

Often times, games take players into a brand new world that is mesmerizing and engaging. In a game, a player can be a new being with lots of potential, and this why various games are always being developed and continuously played. Players can be anything that they want to be, whether it is a wizard with magical abilities or the type that knows a lot of action and fighting. Sometimes, you could even create your own stories exactly based on how you pictured it in your thoughts. This way, games are more than just a past-time, it also generates creativity and excitement.

A lot of games provide this lasting feeling of being in a completely new place, enjoying adventures and creating memories. However, there are several game types that are fully immersive in a manner that can truly hook players. These are typically genres that are first or third person and multiplayer. Adventure and action packed role playing games, battle royale games, and first person shooter games all fall within this category of creating a brand new and completely fascinating world. Currently, these sorts of games are all the rave and popular in all platforms.

Raid: Shadow Legends

An online role playing game with turn-based and "freemium" mechanics. Raid: Shadow Legends is a fantasy game where players have the option of choosing champions to play. There are a total of four main factions with different tribes within them. There are various kinds of specializations for a champions' offense, defense, and they also have varying pros and cons. Playing Raid: Shadow Legends largely involve creating teams of champions, levelling, and improving these champions to make a powerful group. Players have the option of doing Player vs. Environment which often occur in different maps and dungeons, or Player vs. Player where the fight is with another player. Raid: Shadow Legends most certainly an popular and highly rated game with a rating of 4.7 and 240 thousand reviews on the Apple App Store, and 4.0 and one million reviews on Play Store.

AI Dungeon

Is a unique text adventure or interactive fiction game with single or multiplayer modes. In order to generate unlimited content for its players, the game uses artificial intelligence; in particular, OpenAI's text production system. Its players have the option of choosing the backdrop of their story, namely: fantasy, mystery, apocalyptic, zombies, cyberpunk, custom or other archived modes. The game continues to be described as realistic, with fluidity in the generation of story lines where it almost feels like the story is actually personally written. The game has a rating of 4.5 on Google Play Store and 4.7 on the App Store.

Here

Garena Free Fire

This battle royale third person shooter game also is actually 2019's most downloaded game The mechanics of the game are quite straightforward. The game happens in an island where 50 players are parachuted and must continuously acquire equipment to survive. Through the elimination of their other players and being the last one standing, one can win the game. What makes it different from other battle royale games is that it has completely unique 28 playable characters and 14 maps. Free Fire is a successful game, not only due to its billion dollar profit, but also because of 57 million reviewers and a 4 star rating on Play Store alone.

Granny

Granny is an indie horror game made by DVloper. The gamers are confronted with a single challenge, to escape the hands of Granny, a crazy woman who kills her victims with a baseball bat. In the beginning, the player will wake up in an unknown and creepy house and the mission is to get out of the house through the front door or fixing the car in the garage by re-assembling it. Completing the main challenge also involve several other challenges like facing Granny's pet monsters. The other challenge is to also complete the mission as quietly as possible since Granny is responsive to sounds. After its release in 2017, Granny gained traction with a significant number of player base. It has an average rating of 4.3 on Play Store and App Store with millions of reviewers and downloads.

Pixel Gun 3D

Pixel Gun is a first person shooter game with single or multiplayer modes and 3D blocky graphics that is comparable to Legos or Minecraft. Players may create their personal characters and participate in different game modes like survival, death match, or cooperative. Pixel Gun 3D also has single player or multiplayer features, huge varieties of weapon, character customization, and even a defence game with clan members. Pixel Gun 3D is rated with a 4.8 on App Store and 4.2 on Google Play Store.

Dead Effect 2

Dead Effect 2 is a relatively older game compared to others on this list as it was launched in 2015 and it is a direct sequel of Dead Effect. Action, sci-fi, thriller, and horror are combined into one first person shooter game. It is definitely an electrifying game with superb sounds and graphics to boot. The primary goal of the game is to fight soldiers, cyborgs, and zombies. These scenarios become more immersive due to the game's atmospheric sounds and realistic graphics partnered with realistic voices. Despite being an older game, Dead Effect 2 is definitely highly rated on both Play Store and App Store.

For a few people, these games are entertainment; for other people, it is a kind of escape that provides a feeling of excitement and fulfilment, among others. The delineation between reality and fantasy gets to be more blurred when playing these kinds of games not only because of their play style but also sometimes with regards to innovative graphics and captivating narrative. Every one of these things make a truly great game.

Home Page