

BABY'S FIRST SPRING

Intentional Memory Keeping Scavenger Hunt

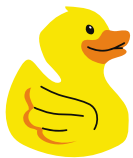

The First Season for every baby is special. As young parents, it can be difficult to intentionally keep the memories of each "first" for each child. Grandparents have the opportunity to help save these memories for all to enjoy for years to come. Here are a few things you can do:

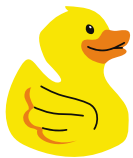

Take a picture of your sweet Grand in a cute Spring outfit.

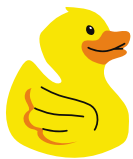

Make a baby footprint and handprint painting. Try creating a flower garden with these sweet prints.

Take a picture of your Grand surrounded by flowers. What is your favorite Spring bloom?

What is your Grands' birth flower? Find a way to commemorate their first Spring with this special blossom.

Capture a moment of your Grand reacting to other baby animals, maybe at a petting zoo or farm.

Happy Memory Keeping!
