of sheer evil and violence. Oh yes, we feel the threat, we sense the danger and even have the fear. Yet we tolerate it! We allow this evil to control our streets here in Charlestown. How many of us go to church every Sunday and then close our eyes to the violence that is in our direct line of vision? What will it take for us to open our minds, eyes and hearts? How can we be hypocrites, going to church every Sunday when we condone this evil and violence by our silence? We have allowed it to strengthen and grow. When will we cease being deaf, dumb and blind?

We must come together as a community and speak out against this insane evil and violence that is infecting our town and our lives. We can all think of at least one person who has been crushed by this evil and violence . . . someone who was good and decent . . . someone who loved to laugh and make others laugh . . . someone who loved . . . someone we loved and now miss.

I speak out against this insane evil and violence in the name of two people, two friends of mine who were needlessly and wantonly crushed beneath the evil that is infecting our town . . . John Fitzpatrick and Jay King.

Sincerely,
Susan Flynn

Jay Was A Unique Young Man

On Sunday, April 7, at 1 a.m. my phone rang and I was told my very special nephew was dead, murdered.

Jay was a very unique young man. He brought laughter and love wherever he went. He was known only as a fun-loving, good hearted, easy going, carefree guy. There was never a bad word spoken about Jay. You only had to know him for 10 minutes and you wanted to be around him.

Jay touched so many hearts, it's incredible. The stories of fun, warmth and caring are unending — from grandmother to the new baby down the street, from the older women up on the corner to the obese girl no one cared for, and especially the handicapped — all felt that Jay had a special place in their hearts. He made you feel beautiful and special.

I was his special aunt, Aunt Louise was his special aunt, Vivvie was his special aunt, Mikki was his special aunt —

Bunker Hill Associates — The Pride Of Charlestown

To the Bunker Hill Associates' Past Presidents . . . Brian Callahan, Jim Carroll, John McLaughlin, Jackie Pierce and Jim Sheehan and to the 1991 President, Tom Cunha:

As each year progresses this Association becomes greater and should be highly commended for the work that was put into Pride Week and the Welcome Home Breakfast dedicated to the Persian Gulf veterans.

To President Tom Cunha and the Bunker Hill Associates — congratulations! Your breakfast is the greatest.

Keep it going! As an 80-year-old proud "Townie," my quote is "Don't Quit!"

Love you all,
Gladys Gauthier

Thanks, Pat

To the Editor,

I read an article in the June 20th edition of the Patriot about a little girl who has cancer and a young man who met her and upon whom she left an impression.

This article brought tears to my eyes and, having lost a close relative a day earlier to this same dreaded disease, I wondered who wrote this beautiful article.

Well, my wondering stopped that evening as a young man was introduced to me and friends and we discussed this very thing.

As Pat McClellan said in his letter that "he felt he just had to write," I am doing the same.

Thanks, Pat, it was really a pleasure meeting you.

Sheila McLaughlin

this was how Jay made everyone feel — that you were the special one.

He worked at Camp Joy with the handicapped and every day he came home to tell loving and special stories about these children. All of them felt that Jay was there just for them, but they had to share him with the others for a while. He always took the time to make you feel special.

When Jay lost his father 10 months ago, he took over and helped his mother and brothers through the tragedy. He did special little things to help ease the pain for them, even though his heart was broken at losing his father and friend.

When Jay's brother was murdered five years ago, Jay had to live with that animal walking the streets free. A lesser man would have murdered that scum, but Jay was not a murderer.

His younger brothers have lost so much. He was a special kind of brother to them. He took them to the mall, movies, car shows and always tried to make them forget their pain even though his heart was broken, too.

Chris' murderer is out there free to spend the holidays with his family. Now Jay's murderer is out there hiding in the dark shadows, waiting for the next victim. Whose son, brother, mother, sister will it be next? He absolutely has to be brought to justice, if not to give to the King family a tiny bit of peace, then at least to save another family from this horrendous hurt.

Senior Citizens Say 'Thank You'

We, the senior citizens of Charlestown, would like to extend our sincere appreciation and gratitude to all those involved with the wonderful dinner to which we were treated as part of the Charlestown Pride/Bunker Hill Week. Most notably, we would like to single out and thank the Newworld Bank. Without their financial involvement and genuine concern for our group, over 500 seniors would have missed what most would agree has become a highlight of the year.

Many of the elderly are still buzzing about the terrific six-course meal and the marvelous entertainment. For those who are not able to venture from their homes all too frequently, this is the single most important night of the year. We hope and pray that you will continue to think of us and that you will find a way to continue this "one of a kind" event for many years to come.

Once again, thank you from all of us!

Navy Yard Environmental Report Presented At Public Meeting

by Kathy Giordano

Paul Barrett, Boston Redevelopment Authority assistant director for Harbor Planning and Development, called a meeting on July 1 to present to the community the Draft Supplemental Environmental Impact Report (DSEIR) for the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Over 50 residents responded and packed the third floor conference room at the BRA's Charlestown office to listen to a review of the two-volume, 500-plus page report on the BRA's plans to redevelop the former naval shipyard.

The DSEIR, which the BRA submitted to the Office of Environmental Affairs on June 18, examines potential environmental impacts on the 135-acre waterfront site including air quality, transportation (traffic and parking), wind and shadow impacts, open space, recreational use, historic resources, housing, employment, waterway usage and other environmental impacts.

Among the proposed development projects included in the draft report are a 400,000-square-foot 400-room hotel/conference center; the 275,000-square-foot New England Aquarium; an additional 463,000 square feet of medical research facilities; 283,000 square feet for 308 units of affordable housing; and an increase of 410 parking spaces.

The proposed building heights for the Yard's End section of the Navy Yard and an in-depth report on the city's transportation and parking scheme for the area are expected to be on the community's agenda as residents look for answers from the BRA at the next scheduled meeting on the draft report. That meeting will take place on Monday, July 15 at 7 p.m. in the third floor conference room at the BRA's Charlestown office, Building 33 in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

For more information or for a copy of the DSEIR, call Jim Sullivan, BRA community liaison, at 722-4300, ext. 5661.
