

Fifth Ave. Apple Store Recreated In Minecraft

The Minecraft Mac was cute and all, however should you suppose that was the pinnacle of Mac-related creations in Minecraft, you're underestimating our readership. Reader Simon despatched along this set of Flickr footage, which shows off a complete recreation of the Fifth Avenue Apple Store, full with glass cube on top and a retailer stuffed with products down below. Sadly, there isn't any method to mannequin out iPads or iPhones in Minecraft, so there's just a complete bunch of what seems to be like Mac minis on sale. However then again, that sounds like Wanna talk about minecraft , too.

Very nicely achieved, Simon. I'd wish to know how lengthy something like this takes -- I've constructed a few things in Minecraft myself, however nothing this, err, real looking, and definitely nothing of this magnitude. Superior stuff, although -- what's next?
